Reader's note

The Information document on ratifications and standards-related activities (Report III (Part 2)) provides an overview of developments in international labour standards during 2010. It supplements the information contained in the report of the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations (Report III) (Part 1A). Part I provides general information on recent developments concerning international labour standards, constitutional and other procedures in relation to the supervision of standards, and technical assistance in the field of standards. Part II provides information on the ratification of individual Conventions and Protocols in table format. Part III contains “country profiles” which bring together information on the ratification and application of Conventions and on the submission of instruments adopted by the International Labour Conference to the competent authorities in a table format by country.

Part I. General information on international labour standards

Standards policy

A. Improvements to standards-related activities

1. Discussions on the standards strategy in the Governing Body

1. It will be recalled that, at its 294th Session (November 2005), the Governing Body adopted a standards strategy covering four main components: developing, keeping up to date and promoting ILO standards; strengthening the supervisory system; improving the impact of the standards system through technical assistance and cooperation; and enhancing the visibility of the ILO standards system through information and communication.¹ In November 2007, the Governing Body adopted an interim action plan to implement this strategy² and then initiated discussions in November 2009 on elaborating a definitive action plan in light of the ILO Declaration on Social Justice for a Fair Globalization (the “Social Justice Declaration”).³ It should be noted that the components of the interim plan that remained to be finalized are those relating to standards policy and the supervisory system. The parts on technical cooperation and enhancing the visibility of the ILO standards system were completed in 2007.

2. Following this discussion, the Governing Body invited the Office⁴ to make every effort to facilitate ongoing consultations on standards policy, to initiate consultations on the issue of the interpretation of international labour Conventions and to make the necessary arrangements for the organization of a meeting of a tripartite working group of experts to examine the Termination of Employment Convention (No. 158) and Recommendation (No. 166), 1982. The Governing Body also invited the Office to submit a plan of action for the promotion of the instruments relating to occupational safety and health (OSH); to implement a new reporting cycle under article 22 of the Constitution of three years for fundamental and priority Conventions, and five years for technical Conventions, on the basis of a classification of standards by strategic objective; and to invite the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations to examine the criteria on the basis of which it would examine comments received from the social partners outside of that cycle.⁵ The Governing Body also decided to continue the examination of the need to revise the article 22 report forms on the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29), and the Abolition of Forced Labour Convention, 1957 (No. 105).

3. The document submitted to the Governing Body in March 2010⁶ dealt with these different questions and contained an update on progress on the implementation of the interim action plan. At that session, the Governing Body approved⁷ the proposed plan of action on OSH standards, as revised, as well as a new article 22 report form on Convention No. 29. It asked the Office to develop further plans of action for the ratification and effective implementation of fundamental Conventions and the work in fishing standards, in light of the comments made during the discussion; to report on the ongoing review of the article 22 report forms concerning OSH Conventions; and to report on the implementation of the modifications to the article 22 reporting cycle adopted at the 306th Session (November 2009) of the Governing Body.

4. Separate and then tripartite consultations took place in February and March 2010, respectively, on standards policy and the interpretation of international labour Conventions. It was decided that the consultations should continue as regards interpretation, and a document on standards policy would be submitted for debate and guidance to the Governing Body in November 2010. The meeting of the tripartite working group of experts to examine the Termination of Employment Convention (No. 158) and Recommendation (No. 166), 1982, was set for April 2011.

5. In November 2010, the Office submitted a paper to the Governing Body reporting on the conclusions of the consultations on standards policy and presenting proposals for a comprehensive approach to strengthen that policy. The paper also contained a working outline of the classification of standards by strategic objective, as well as a proposed Action Plan (2011–16) aimed at improving the conditions of work of fishers through the widespread ratification and effective implementation of the Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 (No. 188), and the effect given to the Work in Fishing Recommendation, 2007 (No. 199)⁸

6. Following a rich discussion, the Governing Body invited the Office to submit in March 2011 a paper containing details on the implementation of the “standards policy” component of the standards strategy, including draft terms of reference of a possible standards review mechanism. Furthermore, the Governing Body approved the action plan to improve the conditions of work of fishers, as revised.⁹

7. The issue of the interpretation of international labour standards was the subject of a second informal tripartite discussion. Following that discussion, it was decided that the informal tripartite consultations would continue in November 2011 in order to hear the views of all constituents, in particular those who had not had the necessary time to examine all the issues raised and to adopt a position in that regard.

2. Enhanced access to the standards system and broader visibility

8. The first phase of the International Labour Standards Department (NORMES) database unification project and the subsequent development of an online reporting system, whose primary objective is to facilitate and streamline the reporting burden on governments, was launched in August 2009 and completed at the end of December 2009. This first phase focused on the unification of the four NORMES databases (APPLIS, ILOLEX, LIBSYND and NATLEX) and the design of a unified data model. The second and third phases of the project were approved by the ILO's Information Technology Application Advisory Board (ITAAB) during the first part of 2010 and funding for these phases was secured for 2010 and 2011. The second phase, which is currently under way, consists of the inclusion of the specifications for the unified application and the migration of the data contained in three of NORMES current databases (excluding NATLEX), while the third phase will focus on the development of a comprehensive online reporting system. After several test versions of this new application throughout the course of 2011, the whole project with final releases should be completed during the second semester of 2011.

⁷ GB.307/10/2(Rev.).

⁸ GB.309/LILS/4.

9. As regards the NATLEX database on national labour, social security and related human rights legislation, it now contains over 85,600 laws and regulations covering 194 countries and over 160 territories. On average, there are around 300 new entries per month. This continued update of the database ensures that NATLEX remains a most valuable tool and one greatly appreciated by its many users throughout the world. In January 2010, a peak was reached when statistics showed that more than 3.4 million external users had consulted NATLEX during that month, which still makes it the ILO's most frequently consulted database. It should also be noted that in the context of the new generation of General Surveys as a result of the adoption of the Social Justice Declaration, the 2011 report form for the next General Survey on fundamental Conventions has been made available online in a new window on the NORMES website and member States have the possibility to download and fill in the form and to send it electronically to the Office.

10. The Office has also continued to produce several tools for the dissemination of information on international labour standards to a wide audience. During the course of 2010, the Department issued several CD-ROMs, such as: the 2010 version of its International Labour Standards Electronic Library (ILSE), which includes documents on the Maritime Labour Convention, 2006 (MLC, 2006), as well as the latest General Survey on employment instruments; the 2010 version of the Application of International Labour Standards CD-ROM, which contains the comments by country of the Committee of Experts; and the 2010 Electronic Library on Freedom of Association and Collective Bargaining. In terms of new publications, the 2010 report of the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards has once again been published separately from the traditional Record of Proceedings of the Conference, as it has since 2007. In addition, NORMES, jointly with the Programme on Safety and Health at Work and the Environment (SafeWork), has recently published a plan of action (2010–16) to achieve widespread ratification and effective implementation of the occupational safety and health instruments. Finally, to underline the 100th Session of the International Labour Conference in 2011, the Department is preparing for June 2011 a publication on the dynamics and impact of the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards.

3. Instrument of Amendment to the ILO Constitution of 1997

11. The 1997 Instrument of Amendment to the ILO Constitution, the purpose of which is to enable the Conference to abrogate Conventions that have become obsolete, will enter into force once it has been ratified or accepted by two-thirds of the Members of the Organization (122/183). A campaign for ratification has been launched with a view to promoting the entry into force of this Instrument of Amendment, which has, to date, received 119 ratifications or acceptances. The last acceptance, that of Mongolia, was registered on 16 September 2010.¹⁰

B. New standards considered by the International Labour Conference at its 99th Session (June 2010)

1. HIV/AIDS and the world of work

12. It will be recalled that at its 298th Session (March 2007), the Governing Body decided to place an item on HIV/AIDS and the world of work on the agenda of the 98th Session (2009) of the International Labour Conference for a double discussion leading to the adoption of an autonomous Recommendation. Therefore, the 99th Session of the Conference adopted the HIV and AIDS Recommendation, 2010 (No. 200),¹¹ which marks a milestone for the ILO, as the first labour standard to call for the inclusion of the world of work in all aspects of the global response to the HIV pandemic. Recommendation No. 200 provides for the protection of human rights, fundamental freedoms and gender equality in and through the world of work. It enhances the contribution of the ILO's tripartite constituents to the prevention of HIV transmission and the mitigation of its impact on societies and national economies. Recommendation No. 200 calls for action to be taken through the development, adoption and effective implementation of national tripartite workplace policies and programmes on HIV and AIDS which can then in turn inform national AIDS plans and strategies, as well as being mainstreamed into other national and sectoral strategies.

13. The Recommendation highlights that a number of other standards are relevant to the protection of workers and their families in regard to HIV and AIDS and the world of work, including the Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, 1958 (No. 111), the Minimum Age Convention, 1973 (No. 138), the Termination of Employment Convention, 1982 (No. 158), the Occupational Safety and Health Convention, 1981 (No. 155), the Occupational Health Services Convention, 1985 (No. 161), the Tripartite Consultation (International Labour Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 144), and the List of Occupational Diseases Recommendation, 2002 (No. 194). The resolution adopted by the Conference on that occasion specifically invites the Governing Body to promote to member States the extension under Article 1(1)(b) of Convention No. 111 so that the protection afforded under that Convention is extended to real or perceived HIV/AIDS status.

14. It is noteworthy that the ILO's constituents demonstrated a remarkable level of consensus in developing and adopting Recommendation No. 200, which was adopted at the Conference by an overwhelming majority vote (439 votes in favour, equivalent to 96.6 per cent of the votes cast).

2. Domestic workers

15. At its 301st Session (March 2008), the Governing Body decided to put on the agenda of the 99th Session (2010) of the International Labour Conference an item on decent work for domestic workers with a view to standard setting. The Governing Body's discussions on this subject drew on the evidence of the decent work deficits faced by many domestic workers and on the fact that the problems encountered by these workers are often linked to the specific nature of their occupation and to the inadequate

¹⁰ See the list of countries that have ratified or accepted the Instrument of Amendment in Appendix II.

¹¹ Provisional Record No. 13(Rev.), ILC, 99th Session, Geneva, 2010.

attention paid to their situation in the framework of international law and national legislation.¹²

16. Following the first discussion by the Conference in June 2010, the Conference adopted by consensus conclusions covering, in particular, the definition of important concepts, the scope of application, the protection of fundamental rights, employment, working and living conditions, protection against abuse and harassment, and the protection of migrant domestic workers.¹³

17. The Conference also decided that an item entitled “Decent work for domestic workers” would be included on the agenda of its 100th Session (June 2011) for a second discussion with a view to the adoption of a comprehensive standard (a Convention supplemented by a Recommendation). In accordance with the Standing Orders of the Conference, the Office prepared the texts of a draft Convention and a draft Recommendation on the basis of the first discussion by the Conference. These texts were communicated to governments, which were asked to inform the Office, after consulting the most representative organizations of employers and workers, whether they had any amendments to suggest or comments to make on the proposed texts.¹⁴

C. Standards-related items placed on the agenda of the Conference (2011 and 2012)

18. As indicated above, a second discussion on the adoption of a comprehensive standard (a Convention accompanied by a Recommendation) on decent work for domestic workers was included on the agenda of the 100th Session of the Conference (June 2011). Moreover, under the follow-up to the Social Justice Declaration, the Governing Body decided, at its March 2009 session, to include a recurrent discussion on the strategic objective of social protection (social security)¹⁵ on the agenda of the 100th Session of the Conference. It should be recalled that the recurrent discussions cover all the means of action of the Organization, including standard setting. Finally, the third item to be included on this agenda will consist of a general discussion on labour administration and inspection.

19. As to the 101st Session (2012) of the Conference, in March 2010 the Governing Body included a recurrent discussion on the strategic objective of fundamental principles and rights at work on the agenda covering the four categories of fundamental principles and rights.¹⁶ It was decided to postpone the selection of the two other technical items that will complete this agenda until March 2011. The Governing Body also decided in November 2010 that an informal tripartite working party would be established in order to build a consensus on the items to be included on the agenda of the 101st Session (2012) and the 102nd Session (2013) of the Conference and to make recommendations designed to facilitate decisions on those items at the time of the March 2011 session of the Governing Body.

Constitutional and other procedures

A. Measures taken under article 33 of the ILO Constitution: The question of the observance by Myanmar of the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29)

20. Following a complaint filed pursuant to article 26 of the Constitution, alleging the non-observance by Myanmar of the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29), the Governing Body decided to establish a Commission of Inquiry. The Commission concluded, in its report published in 1998, that the obligation under Article 1, paragraph 1, of the Convention to suppress the use of forced or compulsory labour was being violated in Myanmar both in national legislation and in practice in a widespread and systematic manner, and it made a series of recommendations.

21. As the Government failed to take the necessary steps to implement the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry, the ILC adopted at its 87th Session (June 1999) a resolution on the widespread use of forced labour, according to which Myanmar should cease to benefit from any technical cooperation or assistance from the ILO, except for the purpose of direct assistance to implement immediately the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry. The following year, the ILC adopted a new resolution, under article 33 of the Constitution, inviting the Organization's constituents to review their relations with Myanmar and take appropriate measures to ensure that Myanmar cannot take advantage of such relations to perpetuate or extend the system of forced or compulsory labour referred to by the Commission of Inquiry.

22. In May 2001, an Understanding on an ILO objective assessment was signed between the Organization and the Government of Myanmar, under which the Government agreed to receive a high-level team appointed to assess, with full independence and freedom of movement, the realities of the forced labour situation. The Government also accepted the appointment of an ILO Liaison Officer in Myanmar, whose role covers all activities relevant to ensuring the prompt and effective elimination of forced labour. The post of Liaison Officer has been in existence since October 2002.

23. In May 2003, the Government and the ILO agreed on a joint plan of action on the elimination of forced labour practices in Myanmar, which could not be implemented in view of events that occurred at the national level. In November 2004, the Governing Body requested that a very high-level team be sent to the country to evaluate the attitude of the authorities in Myanmar and their willingness to continue to cooperate with the ILO. In February 2005, the very high-level mission considered that the conditions were not conducive to the effective discharge of its mandate and it submitted to the authorities, before leaving the country, an aide-memoire outlining the measures that should be taken to improve the situation. In October 2005, consultations were held between a representative of the Director-General and the Liaison Officer, on the one hand, and the Minister of Labour, on the other. On this occasion, the authorities indicated that Myanmar did not wish to engage in any debate on the measures recommended by the very high-level mission or on the joint plan of action in so far as the only acceptable mechanism for dealing with complaints of forced labour was the actual presence of the ILO in the country. At the 294th Session of the Governing Body (November 2005), many members expressed their deep concern about the deteriorating situation in Myanmar and a number of them indicated that, under the circumstances, the only possible solution for the Organization was to entrust to the Conference itself the task of reviewing the measures adopted, under article 33 of the Constitution, in the Conference's resolution of 2000.

24. Accordingly, the Governing Body placed the following item on the agenda of the 95th Session of the Conference (May–June 2006): “Review of possible further action by the ILO in accordance with its Constitution in order: (i) to effectively secure Myanmar's compliance with the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry, and (ii) to ensure that no action is taken against complainants or their representatives”. At that session, the Conference examined the various options that it might consider adopting to ensure compliance with the Convention, including the possibility of the ILO seeking an advisory opinion from the International Court of Justice. At its 297th Session (November 2006), the Governing Body expressed great frustration that the Myanmar authorities had not been able to agree on a mechanism to deal with complaints of forced labour.

25. On 26 February 2007, the ILO and the Government of Myanmar signed a Supplementary Understanding to establish a complaints mechanism, aimed at giving victims of forced labour the opportunity to channel their complaints through the services of the Liaison Officer to the competent authorities with a view to seeking redress. Both the Governing Body and the ILC, at its 96th Session (May–June 2007), while welcoming the implementation of this mechanism, emphasized that it was vital to ensure that the mechanism function efficiently and that the Liaison Officer had the necessary staff resources to discharge adequately the responsibilities that the position entailed.

26. In November 2007, at its 300th Session, the Governing Body called on the Government of Myanmar to make at the highest level an unambiguous public statement that all forms of forced labour are prohibited throughout the country and that those using it would be duly punished. The Governing Body also called on the Government to ensure: that the mechanism provided by the Supplementary Understanding remain fully functional at the national level; that forced labour victims are able to access the complaints mechanism easily; and that there are no further detentions or acts of harassment against complainants, facilitators or others.

27. In February 2009, the trial period of the complaints mechanism under the Supplementary Understanding was extended for another year, and in January 2010 it was extended for the third time for a further 12-month period until 25 February 2011. In March and November 2009 (304th and 306th Sessions), the Governing Body acknowledged a certain degree of cooperation from the Government to make the complaints mechanism function. However, it called upon the Government to strengthen the capacity of the ILO in the framework of the Supplementary Understanding so that complaints could be dealt with throughout the country. It also called for the immediate release of all persons currently detained being complainants, facilitators and other persons associated with the complaints mechanism. In June 2010, the Conference considered that the steps taken by the Government were totally inadequate and again emphasized the need for the Government to work proactively towards the full implementation of the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry appointed by the Governing Body in March 1997.

28. In November 2010 (309th Session), the Governing Body reconfirmed all of its previous conclusions and those of the Conference and called upon the Government and the Office to work proactively towards their realization. In the light of the commitment made by the Permanent Representative of the Government, the Governing Body called on the new Parliament to proceed without delay to bring the legislation into line with the Convention. While noting the increased number of the complaints received under the Supplementary Understanding complaints mechanism, the Governing Body considered it essential that the movement towards an environment free from harassment or fear of retribution be sustained and it called upon the Government to cooperate with the Liaison Officer on cases raised at the Officer's own initiative. Finally, the Governing Body welcomed the release of Daw Aung San Suu Kyi and urged that other persons still in detention, including labour activists and persons associated with the submission of complaints under the Supplementary Understanding, would be similarly given their liberty as soon as possible.

29. In its most recent observation, the Committee of Experts has urged the Government once again to demonstrate its commitment to rectify the violations of the Convention identified by the Commission of Inquiry by implementing the concrete practical requests addressed by the Committee to the Government, and to take all the long overdue steps to achieve compliance with the Convention in both law and practice, so that the most serious and long-standing problem of forced labour will be finally resolved.

B. Representations submitted under article 24 of the ILO Constitution

30. Representations may be filed under article 24 of the Constitution by industrial associations of employers or workers, alleging that a member State that has ratified a Convention has failed to secure within its jurisdiction the effective observance of that Convention. Once declared receivable, representations are examined by a tripartite committee established by the Governing Body. Their findings are followed up by the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations. The table below indicates developments concerning representations in 2010.

Country	Conventions	Complainant organization	Status of the representation
Chile	Old-Age Insurance (Industry, etc.) Convention, 1933 (No. 35) and Invalidity Insurance (Industry, etc.) Convention, 1933 (No. 37)	College of Teachers of Chile AG	Pending: representation declared receivable by the Governing Body at its 308th Session (June 2010). Representation referred to the Committee of Experts in accordance with article 3 of the Standing Orders concerning the procedure for the examination of representations
Japan	Equal Remuneration Convention, 1951 (No. 100)	Zensekiyu Showa–Shell Labour Union	Pending: representation declared receivable by the Governing Body at its 307th Session (March 2010). Tripartite committee set up
	Private Employment Agencies Convention, 1997 (No. 181)	Japan Community Union Federation	Pending: representation declared receivable by the Governing Body at its 306th Session (November 2009). Tripartite committee set up
Peru	Indigenous and Tribal Peoples Convention, 1989 (No. 169)	General Confederation of Workers of Peru (CGTP)	Pending: representation declared receivable by the Governing Body at its 307th Session (March 2010). Tripartite committee set up
Russian Federation	Recruitment and Placement of Seafarers Convention, 1996 (No. 179)	Federation of Maritime Transport Trade Unions (FPRMT)	Report adopted by the Governing Body at its 308th Session in June 2010 (GB.308/6/1)

C. Complaints submitted under article 26 of the ILO Constitution

31. Complaints may be filed under article 26 of the Constitution alleging that a member State that has ratified a Convention is not securing its effective observance.

Complaints may be filed by another member State that has ratified the same Convention. The Governing Body may initiate the procedure either of its own motion or upon receipt of a complaint from a delegate to the ILC. The Governing Body may appoint a Commission of Inquiry to consider the complaint. Findings of the Commission of Inquiry are followed up by the Committee of Experts or the Committee on Freedom of Association.

Complaint against Belarus

32. It will be recalled that at its 288th Session (November 2003), the Governing Body established a Commission of Inquiry to examine the implementation by Belarus of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), and the Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98). The Governing Body noted the report of the Commission of Inquiry at its 291st Session (November 2004). The Governing Body entrusted the Committee on Freedom of Association with the responsibility of supervising and following up the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry, as well as the Committee of Experts in its periodic review of these Conventions.

33. In June 2010, the Conference Committee noted that two sittings of the tripartite Council for the Improvement of Legislation in the Social and Labour Sphere were held in November 2009 and May 2010, at which issues of trade union registration, trade union legislation and collective bargaining had been discussed. The Conference Committee noted with interest that, as a result of the work of the tripartite Council, one primary trade union organization was registered, and collective agreements were concluded at two enterprises by the affiliates of the Belarusian Congress of Democratic Trade Unions (CDTU) and the Federation of Trade Unions of Belarus (FPB). The Conference Committee also noted that members of the tripartite Council had decided to establish a working group – which would include representatives of the FPB, CDTU and employers' associations – responsible for examining the issues raised by the members of the Council and preparing suggestions for the Council's decisions on the basis of the positions of all the parties concerned. The Committee regretted that there were as yet no concrete proposals to amend Presidential Decree No. 2 dealing with trade union registration, the Law on Mass Activities, or Presidential Decree No. 24 concerning the use of foreign gratuitous aid, as requested by the Commission of Inquiry. The Conference Committee trusted that Presidential Decree No. 2 would be amended or repealed so as to eliminate remaining obstacles to organizational rights. In light of the continued commitment to social dialogue expressed by the Government, the Conference Committee encouraged it to intensify its efforts to ensure full implementation of the Commission of Inquiry recommendations without delay, in close cooperation with all the social partners and with the assistance of the ILO. It expected that the Government would submit detailed information on proposed amendments to the abovementioned legislation as well as on the time-bound plan requested the previous year, to the Committee of Experts at its upcoming meeting, and trusted that it would be in a position to note significant progress with respect to all remaining matters at its next session. The Committee of Experts examined the information provided by the Government in this respect at its last session.

Complaint against Zimbabwe

34. It will be recalled that at its 303rd Session (November 2008), the Governing Body established a Commission of Inquiry to examine the implementation by Zimbabwe of Conventions Nos 87 and 98. The Governing Body noted the report of the Commission of Inquiry at its 307th Session (March 2010). At the same session, the Governing Body approved the Commission's suggestion that the ILO pursue its assistance to the Government and social partners in relation to the implementation of the Commission's recommendations. At its 308th Session (June 2010), the Governing Body took note of the acceptance by the Government of Zimbabwe of the Commission of Inquiry's recommendations.

35. For ease of reference, the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry are reproduced below:

1. The Commission recommends that the relevant legislative texts, and most particularly the Labour Act, the Public Service Act and the Public Order and Security Act, be brought into line with Conventions Nos 87 and 98, as requested by the ILO supervisory bodies and noted throughout this report.
2. The Commission recommends that all anti-union practices as set out in our findings – arrests, detentions, violence, torture, intimidation and harassment, interference and anti-union discrimination – cease with immediate effect and that steps are taken by the authorities to ensure that there is no repetition of such acts in the future. The Commission further recommends in this regard that steps be taken to bring all outstanding and pending court cases against trade unionists to an end.
3. The Commission recommends that, mindful of the role that its process played in allowing people to be heard, other national institutions continue this process so that trade unionists and perpetrators participate in a national process of truth and reconciliation. In particular, noting that the Zimbabwe Human Rights Commission and the Organ for National Healing and Reconciliation could play an important role in this regard, the Commission recommends that the Human Rights Commission be rendered operational as soon as possible and that the Government ensure that these institutions are adequately resourced so that they may contribute to the defence of trade union and human rights in the future.
4. The Commission recommends that the Government ensure that training, education and support be given to key institutions and personnel in the country, most notably the police, security forces and the social partners, in relation to freedom of association and collective bargaining, civil liberties and human rights.
5. The Commission wishes to stress the essential place of the rule of law and the role of the courts in ensuring that an environment exists in the country in which freedom of association and collective bargaining may be enjoyed in practice. The Commission particularly recognizes the special role that could be played by the Labour Court. In this regard, the Commission recommends that the Government take steps to reinforce the rule of law and the role of the courts in Zimbabwe by ensuring that the courts are respected and properly resourced in material and human terms, and that training, education and support in relation to freedom of association and collective bargaining, civil liberties and human rights are provided to members of the judiciary and court staff at all levels of the court hierarchy.
6. The Commission recommends that the Government continue to strengthen and support social dialogue in the country in recognition of the role that social dialogue plays in the maintenance of democracy.
7. The Commission recommends that the Government take advantage of technical assistance by the International Labour Office in relation to the implementation of these recommendations. We urge the ILO to pursue its assistance to the Government and social partners in this regard.

Complaint against Myanmar

36. A group of workers' delegates to the 99th International Labour Conference presented a complaint under article 26 of the ILO Constitution against the Government of Myanmar for persistent and grave violation of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87). At its 309th Session

(November 2010), the Governing Body declared the complaint receivable and requested the Government to communicate its observations on the complaint no later than 31 January 2011 so that the Governing Body could return to this matter at its 310th Session (March 2011).

D. Special procedure concerning freedom of association

37. At its last meetings (March, June and November 2010), the Committee on Freedom of Association had before it more than 199 cases concerning 56 countries from all parts of the world, for which it presented interim or final conclusions, or for which the examination was adjourned pending the arrival of information from governments (356th, 357th and 358th Reports). Many of these cases have been before the Committee on Freedom of Association on more than one occasion. The Committee on Freedom of Association has drawn the attention of the Committee of Experts to the legislative aspects of the following cases: Australia (Case No. 2698), Bulgaria (Case No. 2696), Cambodia (Case No. 2222), Canada (Cases Nos 2173 and 2654), Cape Verde (Case No. 2622), Ethiopia (Case No. 2516), Georgia (Case No. 2663), Indonesia (Case No. 2737), Japan (Cases Nos 2177 and 2183), Mauritius (Case No. 2616), Peru (Cases Nos 2587 and 2690), Romania (Case No. 2611), Uruguay (Case No. 2699) and the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela (Case No. 2727).

Technical assistance and cooperation

A. Follow-up missions to the conclusions adopted by the Conference at its recent sessions

Egypt

38. In pursuance of the Memorandum of Understanding resulting from the ILO technical assistance mission, which took place at the request of the June 2008 Conference Committee on the Application of Standards, a Tripartite Workshop on Social Dialogue, Freedom of Association and Development with broad-based participation was convened in April 2010. The results of this Workshop and the further steps that the Government has committed to take to bring the national legislation into full conformity with the provisions of Convention No. 87 are set out in the comment under this Convention in the latest report of the Committee of Experts.

Swaziland

39. At its 98th Session (June 2009), during the discussion of the application by Swaziland of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards urged the Government to accept a high-level tripartite mission. The High-level Tripartite Mission visited the country from 25 to 28 October 2010 and reviewed issues concerning: the conformity of the legislation with Convention No. 87; the May Day 2010 incident, which was raised in the Conference Committee discussion; and the steps taken for the promotion of meaningful and effective social dialogue in the country. The report of the High-level Tripartite Mission was transmitted to the Committee of Experts, the Government and the social partners and its conclusions are reflected in the Committee's comments under Convention No. 87.

Turkey

40. At its 2009 session, the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards requested the Government of Turkey to accept a high-level bipartite mission with the aim of assisting the Government in making meaningful progress in amending its legislation so as to eliminate a number of discrepancies between the legislation and practice, on the one hand, and the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), on the other. A bipartite mission led by the Employer and Worker spokespersons of the Conference Committee visited Turkey in March 2010. The Conference Committee again discussed the application of Convention No. 87 by Turkey at its 2010 session. On that occasion, it once again urged the Government to engage in ongoing assistance with the ILO and to elaborate a plan of action with clear timelines in order to ensure the rapid adoption of the necessary legislative amendments. It requested the Government to provide to the Committee of Experts detailed and complete information on all progress made in this respect and on the outcome of the constitutional reform and to transmit all relevant legislative texts in its report due this year. The Committee of Experts examined the information provided by the Government in this respect at its last session.

B. Technical assistance in reporting and other standards-related obligations

41. It would be appropriate to recall that since June 2005 the Conference Committee and the Committee of Experts have strengthened, with the assistance of the Office, the follow-up concerning serious failure by member States to comply with their reporting and other standards-related obligations. Hence, the International Labour Standards Department, in close collaboration with the external offices, has organized technical assistance activities in light of what had been observed by the two Committees at their respective sessions.¹⁷ The activities that took place during the course of 2010 to ensure that member States comply with their obligations in this field, including those carried out in the framework of this follow-up, are listed below.

Africa

42. Following up the concern expressed by the Committee of Experts at its meeting in November–December 2009 about the absence of reports on the application of some of the Conventions ratified by the Democratic Republic of the Congo, a mission visited Kinshasa in May 2010. A team comprising the coordinator of the International Labour Standards Department and standards specialists and workers' activities specialists from the Yaoundé Office met government officials and representatives of workers' and employers' organizations. The mission assisted the government officials and social partners with the preparation of some reports that were due in 2010. The mission also went to Brazzaville, in Congo, to restart the processes of submitting to Parliament the instruments adopted by the International Labour Conference and presenting reports on the application of ratified Conventions.

43. Following a subregional training session on constitutional obligations for the countries of southern Africa, Lesotho was identified as a country that should also benefit from a national activity, given the specific difficulties that it was encountering in meeting its constitutional obligations. This activity was conducted in April 2010 by the standards specialist of the Decent Work Technical Support Team and Country Office (DWT/CO) in Pretoria.

44. To ensure better application of the Equal Remuneration Convention, 1951 (No. 100), and the Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, 1958 (No. 111), in the countries of West Africa, the PAMODEC project¹⁸ launched a series of studies on the problem of discrimination in certain countries (Benin, Burkina Faso, Côte d'Ivoire, Mauritania, Niger and Senegal). In this context, the standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Dakar and PAMODEC organized workshops to analyse results and, where necessary, formulate action plans to combat discrimination in employment and occupation, in Mali (April 2010), Mauritania (September 2010) and Côte d'Ivoire (October 2010). In addition, as part of the implementation of the plan of action to combat discrimination in Senegal, the Ministry of Labour and the social partners received support in the development of draft legislation relating to discrimination at work.

45. Similarly, studies on bringing labour legislation into conformity with the principles and rights enshrined in the eight fundamental Conventions have been conducted, with the support of the PAMODEC project, in Guinea, Mali and Senegal, and workshops to analyse results and possibly discuss draft legislative amendments have taken place in Mali (April 2010) and Guinea (October 2010).

46. Within the framework of activities to promote and encourage collective bargaining practices, the PAMODEC project has provided technical and financial assistance to Guinea-Bissau, Mauritania and Senegal:

- a workshop for the revitalization and reactivation of the Social Dialogue Council of Guinea-Bissau was held in October 2010 at the request of the Government and the social partners;
- a workshop was organized in Mauritania, in November (on the eve of the discussions on the review of the general collective agreement of 1974), at the request of the tripartite constituents. The aim of the event was to: raise awareness of the right to collective bargaining as understood in the standards and jurisprudence of the ILO supervisory bodies; teach participants about the process and methodology of collective agreements; assess the implementation of the general collective agreement of 1974; provide participants with the necessary tools to develop and negotiate future collective agreements or to review collective agreements in force; and render operational the advisory committees on enterprise-level collective bargaining. As a result of this workshop, a roadmap was adopted in order to reinvigorate collective bargaining processes and, more generally, social dialogue in Mauritania;
- a national tripartite workshop to assess the national interprofessional collective agreement and revive collective bargaining was held in November 2009 in Senegal in collaboration with the National Social Dialogue Committee, a national tripartite body to promote social dialogue involving the Government and the social partners.

Americas

47. In follow-up to the comments by the Committee of Experts on the application by Argentina of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), the Government requested technical assistance from the Office to move forward in the treatment of various issues related to the comments made by the supervisory bodies of the ILO regarding legislation. The Office suggested that, given the sensitive nature and complexity of the issues raised in relation to the application of Convention No. 87, technical assistance should be preceded by a fact-finding mission that could take place before the 2010 session of the Conference. This mission took place from 3 to 7 May 2010.

48. The DWT/CO–Lima has continued to support the Ministry of Labour of the Plurinational State of Bolivia in its efforts to strengthen its reporting capacities with regard to international labour standards. Accordingly, in March 2010, the standards specialist carried out an awareness-raising activity with the new Minister of Labour on the importance of the preparation and communication of reports and provided support on an individual basis to the two officials directly responsible for drafting reports. As a result of this collaboration, the Plurinational State of Bolivia has almost entirely cleared its backlog of reports due on the application of ratified Conventions.

49. In accordance with what was agreed during the mission, which at the request of the Government had visited Colombia in 2009 regarding the application of Convention

No. 87, in March and July 2010 the Office conducted, within the framework of the proceedings of the Committee on Freedom of Association of the Governing Body, preliminary contacts missions to bring the parties together and find solutions consistent with the principles of freedom of association and collective bargaining to the complaints brought before the Committee.

50. In follow-up to the conclusions adopted in 2009 by the Conference Committee on the application by Peru of the Indigenous and Tribal Peoples Convention, 1989 (No. 169), the DWT/CO–Lima and its standards specialist provided technical support to various committees of the national Parliament during the process of drafting a framework law on prior consultation with indigenous peoples.

51. Also in Peru, the standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Lima continued to provide technical support to the working group on international labour standards, a group formed in 2009 as the result of an initiative by the workers' activities specialist, bringing together legal experts from the four Peruvian trade union confederations. In this respect, the Peruvian trade union confederations have prepared joint comments on the application of Conventions Nos 87, 98, 100, 111, 122 and 144, pursuant to article 23(2) of the ILO Constitution, as well as responses to the article 19 questionnaire on social security standards.

52. In April 2010, the standards specialist of the DWT/CO–San José organized a workshop in Guatemala on international labour standards and the ILO supervisory system, with emphasis on freedom of association, collective bargaining and combating impunity. The Deputy Minister of Labour and Social Welfare, officials from the Ministry of Labour and Social Welfare, representatives of other ministries and state institutions and representatives of the judiciary participated in the workshop. The objective of the workshop was to help the country fulfil its constitutional obligations and reply to the comments and recommendations of the supervisory bodies. The activity formed part of the follow-up to the discussion by the Conference Committee of the application by Guatemala of Convention No. 87.

53. In August 2010, at the request of the Government of Guatemala, a technical assistance mission visited the country to follow up the comments of the Committee of Experts on the Indigenous and Tribal Peoples Convention, 1989 (No. 169). The mission was received by the Deputy Minister of Labour and high-level officials from other ministries and held several meetings with representatives of other state institutions at various levels, as well as with representatives of employers, workers and indigenous peoples. Following the mission, the Government sent to the Office for comments a draft text regulating the question of the right to consultation, as envisaged in the Convention.

54. In August 2010, the standards specialist of the DWT/CO–San José, in collaboration with the International Programme on the Elimination of Child Labour (ILO–IPEC), organized a tripartite subregional workshop on the drafting of reports due under article 22 of the Constitution on Conventions Nos 138 and 182 on child labour. The workshop was attended by officials responsible for the preparation of these reports in ministries of labour in Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua and Panama and as well as representatives of employers' and workers' organizations from the same countries. The objective of the workshop was to help these countries fulfil their constitutional obligations and reply to the comments of the supervisory bodies on Conventions Nos 138 and 182.

55. In view of the lack of progress made last year on reporting by Guyana, in a context of strong improvement of the situation in the Caribbean as a whole, and given the heavy backlog accumulated by the country, the standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Port-of-Spain conducted a training workshop in July 2010 on reporting and constitutional obligations with staff from the Labour Department. It should be noted that Guyana had been mentioned in the report of the Conference Committee in 2010 as one of the countries with persistent difficulties in complying with reporting obligations.

56. The standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Santiago has continued to support the Ministry of Labour of Paraguay in building its capacities regarding the drafting of reports on international labour standards. Thus, in June 2010, a workshop was held for the officials of the various ministries responsible for providing technical input for the preparation of reports. The standards specialist also provided individual support for the officials directly responsible for preparing the reports which should be submitted on the application of the ratified Conventions. Furthermore, in May the standards specialist carried out activities to raise awareness within Parliament as a follow-up to the observations made by the Committee of Experts concerning the need to bring the legislation into conformity with the principles and rights set out in the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87). The Government requested technical assistance in raising the awareness of Congress regarding the need to carry out the legislative changes recommended on various occasions over the last few years by the Committee of Experts and to speed up the legislative process.

57. DWT/CO–Santiago provided technical assistance to the Government of Chile in the preparation and drafting of its first report on the application of the Indigenous and Tribal Peoples Convention, 1989 (No. 169), under article 22 of the ILO Constitution. Thus, in June 2010, the standards specialist ran a workshop with the officials of the various ministries responsible for providing technical input for the preparation of the report. A series of workshops attracting around 1,000 participants was also held on the dissemination of Convention No. 169 for leaders of indigenous organizations, government bodies and representatives of civil society. Moreover, further workshops were organized in the Araucanía region which brought together 200 people, including indigenous leaders and community members. Under an agreement between the Chilean Confederation of Production and Trade (CPC) and the ILO, activities were also carried out with the employers concerning Convention No. 169 with the aim of providing guidance as to how they could contribute to the effective application of the Convention.

Asia

58. In April 2010, the standards specialist of DWT/CO–New Delhi organized a tripartite workshop in the Maldives on the preparation of reports under articles 19 and 22 of the Constitution, including a general presentation of the international labour standards.

Europe

59. In Ukraine, the Office supported the organization of and provided expert advice to a high-level tripartite round table in April 2010 at the Verkhovna Rada (Parliament) to discuss comments of the Committee of Experts on Conventions Nos 100 and 111 on equality of treatment with a view to improving national legislation. The event involved members of Parliament, representatives from government, trade unions and employers' associations, international and non-governmental organizations, and academics. The Parliamentary Committee on Social Policy and Labour endorsed the recommendations proposed for further action, and a tripartite working group was set up to prepare amendments to the national legislation on equality.

C. Training activities

(a) Activities developed in collaboration with the International Training Centre in Turin

60. The activities undertaken jointly by NORMES and the Standards and Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work Department of the Turin Centre contribute to the implementation of the standards strategy by reinforcing the impact of standards through technical cooperation and assistance.

61. In 2010, over 30 training activities were carried out at the interregional, regional, subregional and national levels. These courses, most of which are tripartite, are provided in several languages and address standards procedures and specific subject areas, such as equality in employment, freedom of association, action to combat child labour and forced labour, and the use of international labour standards by national jurisdictions. The work of the supervisory bodies for the application of standards is one of the elements taken into account in selecting the participants in these courses. For example, a regional course on rights at work for journalists and media professionals was organized at the regional level for Asian countries.

62. As indicated in paragraph 86 below, the training programme for trainers and maritime inspectors on the application of the MLC, 2006, continued in 2010. In addition, three new courses will be offered for legal officers in the administrative services responsible for examining the ratification of the Convention and its incorporation into national law, for ships' masters and officers and the representatives of seafarers. Furthermore, the ILO Maritime Labour Academy will be launched in 2011 with the objective of providing in-depth training on the MLC, 2006.

63. The training at distance course on best practice in reporting on the application of international labour standards continued with the participation of representatives of ministries of labour who are encountering particular difficulties in the preparation and sending of reports. This training activity is a good example of the joint activities undertaken by the Turin Centre and NORMES to strengthen the effectiveness of the supervisory system.

64. In the field of child labour, in addition to the regular training activities provided every year, a course on the subject of legislative and political action to combat child labour was developed and provided in Botswana in collaboration with ILO-IPEC. In addition, a training module on domestic work by children was tested in a workshop organized in Morocco for French-speaking African countries.

65. With regard to freedom of association, a course was carried out in Johannesburg in January 2011 on freedom of association and development, with the participation of delegations from Kenya, Namibia, South Africa, Swaziland and Zimbabwe. The course is intended to strengthen the capacity of institutions and organizations to promote compliance with and the exercise of freedom of association and the right to collective bargaining, and accordingly to contribute to economic and social development and environmental protection, with the objective of sustainable development. In collaboration with technical cooperation projects on freedom of association, a guide on collective bargaining and a study on freedom of association and development were also prepared in two technical meetings held in Turin. Finally an updated version of the electronic library was published, which includes recent cases examined by the Committee on Freedom of Association.

66. A new training programme on the rights of precarious workers was organized in collaboration with the Industrial and Employment Relations Department (DIALOGUE) and the Regional Office for Europe and Central Asia. The training is designed to strengthen the capacity of public institutions, the social partners and other stakeholders to analyse the challenges faced by precarious workers and reinforce their rights in light of international labour standards.

67. The training manual on international labour standards for judges, lawyers and legal educators and the updated compendium of court decisions relating to standards, published in three languages, continue to be used for many training activities carried out for judges and lawyers. Particular reference should be made to the interregional course organized in Turin, the regional course for Latin America held in Buenos Aires and the regional course for the countries of Asia and the Pacific held in Melbourne.

68. Finally, a training project on international and European labour law for Italian company legal advisers and labour lawyers was launched with the financial support of the Government of Italy. The project is carried out in collaboration with the European Lawyers' Union (UAE).

(b) Training on issues related to indigenous peoples

69. In 2010, the Programme to Promote the ILO Indigenous and Tribal Peoples Convention, 1989 (No. 169) (PRO 169), based in the International Labour Standards Department, carried out three training programmes at ILO headquarters for indigenous fellows in Spanish, English and French in collaboration with the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR).

70. At the regional level, a major seminar on the promotion and implementation of Convention No. 169 and the UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples was held in Asia (Dhaka, Bangladesh) in November 2009 in collaboration with the Asia Indigenous Peoples' Pact (AIPP), the Regional Indigenous Peoples Programme of UNDP (UNDP-RIPP) and the Bangladesh Indigenous Peoples Forum, and with the participation of government representatives from Bangladesh, India and Nepal and indigenous organizations. More recently, in August 2010, a seminar on indigenous peoples' traditional livelihoods, focusing on the promotion and implementation of Conventions Nos 111 and 169, was convened in Siem Reap (Cambodia) in collaboration with the Ministry of Rural Development of Cambodia, UNDP-RIPP and the AIPP. Furthermore, in March 2010, PRO 169 facilitated a study tour to the Plurinational State of Bolivia and Guatemala of leading actors from indigenous organizations in Nepal, with a view to promoting the exchange of experiences and good practices on the application of indigenous peoples' rights at a cross-regional level. With regard to the African region, in November 2009 a technical meeting with the Working Group on Indigenous Communities/Populations of the African Commission on Human and Peoples' Rights (ACHPR) was organized in Banjul (Gambia) to discuss ways forward in the dissemination and operationalization of the ILO/ACHPR research findings regarding the protection of indigenous peoples in Africa. Moreover, training modules were developed on indigenous peoples' rights to land and resources, the right to development and the situation of indigenous women for application in Central Africa, in order to complement a set of training tools elaborated in 2009 on the protection of indigenous peoples' rights. These modules were used in a seminar held in May 2010 in Yaoundé (Cameroon) in collaboration with the OHCHR on the application of indigenous peoples' rights.

71. At the national level, the PRO 169 has been participating and organizing capacity-building activities on indigenous peoples' rights, particularly on Conventions Nos 169 and 111, in various countries in Asia, Africa and Latin America, including Bangladesh, Plurinational State of Bolivia, Cameroon, Ecuador, Guatemala, India, Nepal, Nicaragua and Peru. Training materials, manuals and publications have been made available for this purpose.

72. The ILO's website on indigenous and tribal peoples (<http://ilo.org/indigenous>) has been updated with new information on the activities of the Programme and new publications to ensure easier access to these tools for government officials, indigenous organizations and other partners. The specific website on indigenous issues created for training purposes (<http://pro169.org/>) has also been updated with new training materials.

(c) Other training activities

Africa

73. The standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Dakar was involved in the following:

- a training workshop in Benin organized by ILO–IPEC for radio journalists working in local languages on the issue of child labour and the rights and principles enshrined in Conventions Nos 138 and 182, which have been ratified by Benin;
- facilitation, with the managers of the PAMODEC project, of conference debates on fundamental principles and rights at work at the National School of Administration and the National School of Justice in Antananarivo (Madagascar, May 2010), as well as training for 60 Malagasy magistrates on the use of international labour law by the national courts (October 2010);
- also in collaboration with the PAMODEC project, facilitation of a training session for trainers of the National Training Institute for the Judiciary of Mali on the eight fundamental Conventions (April 2010);
- decentralized national tripartite workshops to provide training on standards and the fundamental Conventions, organized under the auspices of the PAMODEC project in January and February 2010 in Senegal in the Tambacounda and Kolda regions.

74. The standards specialist of DWT/CO–Yaoundé participated in and supported the organization of the following training activities:

- a training seminar for media professionals, held in the Democratic Republic of the Congo by the Turin International Training Centre (January 2010);
- training seminars on fundamental principles and rights at work held in Gabon by the PAMODEC project for magistrates and labour inspectors (July 2010). Other training activities are planned, in particular in Chad (March 2011);
- the production, on the occasion of International Day of the World's Indigenous People (9 August), of a strip cartoon as part of the PRO 169 project in Cameroon, to raise awareness among a very wide audience of the rights of indigenous and tribal peoples, as defined by Convention No. 169 and by the UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples.

Americas

75. Through its standards specialist, the DWT/CO–Lima carried out training activities in the following countries:

- the Plurinational State of Bolivia: two seminars for professors of labour law from the country's major universities were organized within the framework of the ILO's Support Programme for Decent Work in order to support the process of incorporating international labour standards and the work of the supervisory bodies into the teaching programmes on labour law. These activities have led to the signature of a letter of commitment by the deans of the participating leading law schools to introduce standards into their teaching programmes.
- Colombia: in the framework of the project for cooperation, social dialogue, fundamental rights at work and labour inspection, four seminars were organized in 2010 for professors of labour law from the country's leading universities in order to support the process of incorporating international labour standards and the work of the supervisory bodies into the teaching programmes on Colombian labour law. A follow-up seminar was also held with the Lara Bonilla National School for the Judiciary on the use by the judiciary of international labour standards. It should be noted that this collaboration resulted in the creation of a dedicated web page for the school, giving the national courts direct and up-to-date access to the comments made by the ILO supervisory bodies in relation to Colombia.
- In the framework of the PRO 169 project, the standards specialist carried out activities in Ecuador and Peru to publicize the contents of the Convention and the comments of the Committee of Experts. In Ecuador, these activities were intended for parliamentary advisers and representative organizations of indigenous peoples. In Peru, these activities were carried out with, among others, judges of the Constitutional Court of Peru, the Judicial Academy, the Ministry of Energy and Mines and the Office of the Ombudsperson.

76. In April 2010, the standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Port-of-Spain, in collaboration with the International Labour Standards Department, gave a series of lectures on international labour standards relating to OSH at the University of the West Indies, both on the campus in Jamaica and in Trinidad and Tobago, within the framework of the Occupational and Environmental Safety and Health Master Programme. The audience consisted of professionals in various fields such as OSH inspectors, OSH specialists in private industry, health workers, public health employees, the staff of water or electricity commissions, firefighters, teachers and judges.

Arab States

77. In May 2010, the Office organized a workshop in Cairo on gender equality and international labour standards for the Arab States. The workshop was attended by 32 participants (12 men and 20 women) representing the ILO's constituents and other relevant civil society institutions from 12 countries and territories (Bahrain, Egypt, Jordan, Kuwait, Lebanon, Oman, Qatar, Sudan, Syrian Arab Republic, United Arab Emirates, Yemen and the occupied Arab territories). The objective of the workshop was to improve knowledge of selected ILO Conventions and Recommendations relating to gender equality, focusing on Conventions Nos 100, 111, 156 and 183, and to discuss how they can be implemented in practice in the context of Arab States with a view to promoting their ratification and improved implementation. In addition, information was provided on the situation of domestic workers in the region as it relates to the standard-setting discussion at the Conference. The workshop recommended that ILO action and follow-up should include activities to further build regional capacity in relation to international labour standards and gender equality, such as the possible development of a train the trainers' course based in Turin.

Asia

78. A tripartite seminar on freedom of association, civil liberties and the enforcement of labour laws in export processing zones (economic/free trade zones) was organized in the Philippines in April 2010 pursuant to the recommendations of a high-level ILO mission which had visited the country in September 2009. Further activities were held with the judiciary and labour officers in November 2010 and the military in December 2010.

Europe

79. A lecture on occupational safety and health, focusing on the three key instruments in this area (Convention No. 155, its 2002 Protocol and Convention No. 187) was given in the context of the Master's Programme in International Human Rights Law at Lund University, Sweden, in September 2009.

80. In March 2010, in the framework of the institutional capacity-building project of the Ministry of Labour and Social Policy of Bulgaria, the Office held a one-day training session on the implementation of Conventions Nos 87 and 98 in the country. This activity focused specifically on the right to strike in the civil service and the railway sector, the right to collective bargaining in the civil service and the settlement of disputes in the civil service.

(a) Action plan to achieve rapid and widespread ratification and effective implementation of the Maritime Labour Convention, 2006

81. The aim of the five-year plan of action adopted by the Governing Body in March 2007 is to achieve by 2011 the required number of ratifications for the Maritime Labour Convention, 2006 (MLC, 2006) to enter into force. The plan of action includes international, regional and national promotional activities and requires cooperation with sectoral experts and regional offices.

82. With respect to ratifications, the targets set by the plan of action are very likely to be met and even exceeded. Two conditions must be met for the entry into force of the MLC, 2006: ratification by at least 30 member States which must have a total share of at least 33 per cent of the world gross tonnage. With the ratifications of the Convention by Bosnia and Herzegovina on 18 January 2010, Bulgaria on 12 April 2010, Canada on 15 June 2010, Croatia on 12 February 2010, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines on 9 November 2010 and Spain on 4 February 2010,¹⁹ 11 countries are bound by the Convention and the condition relating to the world gross tonnage of ships has now been met. Moreover, the information available shows that a number of countries in various regions have completed the national processes that will allow ratification in the near future.

83. In the context of its activities to promote the MLC, 2006, the Office has, since the last session of the Committee of Experts, initiated and participated in the following activities:

¹⁹ Previous ratifications: Bahamas, Liberia, Marshall Islands, Norway and Panama.

- a subregional tripartite seminar for French-speaking States of West Africa (participating countries: Benin, Côte d’Ivoire, Guinea Bissau and Togo) was held in Benin (July 2010);
- a regional tripartite workshop for the promotion of the ratification and effective implementation of the MLC, 2006, was organized in Suva (Fiji) in October 2010 (participating countries: Fiji, Kiribati, Papua New Guinea, Samoa, Solomon Islands, Tuvalu and Vanuatu);
- a national tripartite seminar was held in Ukraine (July 2010);
- a second national tripartite seminar, following up on the 2009 national tripartite seminar, was held in Senegal (July 2010) to validate the legislative gap analysis and elaborate a plan of action for the ratification of the MLC, 2006;
- a tripartite discussion, following up on the 2009 national tripartite seminar, was held in the Philippines (June 2010) in conjunction with the International Maritime Organization Conference on the Standards of Training, Certification and Watchkeeping Convention (STCW);
- three follow-up missions on the prospects of rapid ratification and effective implementation of the MLC, 2006, in Antigua and Barbuda, Dominica and Saint Vincent and the Grenadines (July 2010). It should be noted that the mission to Saint Vincent and the Grenadines was successful in helping the country ratify the MLC, 2006, in November 2010.

84. Prior to these tripartite activities, legal gap analyses have been carried out for each country involved. This has made it possible to encourage tripartite dialogue, provide sustained technical advice, identify obstacles to the ratification of the MLC, 2006, and ultimately elaborate tripartite strategies to bridge legislative gaps so as to eventually achieve rapid ratification and effective implementation of the MLC, 2006.

85. In addition, noting that the MLC, 2006, is expected to come into force in the course of 2011, the Governing Body decided at its 306th Session to establish a Preparatory Tripartite MLC, 2006 Committee (“the Preparatory Committee”), modelled on the future “Special Tripartite Committee” to be established under Article XIII of the MLC, 2006, when it comes into force. The Preparatory Committee met for the first time in Geneva in September 2010. The purpose of the meeting was: (1) to exchange information regarding steps that Members have taken to implement the MLC, 2006, if they have ratified or to move towards ratification; (2) to identify any common issues (particularly any difficulties regarding interpretation and application to particular sectors encountered during preparations for the ratification and implementation of the MLC, 2006), and to exchange views and provide advice on possible solutions in order to assist Members in moving forward with the ratification and implementation process to bring the MLC, 2006, into force in 2011 or early 2012; and (3) to identify matters that would require urgent action by the Special Tripartite Committee once it has been established and provide advice on any preparatory work or other steps to be taken to enable it to begin functioning, including consideration of possible standing orders for the Committee, taking into account its various roles under the MLC, 2006.

86. Furthermore, three courses for the training of trainers and maritime inspectors on the application of the MLC, 2006, were carried out in February, June and September 2010 at the Turin Centre. In total, over 145 trainers and inspectors from flag State administrations, port States, recognized organizations and shipowners’ and seafarers’ organizations from 44 different countries have been trained. The DWT/CO-Port-of-Spain, together with the International Labour Standards Department, has organized a similar training course for inspectors who carry out flag State and port State control inspections in Jamaica. The course was held in collaboration with the Maritime Authority of Jamaica and the Caribbean Memorandum of Understanding on Port State Control (CMOU) and representatives of the 13 countries and territories covered by the Port-of-Spain Office were invited to send participants.

(b) Promotion of the ratification of the Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 (No. 188)

87. At its 96th Session (June 2007), the Conference adopted a resolution concerning promotion of the ratification of the Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 (No. 188). Convention No. 188 will come into force 12 months after the date on which the ratifications of ten Members, eight of which are coastal States, have been registered with the Director-General. To date, there has only been one ratification by Bosnia and Herzegovina, but the outlook in this regard is good and at its November 2010 session the Governing Body adopted an action plan for 2011–16 designed to improve the working conditions of fishers through the widespread ratification and the effective implementation of Convention No. 188. In addition, pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Conference in 2007, a tripartite meeting of experts was convened in February 2010 and adopted guidelines for port State control with a view to the implementation of the Convention.

88. In addition, since the beginning of the year, a number of activities have been organized to promote the ratification of this Convention. A subregional tripartite seminar for French-speaking States of West Africa (Benin, Côte d'Ivoire, Guinea-Bissau and Togo) was held in Benin in July 2010 to promote the ratification of the Convention. In Ecuador, the standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Lima conducted an activity to promote the Convention with the support of the ILO project for the sustainable development of the fishing sector. In particular, the seminar identified the elements of the Convention which could be taken into account in the new national regulation on employment contracts for fishers, which is currently being reformed. Moreover, following promotion initiatives undertaken in 2009 in Peru, two supplementary activities concerning Convention No. 188 were conducted, one for the legislative authorities and the other for employers' organizations. It should also be noted that, in September 2010, the standards specialist of DWT/CO–New Delhi organized a tripartite seminar in India to promote Convention No. 188 in collaboration with the Sectoral Activities Department (SECTOR).

89. Finally, SECTOR published a manual on improving conditions of life and work on fishing vessels to facilitate understanding of the provisions of the Convention by the competent national authorities, the representative employers' and workers organizations (in particular those of fishing vessel owners and fishers), as well as other interested parties.

(c) Promotion of the ratification of the Promotional Framework for Occupational Safety and Health Convention, 2006 (No. 187)

90. As a result of the discussion on the 2009 General Survey on occupational safety and health prepared by the Committee of Experts, the Conference Committee adopted a set of conclusions in 2009 inviting the ILO to adopt a plan of action to achieve widespread ratification and effective implementation of the three key OSH instruments (Convention No. 155, its 2002 Protocol and Convention No. 187). A plan of action covering the period 2010–16 was adopted by the Governing Body at its 307th Session (March 2010).

91. The objectives of the plan of action include: promotion and support for the development of a preventative safety and health culture and the ratification and implementation of key OSH instruments; reducing the implementation gap in respect of ratified Conventions; and improving OSH conditions in small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) and in the informal economy.

92. The availability of information on implementation gaps and a political will to take action in the area of OSH will be the criteria used to select countries for promotional activities, to assist parties to the three key instruments in improving their capacity to implement their undertakings effectively and to prioritize targeted action through technical assistance. The modern systems approach to OSH reflected in the relevant instruments will help governments and the social partners to work together to develop a national programme and strategy to continuously improve OSH infrastructure and conditions. The support to be provided will include, as appropriate, guidance material to develop on a step-by-step basis national OSH profiles, policies and programmes, and action plans to address targeted improvements in national OSH infrastructures and systems. Relevant issues and target countries will be identified in close consultation with the countries concerned, and a plan for assistance will be proposed and implemented on a tripartite basis in interested countries.

93. Under this plan of action, working with SECTOR, NORMES carried out a technical assistance mission to Chile in November 2010 at the request of the Ministry of Labour and Social Welfare. This mission was undertaken within the context of instructions regarding the review of occupational health and safety legislation issued by the President of the Republic following the accident which took place at the San José mine in August 2010. The assistance provided by the mission was mainly related to the Conventions targeted by the plan of action, as well as the Safety and Health in Mines Convention, 1995 (No. 176). On the basis of a preliminary study of the national legislation prepared by the Ministry of Labour, the mission helped to identify the shortcomings of the legislation in relation to the Conventions, as well as possible solutions to address these shortcomings. The mission worked closely with legal experts from the Ministries of Labour and Mines and met the social partners. On 15 December 2010, the President of Chile signed a bill ratifying Convention No. 187.

94. Having ratified Conventions Nos 155, 161 and 187 in February 2009, Niger requested the Office to provide technical assistance for the implementation of the technical provisions of these three Conventions. This assistance spanned four levels: strategic, operational, social partners and civil society. Five workshops were organized in December: a strategic workshop specifically focusing on the integration of the technical provisions of these three Conventions in the texts governing OSH; a workshop promoting the adoption of practical guidelines concerning OSH measures; a workshop providing training for members of the National Coordinating Committee on Occupational Safety and Health, the inter-union association and the NGO Préventeur Sans Frontière (PSF); a workshop on the development of a pilot project for the “Prevention-Productivity-International Labour Standards” process; and finally a workshop providing training to journalists belonging to the Réseau de Journalistes on the three Conventions ratified. These workshops provided an opportunity to present the technical provisions of the above Conventions to the participants and to adopt an implementation plan improving the prospects for OSH consolidation in Niger.

95. PRO 169 has continued to undertake a wide range of activities at different levels to promote the application of the principles of Convention No. 169 and other relevant ILO Conventions.

96. At the international level, PRO 169 provided technical contributions to the United Nations Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues, the Expert Mechanism on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples and the Inter-Agency Support Group on Indigenous Issues, among others.

97. At the regional level, various activities have been carried out in the context of the regional programme for Latin America with a view to building the capacity of governments, indigenous organizations and social partners to implement Convention No. 169, including through the adoption of appropriate measures in response to the comments made by the Committee of Experts. The ratification of Convention No. 169 was also promoted in Panama and Nicaragua.

98. At the national level, activities to promote the rights of indigenous peoples and improve their socio-economic situation are ongoing, especially in Cambodia (in connection with the application of the Land Law of 2001 and the Forest Law of 2002), Bangladesh, Cameroon, Namibia and Nepal.

99. Finally, PRO 169 has finalized a collection of comments by the ILO supervisory bodies on the application of relevant ILO Conventions, including Conventions Nos 29, 107, 111, 169 and 182, to address indigenous issues: Monitoring indigenous and tribal peoples' rights through ILO Conventions: A compilation of ILO supervisory bodies' comments 2009–10. The publication, available in English and Spanish, is being widely disseminated, including on the occasion of training seminars and capacity-building activities. PRO 169 also continues to collaborate with the ILO–IPEC to further develop strategies to combat child labour among indigenous peoples, and with the ILO Bureau for Gender Equality to document the discrimination faced by indigenous women in employment and occupation.

100. Several activities to promote the ratification of up-to-date Conventions were carried out by the standards specialists in the various external offices in 2010.

Africa

101. The standards specialist for the DWT/CO–Dakar and the PAMODEC project organized in Mali, on the occasion of the opening of the new employers' headquarters and at the request of the country's employers, a dinner debate on the role of international labour standards in business productivity (August 2010).

102. At the request of the Director of NORMES, the standards specialist and the statistics specialist from the DWT/CO–Dakar contacted the institutes of statistics of Burkina Faso, Benin, Cameroon, Mali and Senegal with a view to developing questionnaires to solicit information to improve knowledge of the situation and of the obstacles to the application of ILO Conventions and other aspects of decent work in the informal economies of these countries. A workshop was held in April 2010 involving representatives of these institutes and the specialists from the DWT/CO–Dakar, which allowed the various parties to improve the questionnaires and to agree on the survey methodology. The tools developed by these experts were sent to the technical units at headquarters for finalization. The launch of the survey itself is planned for 2011, provided that the necessary resources are available.

103. In the framework of the steps taken by the South African Government with a view to the repositioning of the Department of Labour and the labour inspectorate in particular as key players in advancing the Decent Work Agenda with the technical assistance of the ILO, officials from NORMES visited South Africa (Pretoria and Johannesburg) in August 2010 to provide expert advice on the possible implementation gaps in the national law and practice vis-à-vis the Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81), and the Labour Inspection (Agriculture) Convention, 1969 (No. 129). The team held detailed discussions on national law and practice with the staff of the labour inspectorate and discussed the matter of the possible ratification of Conventions Nos 81 and 129 with the Government and the social partners. The mission formulated the opinion that there is no significant obstacle precluding the ratification of Conventions Nos 81 and 129 by South Africa. The sufficiency of the South African legislation was observed as early as 2006 by the Committee of Experts in its General Survey on labour inspection.

Americas

104. The standards specialist of the DWT/CO–San José, in collaboration with the social dialogue project, participated in several meetings in May 2010 with the Ministry of Labour of Honduras and the representatives of employers and workers from the country with a view to promoting the ratification of the Tripartite Consultation (International Labour Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 144).

105. The standards specialist and the social security specialist of the San José Office also organized two workshops to promote the ratification of the Social Security (Minimum Standards) Convention, 1952 (No. 102), the first in May 2010 in Nicaragua for workers' representatives and the second in September 2010 in Honduras for the members of the Labour and Social Security Commission of the National Congress.

106. In an effort to promote ILO instruments and their use, even if not yet ratified in the country in question, in the review of legislation or in the establishment of policies and other administrative documents, the standards specialist of the DWT/CO in Port-of-Spain participated in the following meetings in Trinidad and Tobago:

- tripartite and stakeholders consultation on the amendment of the Maternity Protection Act, organized by the Ministry of Labour with a view to bringing the legislation into line with the Maternity Protection Convention, 2000 (No. 183), by extending the period of maternity leave from 13 to 14 weeks; and
- Workshop on an Occupational Safety and Health Policy for the Healthcare Sector, jointly organized by the Ministry of Health and the Pan-American Health Organization.

107. Officials from NORMES conducted a mission to Mexico and in August 2010 met the Secretary of Labour, the Under-Secretary of Labour and the Secretary of Labour's Chief of Staff. During the meeting, the following issues were addressed: progress with and possible changes to the draft amendment of the Federal Labour Act; the need for legal technical studies at the national level to study the possible ratification of the Minimum Age Convention, 1973 (No. 138), and the Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98); the signing of cooperation agreements with the judiciary and the Secretariat of Labour to provide information and training relating to international labour standards and the supervisory system of the ILO to judges and members of federal and local conciliation and arbitration councils; and the possibility of dealing, at the national level and with ILO assistance, with complaints concerning violations of trade union rights with a view to their settlement.

108. In August 2010, the International Forum on Social Rights was organized by the Supreme Labour Court of Brazil, with the support of the ILO. The activity was held further to a proposal by Mr Lelio Bentes Correa, Minister of the Supreme Labour Court and member of the Committee of Experts. A number of key figures and professors in the field of the law and economy of Brazil took part. The Committee members, Mr Mario Ackerman, Mr Halton Cheadle and Mr Abdul Koroma, also participated. The Forum devoted a substantial amount of presentation time to the issue of freedom of association and to the importance of the ratification of Convention No. 87, as well as to the application of the Conventions on forced labour (Nos 29 and 105) and the Termination of Employment Convention, 1982 (No. 158).

109. In addition, the standards specialist of the ILO Office in Brasilia supported or participated in a series of activities to promote international labour standards in Brazil, including:

- a presentation on the content and scope of Conventions Nos 87 and 98 and seminars organized in the State of Pará on the issue of freedom of association and collective bargaining involving, among others, representatives of the Single Confederation of Workers (CUT), Força Sindical, the General Union of Workers, the Solidarity Center of the American Federation of Labor–Congress of Industrial Organizations (AFL–CIO) and the Social Observatory Institute;
- a presentation on the content and scope of the new HIV and AIDS Recommendation, 2010 (No. 200), the Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, 1958 (No. 111), and the Termination of Employment Convention, 1982 (No. 158), in meetings with the Inter-Union Department of Statistics and Socio-economic Studies and the Trade Union Confederation of the Americas (TUCA);
- a presentation on the content and scope of the Conventions on migrant workers (Nos 97 and 143) at a seminar entitled “Life and decent work for immigrant workers in Paraguay and Brazil”;
- participation in the national workshop on domestic work and the international seminar on domestic work, at which discussions were held on the Workers with Family Responsibilities Convention, 1981 (No. 156), which the Brazilian Government has submitted to Congress for possible ratification;
- the translation and dissemination of the contents of Conventions Nos 138, 182 and 169 among the indigenous peoples of the Dourados region and the presentation of Convention No. 169 at a seminar entitled “The Terreiro people and Convention No. 169”, held in Salvador de Bahia, in order to disseminate the Convention among the Terreiro people, who are the descendants of slaves; and
- in the context of the final regional meeting on the project “Strengthening continental trade union action for the prevention and elimination of child domestic labour”, with the participation of representatives of the TUCA-affiliated trade union confederations of Brazil, Costa Rica, Haiti, Nicaragua, Paraguay and the Dominican Republic, the standards specialist gave a presentation on possible points for discussion at the Conference in 2010 and 2011 and provided information on the content and scope of the Worst Forms of Child Labour Convention, 1999 (No. 182).

Specific activities undertaken in collaboration with other international organizations concerning international labour standards

A. United Nations system

110. International labour standards and the provisions of the United Nations human rights treaties related to them are complementary and mutually reinforcing. Close cooperation between the ILO and the United Nations in relation to its human rights treaties is therefore an important strategy to enhance the influence of ILO standards and to ensure consistency and coherence within the United Nations system with regard to human rights at work.

Cooperation with United Nations human rights treaty bodies

111. The Office has pursued the activities undertaken with the UN human rights bodies responsible for supervising the application of the following instruments:

- the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights;
- the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights;
- the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women;
- the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination;
- the Convention on the Rights of the Child;
- the International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of Migrant Workers and Members of their Families;
- the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.

112. NORMES regularly submits reports to the different treaty bodies containing standards-related information regarding the countries examined by them. These ILO reports include information on the ratification of ILO Conventions relevant to the provisions of the respective United Nations human rights treaties, summaries of the findings and recommendations of the ILO supervisory bodies and information on ILO technical assistance, as appropriate. In addition, Office representatives participate in the sessions of the treaty bodies and provide oral advice and information on specific countries or particular subjects. The Office also contributes to the general observations made by these supervisory bodies concerning issues that come within the ILO's remit.

113. Following the adoption of the Optional Protocol to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights by the General Assembly of the United Nations in 2008, the West Africa Regional Office of the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR) contacted the ILO Office in Dakar to promote the ratification of this new international complaints mechanism concerning the violation of the economic, social and cultural rights set out in the Covenant. Considering this cooperation to be an opportunity to promote its own system of supervising the application of international labour standards, the Office provided financial and technical support for a subregional (Burkina Faso, Cape Verde, Mali and Senegal) workshop in Dakar in May 2010. The aim of the workshop was to develop knowledge of the justiciability of economic, social and cultural rights and to promote the ratification of the Optional Protocol by the actors concerned (both state and non-state).

Cooperation with the Human Rights Council

114. The Office has continued to promote international labour standards in the context of the United Nations Human Rights Council. With respect to the Universal Periodic Review, the Office regularly draws the attention of the United Nations secretariat to the available reports of the ILO supervisory bodies. The documentation prepared by the United Nations secretariat as a basis for the Universal Periodic Review includes information on the ratification of fundamental ILO Conventions by the country under review, as well as references to the comments of the Committee of Experts. The Office also contributes to the work of the other mechanisms and mandates set up by the Council, including the Expert Mechanism on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, and the work of Special Rapporteurs. In particular, it should be noted that the Office has continued to collaborate closely with the Special Rapporteur on contemporary forms of slavery, particularly in the preparation of her missions to Brazil and Mauritania.

Cooperation with other United Nations bodies and entities

115. Within the United Nations Development Group (UNDG), the Office has continued its efforts to ensure that international labour standards are taken into account in the context of the human rights-based approach to development. In this regard, the ILO was actively involved in the establishment of the UNDG Mechanism on Human Rights Mainstreaming (UNDG–HRM), which was endorsed by the UNDG in November 2009. The main focuses of the UNDG–HRM are: promoting a coordinated and coherent UN system-wide approach towards the integration of human rights principles and international standards into UN operational activities for development; providing coherent and coordinated support to resident coordinators and UN Country Teams in mainstreaming human rights; developing a coherent UN system-wide approach through cooperation and collaboration among UN agencies to provide support for the strengthening of national human rights protection systems at the request of governments; and contributing to the integration of human rights issues in the overall UNDG advocacy on development agenda and global issues.

116. Furthermore, a workshop on child labour in fisheries and aquaculture, organized by the FAO in cooperation with the ILO, was held in Rome in April 2010. There were 35 participants. The ILO was invited to send participants from the Office and from employers' and workers' organizations. The first workshop to specifically address child labour issues in fisheries and aquaculture sought to draw on the FAO's considerable experience in the fisheries sector and the ILO's extensive knowledge and standards concerning child labour. The main objective of the workshop was to identify key elements of a joint FAO/ILO strategy to address child labour in fisheries and aquaculture. This called for the identification of the main issues and the roles and work of the FAO, ILO and others; an exchange by the participants of knowledge and experiences of child labour in fisheries and aquaculture; recognition of the lessons learned; and identification of the challenges ahead. The workshop agreed on a set of recommendations providing advice and defining actions to be taken by governments, international organizations, fishers' organizations, the fishing industry and other stakeholders.

117. It should also be noted that the DWT/CO–Lima, through IPEC, and in collaboration with eight other international institutions including the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) and the United Nations Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues, organized a major meeting on the theme of child labour among indigenous peoples. The meeting, held in March in Cartagena de Indias (Colombia) with the participation of tripartite representatives and representatives of organizations of indigenous peoples from across Latin America, highlighted the need to apply jointly and in a coordinated way the content of ILO Conventions Nos 138, 182 and 169, and to give indigenous peoples and their representative organizations a greater role to play in the campaign against child labour.

B. Council of Europe

118. NORMES continues to work with the competent services of the Council of Europe regarding the monitoring of the application of the European Code of Social Security and the European Social Charter. In the light of the monitoring procedure established by the European Code of Social Security, and the arrangements concluded between the Council of Europe and the ILO, each year the Committee of Experts examines the reports submitted on the application of the Code by the States parties thereto.²⁰ Furthermore, in accordance with Article 26 of the European Social Charter, a representative of NORMES participates in an advisory capacity in the sessions of the European Committee of Social Rights, which is responsible for supervising the application of the Charter and the revised Charter.

²⁰ In this regard, see paras 112 and 113 of the General Report of the Committee of Experts.

Appendix I. Information on ratifications, denunciations and declarations of application

Ratifications

In the course of 2010, 62 ratifications of international labour Conventions and three ratifications of a Protocol were registered, bringing the total number of ratifications of Conventions as on 31 December 2010 to 7,714.

Denunciations resulting from the ratification of a more recent Convention in the same subject area

Following the ratification of the Maternity Protection Convention, 2000 (No. 183), by Bosnia and Herzegovina, the Maternity Protection Convention (Revised), 1952 (No. 103), was automatically denounced.

Following the ratification of the Seafarers' Identity Documents Convention (Revised), 2003 (No. 185), by Brazil, the Seafarers' Identity Documents Convention, 1958 (No. 108), was automatically denounced.

Following the ratification of the Minimum Age Convention, 1973 (No. 138), by Gabon, the Minimum Age (Industry) Convention, 1919 (No. 5), the Minimum Age (Agriculture) Convention, 1921 (No. 10), and the Minimum Age (Non-Industrial Employment) Convention, 1932 (No. 33), were automatically denounced.

Following the ratification of the Seafarers' Identity Documents Convention (Revised), 2003 (No. 185), by the Russian Federation, Convention No. 108 was automatically denounced.

Following the ratification of the Maternity Protection Convention, 2000 (No. 183) by Slovenia, Convention No. 103 was automatically denounced.

Denunciation

The Director-General registered, on 26 November 2010, the denunciation by the Netherlands of the declaration concerning the application of the Workmen's Compensation (Agriculture) Convention, 1921 (No. 12), to Aruba.

The Director-General registered, on 6 December 2010, the denunciation by the Netherlands of the declaration concerning the application of the Right of Association (Agriculture) Convention, 1921 (No. 11), to Aruba.

The Director-General registered, on 1 March 2010, the denunciation by Slovenia of the Maternity Protection Convention, 1919 (No. 3).

Part III. Country profiles

The following country profiles provide information on the ratification and application of Conventions and on the submission of instruments adopted by the Conference to the competent authorities in a table format by country. *

The ratifications section indicates which fundamental Conventions, priority Conventions, and other Conventions a country has ratified as of 31 December 2010. It does not list Conventions which have been denounced or which are not in force.

The section on reports requested indicates how many reports were requested from the country in 2010 and how many were received. Under articles 22 and 35 of the ILO Constitution, member States are required to submit reports at regular intervals on the application of Conventions which they have ratified or declared applicable to their non-metropolitan territories. If a report requested was a first detailed report (which is required in the case of a newly ratified Convention), the number of the Convention appears in parentheses.

The section on observations made by employers' and workers' organizations indicates for which Conventions comments were received by such organizations on reports submitted to them by governments. Article 23 of the Constitution requires each member State to communicate to the representative employers' and workers' organizations copies of the information and reports communicated under articles 19 and 22.

The section concerning comments of the Committee of Experts indicates which comments the Committee made during its session in 2010. It lists either "observations", which are published in the report of the Committee of Experts, or "direct requests", which are communicated directly to the governments concerned and accessible at a later stage through the APPLIS database on the application of international labour standards. A new section has been included as of 2009 on cases discussed before the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards since 1985, as well as on cases active before the Committee on Freedom of Association. The list does not include comments made by the Committee in previous sessions for which action by governments is still requested.

The section on submissions indicates the sessions of the International Labour Conference of which adopted instruments have, or have not, been submitted by governments to the authority or authorities competent to consider further action, as required under article 19 of the Constitution. In 1947, at its 103rd Session, the Governing Body of the ILO decided that, as from the coming into force of the constitutional amendment of 1946, the mandate of the CEACR would be extended to matters related to the constitutional obligation of submission to competent authorities under article 19 of the ILO Constitution. The CEACR started monitoring compliance with this constitutional provision as of 1948, with the instruments adopted by the International Labour Conference at its 31st Session. The number of the Conventions,

* Relevant complementary information from the country profiles of the NATLEX database is available at: www.ilo.org/dyn/natlex/country_profiles.home.

Recommendations or Protocols is given in parentheses, preceded by the letter “C”, “R”, or “P” as the case may be, when only some of the texts adopted at any one session have been submitted. When the ratification of a Convention was registered, that Convention and the corresponding Recommendation are considered as submitted.
