INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

TITLE : Assessing aid and global governance : why poverty and redistribution objectives matter

AUTHOR : Hoeven, Rolph van der

CORPORATE AUTHOR : International Labour Office. Employment Sector

IMPRINT : Geneva: ILO, 2001

COLLATION : 14 p. : tables.

SERIES : Employment paper ; no. 2000/8

NOTES : Includes bibliographical references

ISBN : 9221123235

KEYWORDS : ILO pub / Development aid / Terms of aid / Economic conditions / Poverty alleviation / Globalization of the economy / Developing country / Role of World Bank / Role of IMF / Statistical table

ABSTRACT : Examines the 1998 World Bank report 'Assessing Aid which concludes that aid should be allocated to countries with good economic policy indicators. Discusses the policy implications of the report for developing countries and argues the need for more emphasis to be given to poverty and redistribution policies. Suggests that aid policies need to form part of a broader discussion on global governance.

 ABSTRACT : Examines overall employment stability (employment tenure and dislocation) at the national level and investigates the behaviour of firms towards the labour force. Finds evidence of a shift in the labour market towards a weaker attachment between firms and their employees and a shift in the ideology of managers towards increasing flexibility and outsourcing. Considers how public policy might respond to these development. Covers trends during the 1980 and 1990s
