

World Day for Safety and Health at work

28 April 2010

Introduction

World Day for Safety and Health at work is an International campaign to promote safe, healthy and decent work at both national and international level.

In Ethiopia, the OSH day has been celebrated since 2004 with various awareness raising activities to bridge the information gap. This year the day will be commemorated at Gonder University OSH department, outside Addis Ababa for the first time to expand the OSH awareness raising programmes to the regions. This will contribute to the ongoing efforts to build health and safety culture at all levels.

Main Event

A panel discussion will take place at Gonder University Conference Hall. The panel discussion program consists of:-

- Short key note speeches by dignitaries from ILO, the three partners and representative of Amhara region
- Presentation of four Research Papers and
- Testimony from injured workers
- The ILO, MOLSA, CETU and other public and private organizations has contributed through providing technical and financial assistance to make the celebration a reality.

Other Activities

- Billboards, Posters, T-shirts, Caps produced to promote the theme of the year.