The publication of information concerning action taken in respect of international labour Conventions and Recommendations does not imply any expression of view by the International Labour Office on the legal status of the State having communicated such information (including the communication of a ratification or declaration), or on its authority over the areas or territories in respect of which such information is communicated; in certain cases this may present problems on which the ILO is not competent to express an opinion.

ILO publications can be obtained through major booksellers or ILO local offices in many countries, or direct from ILO Publications, International Labour Office, CH-1211 Geneva 22, Switzerland. A catalogue or list of new publications will be sent free of charge from the above address.

Reader's note

The Information document on ratifications and standards-related activities (Report III (Part 2)) provides an overview of developments in international labour standards during 2004. It supplements the information contained in the report of the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations (Report III) (Part 1A). Part I provides general information on recent developments concerning international labour standards, constitutional and other procedures in relation to the supervision of standards, and technical assistance in the field of standards. Part II provides information on the ratification of individual Conventions and Protocols in table format. Part III contains “country profiles” which bring together information on the ratification and application of Conventions and on the submission of instruments adopted by the International Labour Conference to the competent authorities in a table format by country.

PART I: General information on international labour standards

Recent developments

General discussion based on an integrated approach: Migrant workers

1. The second general discussion based on an integrated approach to ILO standards related activities was held at the last session of the International Labour Conference (92nd Session, June 2004).
2. The Conference adopted by consensus conclusions concerning a fair deal for migrant workers in a global economy. The conclusions include an ILO plan of action to be implemented in partnership with other relevant international organizations. The plan of action will include the development of a non-binding multilateral framework for a rights-based approach and the identification of action to be taken for a wider application of international labour standards and other relevant instruments. The constituents took the view that the ILO could take steps to improve how it promotes the ratification of Conventions Nos. 97 and 143 and the principles they contain regarding the protection of migrant workers.

New standards adopted by the Conference

3. At its last session, the Conference adopted the Human Resources Development Recommendation, 2004 (No. 195). It replaces the Human Resources Development Recommendation, 1975 (No. 150).

Withdrawal of Recommendations decided by the Conference

4. Article 45bis of the Standing Orders of the Conference, adopted in June 1997 allows the Conference to withdraw obsolete international labour Conventions that have not entered into force, as well as obsolete Recommendations. Pursuant to this provision, the Conference decided at its last session to withdraw 16 obsolete Recommendations: Nos. 2, 12, 16, 18, 21, 26, 32, 33, 34, 36, 43, 46, 58, 70, 74 and 96.
5. The amendment to the Constitution to allow the abrogation of obsolete Conventions had been ratified or accepted by 80 member States as at 31 December 2004, 118 ratifications or acceptances being required for its entry into force.

Items on the agenda of the 93rd, 94th and 95th Sessions of the Conference

6. The agenda of the 93rd Session of the Conference (June 2005) will include the second discussion on a comprehensive standard (a Convention supplemented by a Recommendation) on work in the fishing sector. It will also include a first discussion on a new instrument to establish a promotional framework in the area of occupational safety and health (in accordance with the plan of action on safety and health adopted by the Conference in 2003), and a general discussion based on an integrated approach on promoting youth employment.

7. A Maritime Session of the Conference is scheduled for early 2006. It will have as a mandate the adoption of a consolidated maritime labour Convention, the aim being to embody as far as possible all up-to-date standards of existing international maritime labour Conventions and Recommendations.

8. Lastly, the agenda of the 95th Session (June 2006) should include a second discussion on a new instrument to establish a promotional framework in the area of occupational safety and health. Other items will be the employment relationship (standard setting – single discussion) and the role of the ILO in technical cooperation (general discussion).

Discussions within the Governing Body on improvements to the ILO's standards-related activities

9. With regard to possible improvements to standard-related activities, a document was submitted to the Governing Body at its 291st Session (November 2004) containing proposals regarding the obligation of submission in accordance with article 19 of the Constitution and the procedure for the examination of representations under article 24 of the Constitution. A revised draft of the Memorandum concerning the obligation to submit Conventions and Recommendations to the competent authorities will be submitted to the Governing Body at its 292nd Session (March 2005). As far as the representation procedure is concerned, an amendment to the corresponding Standing Orders was adopted concerning the repetitive nature of some representations. With regard to the status of the handbook of good drafting practices, a final draft is to be submitted to the Governing Body at its 292nd Session (March 2005). A progress report on ILO standards-related activities carried out since 1994 is also to be submitted to the Governing Body in March 2005.

Ratifications, denunciations and declarations of application

Ratifications

10. In the course of 2004, 76 ratifications were registered, bringing the total number of ratifications to 7,253 on 31 December 2004.

Denunciations

11. In 2004, the Director-General registered the denunciation by Australia of the Labour Standards (Non-Metropolitan Territories) Convention, 1947 (No. 83) and the

Contracts of Employment (Indigenous Workers) Convention, 1947 (No. 86), and by the Netherlands of the Equality of Treatment (Social Security) Convention, 1962 (No. 118). Moreover, the following denunciations, accompanied by the ratification of a revising Convention¹ or following the ratification of a more recent Convention in the same subject area, have been registered:

State	Conventions denounced	Conventions ratified
Austria	C. 103 Maternity Protection Convention (Revised), 1952	C. 183 Maternity Protection Convention, 2000
Belarus	C. 103 Maternity Protection Convention (Revised), 1952	C. 183 Maternity Protection Convention, 2000

Uruguay	C. 96 Fee-Charging Employment Agencies Convention (Revised), 1949	C. 181 Private Employment Agencies Convention, 1997

¹ If a Convention is adopted which specifies that it revises an earlier Convention, in most cases its ratification entails the automatic denunciation of the earlier Convention.

Declaration under article 35 of the Constitution

12. The United-Kingdom declared applicable to the Isle of Man without modification the Labour Inspection (Seafarers) Convention, 1996 (No. 178), the Seafarers' Hours of Work and the Manning of Ships Convention, 1996 (No. 180) and the Protocol of 1996 to the Merchant Shipping (Minimum Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 147).

Constitutional and other procedures

Measures taken under article 33 of the ILO

Constitution: The question of the observance by the Government of Myanmar of the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29)

13. At the 83rd Session of the International Labour Conference (ILC) in June 1996, a complaint was submitted by 25 Worker delegates under article 26 of the Constitution concerning the observance by Myanmar of the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29).

14. The Governing Body decided to establish a Commission of Inquiry to examine the complaint. This Commission completed its report in July 1998 in which it concluded that “the obligation under Article 1, paragraph 1, of the Convention to suppress the use of forced or compulsory labour is violated in Myanmar in national law ... as well as in actual practice in a widespread and systematic manner, with total disregard for the human dignity, safety and health and basic needs of the people of Myanmar”. The Governing Body took note of the report and requested the Director-General to keep it informed of progress in regard to the situation.

15. In March 1999, the Governing Body decided that the question of the application of Convention No. 29 by Myanmar would be included on the agenda of each session of the ILC.

16. In June 1999, the ILC adopted a resolution under the terms of which the Government of Myanmar should cease to benefit from any technical cooperation or assistance from the ILO, except for the purpose of direct assistance to implement immediately the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry. Following another ILC resolution in June 2000, the constituents of the ILO were invited, under article 33 of the ILO Constitution and on the recommendation of the Governing Body, in particular to review, in the light of the conclusions of the Commission of Inquiry, the relations that they may have with Myanmar and take appropriate measures to ensure that Myanmar cannot take advantage of such relations to perpetuate or extend the system of forced or compulsory labour referred to by the Commission of Inquiry.

17. A number of technical missions were undertaken (between May 2000 and February 2002). Moreover, in the framework of the “Understanding on an ILO Objective Assessment” concluded on 19 May 2001 by representatives of the Director-General and representatives of the Government of Myanmar, the latter agreed to receive a High-Level Team (September-October 2001) which submitted its report to the Governing Body in November 2001. The Government subsequently accepted the appointment of an ILO Liaison Officer to Myanmar charged with conducting all activities relevant to the prompt and effective elimination of forced labour.

18. Beginning in October 2002, the Liaison Officer took up her functions and submitted to each session of the Governing Body reports on her activities, including her travels in the country and her contacts with authorities. Her mission ended in November 2003 and an interim Liaison Officer was appointed on 1 December 2003.

19. In May 2003, the Government and the ILO arrived at an agreement on a Joint Plan of Action on the elimination of forced labour practices in Myanmar.

20. This Plan of Action could not be implemented in view of the events which since occurred, notably the penal sanctions taken against persons on the grounds of having exchanged information with representatives of the ILO.

21. The Governing Body remains gravely concerned by developments in the situation and the continued impunity of those who exact forced labour.

22. For this reason, at its 291st Session (November 2004), the Governing Body requested the Director-General to field a very high-level mission to evaluate the attitude of the authorities in Myanmar and assess their determination to continue their cooperation with the ILO.

Representations submitted under article 24 of the ILO Constitution

23. Representations may be filed under article 24 of the Constitution by industrial associations of employers or workers alleging that a member State that has ratified a Convention has failed to secure within its jurisdiction the effective observance of that Convention. Once declared receivable, representations are examined by a tripartite committee established by the Governing Body. Their findings are followed up by the Committee of Experts. The table below indicates developments concerning representations in 2004.

Country	Convention	Complainant organization	Follow-up
Mexico	Indigenous and Tribal Peoples Convention, 1989 (No. 169)	Three representations from a number of workers' organizations	Final report of the tripartite committee adopted by the Governing Body
Netherlands	Equality of Treatment (Social Security) Convention, 1962 (No. 118)	Confederation of Turkish Trade Unions (TÜRK-İS)	Pending
Uruguay	Occupational Safety and Health Convention, 1981 (No. 155)	Inter-Union Assembly of Workers – National Convention of Workers (PIT-CNT)	Pending

Complaints submitted under article 26 of the ILO Constitution

24. Complaints may be filed under article 26 of the Constitution alleging that a member State that has ratified a Convention is not securing its effective observance. Complaints may be filed by another member State that has ratified the same Convention. The Governing Body may initiate the procedure either of its own motion or upon receipt of a complaint from a delegate to the International Labour Conference. The Governing Body may appoint a Commission of Inquiry to consider the complaint. Findings of the Commission of Inquiry are followed up, inter alia, by the Committee of Experts.

Complaint against Belarus

25. At the 291st Session (November 2004), the Governing Body took note of the report of the Commission of Inquiry, chaired by Professor Budislav Vukas, established to examine the complaint concerning the observance by the Republic of Belarus of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948

(No. 87), and the Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98), made by delegates to the 91st Session (June 2003) of the International Labour Conference. It also took note of the response of the Government and charged the Committee on Freedom of Association to supervise the follow-up to the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry.

Complaint against Venezuela

26. At its 291st Session (November 2004), the Governing Body was informed of a complaint concerning non-observance by Venezuela of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), and the Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98), made by various Employers' delegates at the 92nd Session (2004) of the Conference. The Governing Body decided to examine the complaint at its 292nd Session (March 2005) in the light of information supplied by the Government of Venezuela on the complaint and the recommendations of the Committee on Freedom of Association, and to decide if the complaint should be forwarded to a Commission of Inquiry.

Special procedures concerning freedom of association

27. At its meetings in March, June and November 2004, the Committee on Freedom of Association had before it 360 cases concerning some 50 countries from all parts of the world, for which it presented interim or final conclusions, or for which the examination was adjourned pending the arrival of information from governments (333rd, 334th and 335th Reports). Many of these cases have been before the Committee on Freedom of Association several times.

28. The Committee on Freedom of Association drew the attention of the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations to the legislative aspects of the following cases: Bulgaria (2047), Burundi (2276) Cambodia (2222), Canada (2257 and 2277), Russian Federation (2216 and 2251), and Zimbabwe (1937 and 2027).

Technical assistance in the field of standards

Direct contacts and advisory missions

29. Direct contacts and advisory missions on freedom of association visited Bolivia (April 2004), Guatemala (May 2004), Mauritius (July 2004), Turkey (February 2004) and Venezuela (October 2004). Furthermore, upon the recommendation of the International Labour Conference, a direct contacts mission took place in May 2004 to Mauritania with regard to the application of the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29)

Promotional activities

30. Seminars on freedom of association were organized in Argentina (April and October 2004), Brazil (March 2004), Burkina Faso (March 2004), Gabon (October 2004), Madagascar (September 2004) and Turkey (February 2004).

31. Concerning equality and non-discrimination, the following activities were undertaken: technical assistance to Indonesia on equal employment opportunities and gender equality; to employers in Pakistan on a Code of Conduct on Gender Justice; to the Islamic Republic of Iran for women's employment; to China and Thailand concerning the possible ratification of the Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, 1958 (No. 111); and to Bangladesh concerning implementation of the Tripartite Consultation (International Labour Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 144).

32. In the area of social protection and working conditions, assistance was provided in various subject areas through national tripartite seminars, advisory and technical assistance missions, and activities undertaken in collaboration with the ILO's International Training Centre in Turin. The activities included: a tripartite seminar on wage protection (Ukraine, February 2004); a seminar on standards (Bulgaria, June 2004); training and assistance missions on social security (Spain, March 2004; Netherlands, May 2004; Poland, June 2004); training on the labour inspection Conventions (France, May, 2004; Madagascar, September 2004); a mission to assess needs in implementing the obligation to report (The former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, January 2004); follow-up and evaluation of a seminar on standards and the 1998 Declaration (Jordan, August 2004); an exploratory mission on the application of social security standards (Libyan Arab Jamahiriya, September 2004); training missions on occupational safety and health (Russian Federation, May 2004); and for judges in international law (Jordan, September 2004); participation in various standards-related training activities offered by the International Training Centre of the ILO in Turin.

33. The Department continued to develop its databases on international labour standards, including APPLIS, ILOLEX and LIBSYND. New documents were entered in ILOLEX, including the list of international labour standards classified by subject and the status assigned to them by the Governing Body. Furthermore, the transfer of the NATLEX database on the national labour and social legislation of member States to an upgraded database platform has allowed the entry of numerous legislative texts in full, as well as the creation of Internet links affording online access to full texts. This tool allows the ILO's constituents and secretariat to keep track of legislative developments around the world in the domain of labour and social security, and to improve the dissemination of this information to a wider public. Finally, the Department issued the 2004 version of the International Labour Standards E-library (ILSE) CD-ROM, which this year included documents in Portuguese as well as department publications, including the Guide to International Labour Standards. As for the ILOLEX country profiles, these now include 107 legislative profiles relating to occupational safety and health standards. Other such profiles are in preparation concerning migrant workers.

Standards-related activities in regional and subregional offices

34. Specialists in international labour standards are serving with the regional and subregional offices located in the following cities: Addis Ababa, Bangkok, Dakar, Harare, Lima, Manila, New Delhi, Port-of-Spain, Santiago (Chile) and Yaoundé. Both the Brasilia Office as well as the Cairo Office now have posts for a standards specialist, which have been filled since 1 September 2004, and a new specialist has recently been appointed in the Subregional Office in San José. Recruitment is under way to fill the Beirut post. As to the Moscow post, pending the appointment of a standards/social dialogue specialist, a young official has been hired for one year from November 2004 to carry out, ad interim, the duties pertaining to social dialogue. As there is no specialist post in the Budapest Office, the necessary technical support to the subregion is provided by the staff of the International Labour Standards Department.

35. International labour standards specialists play an essential role, not only in facilitating and improving supervision of the obligations deriving from Conventions and Recommendations, but also in promoting standards. The Department and the international labour standards specialists pursue an active collaboration. The next few years should see reinforcement of the policy of Department staff mobility.

PART III

Country profiles

The following country profiles provide information on the ratification and application of Conventions and on the submission of instruments adopted by the Conference to the competent authorities in a table format by country.

The ratifications section indicates which fundamental Conventions, priority Conventions, and other Conventions a country has ratified as of 31 December 2004. It does not list Conventions which have been denounced or which are not in force.

The section on reports requested indicates how many reports were requested from the country in 2004 and how many were received. Under articles 22 and 35 of the ILO Constitution, member States are required to submit reports at regular intervals on the application of Conventions which they have ratified or declared applicable to their territories. If a report requested was a first detailed report (which is required following the ratification of a Convention), the number of the Convention appears in parentheses.

The section on observations made by employers' and workers' organizations indicates for which Conventions comments were received by such organizations on reports submitted to them by governments. Article 23 of the Constitution requires each member State to communicate to the representative employers' and workers' organizations copies of the information and reports communicated under articles 19 and 22.

The section concerning comments of the Committee of Experts indicates what comments the Committee made during its session in 2004. It lists either "observations", which are published in the report of the Committee of Experts, or "direct requests", which are not published, but are communicated directly to the governments concerned. The list does not include comments made by the Committee in previous sessions for which action by governments is still requested.

The section on submissions indicates the sessions of the International Labour Conference of which adopted instruments have, or have not, been submitted by governments to the authority or authorities competent to consider further action, as required under article 19 of the Constitution. The number of the Conventions, Recommendations or Protocols are given in parentheses, preceded by the letter "C", "R", or "P" as the case may be, when only some of the texts adopted at any one session have been submitted. When the ratification of a Convention was registered, that Convention and the corresponding Recommendation are considered as submitted.
