Reader's note

The Information document on ratifications and standards-related activities (Report III (Part 2)) provides an overview of developments in international labour standards during 2012. It supplements the information contained in the report of the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations (Report III) (Part 1A). Part I provides general information on recent developments concerning international labour standards, constitutional and other procedures in relation to the supervision of standards, and technical assistance in the field of standards. Part II provides information on the ratification of individual Conventions and Protocols in table format. Part III contains “country profiles” which bring together information on the ratification and application of Conventions and on the submission of instruments adopted by the International Labour Conference to the competent authorities in a table format by country.

Part I. General information on international labour standards

Standards policy

A. Improvements to standards-related activities

1. Discussions on the standards strategy in the Governing Body

1. At its 316th Session (November 2012), a progress report on the implementation of the interim plan of action for the standards strategy was submitted for information only to the Governing Body. The standards strategy comprises four components: (i) developing, keeping up to date and promoting international labour standards (ILS) (standards policy); (ii) strengthening the supervisory system and enhancing its impact; (iii) improving the impact of the standards system through technical assistance and cooperation; and (iv) enhancing the visibility of the standards system (information and communication). The report gave an update on progress made since November 2011 in the implementation of the action plans on the Maritime Labour Convention, 2006 (MLC, 2006); the occupational safety and health instruments; the work in fishing instruments; and, in relation to the components of the standards strategy on the supervisory system, technical cooperation and information and communication. Another report was submitted to the Governing Body for information only on developments relating to the ratification, promotion and implementation of the governance Conventions.

2. The Governing Body also discussed for the second time the establishment and implementation of a standards review mechanism (SRM). The aim of the paper before the Governing Body was to analyse possible elements for incorporation in the establishment and implementation of the SRM within the context of both the ILO Declaration on Social Justice for a Fair Globalization and the implementation of the first component of the ILO standards strategy, namely standards policy. The purpose of the SRM is to ensure that the ILO has a clearly defined, up-to-date body of ILS in order to reinvigorate and enhance the visibility and impact of ILO standards. The Governing Body agreed to the establishment of the SRM and invited further tripartite consultations on the modalities thereof. At its 313th Session (March 2012), the Governing Body took note of the need to continue the consultations on the matter.

2. Enhanced access to the standards system and broader visibility

3. In February 2012, the International Labour Standards Department (NORMES) successfully launched a new information system, the NORMLEX database, which brings together information on ILS (such as ratification information, reporting requirements, comments of the ILO's supervisory bodies, etc.), as well as national labour and social security laws. Since going live, NORMLEX has proved to be very popular among end-users, enjoying more than 100,000 page views each of the first few months, and has received extremely positive feedback from users, 80 per cent of whom are returning visitors. This new information system is part of the ILO's overall knowledge strategy, which will offer a systematic approach to gathering, sharing and analysing information at the country level on laws and standards, on statistics and on policies and their effectiveness. This will enable collection and timely aggregation of information across the four strategic objectives of the ILO. NORMLEX, which is one of the three pillars of this central gateway and the only one to be functional at this point, already enables the ILO to achieve greater visibility and impact via a single platform and consolidation of all legal information.

4. The next phase of the project is the implementation of an online reporting system. In order to move forward with the system, five member States volunteered to participate in the pilot phase and have used the system for the 2012 reporting exercise. Overall, the feedback from the users was positive and has enabled the Office to better gauge what future enhancements to the system are necessary. The online reporting system is expected to be extended to more member States for the 2013 reporting exercise.

3. Instrument of Amendment to the ILO Constitution of 1997

5. The 1997 Instrument of Amendment to the ILO Constitution, the purpose of which is to enable the International Labour Conference (ILC) to abrogate Conventions that have become obsolete, will enter into force once it has been ratified or accepted by two-thirds of the Members of the Organization (124/185). A campaign for ratification has been launched with a view to promoting the entry into force of this Instrument of Amendment, which has to date received 122 ratifications or acceptances. The last ratification, that of South Sudan, was registered on 30 November 2012.¹

B. New standard considered by the International Labour Conference at its 101st Session (June 2012)

Social protection floors

6. It will be recalled that at its 311th Session (June 2011), the Governing Body decided to place a standard-setting item on the agenda of the 101st Session (2012) of the ILC on social protection (social security), with a view to the elaboration of an autonomous Recommendation on the social protection floor (single discussion procedure).² In June 2012, the ILC adopted nearly unanimously the Social Protection Floors Recommendation, 2012 (No. 202). Reaffirming that social security is a human right and a social and economic necessity, the Social Protection Floors Recommendation aims at assisting member States in covering the unprotected, the poor and the most vulnerable, including workers in the informal economy and their families.

7. To this end, the Recommendation provides guidance to countries: (i) in establishing and maintaining national social protection floors as a fundamental element of national social security systems; and (ii) in implementing their floors within strategies for the extension of social security that progressively ensure higher levels of social security to as many people as possible, guided by ILO social security standards. Recognizing the overall and primary responsibility of the State, the Recommendation sets out the principles to be followed by member States for the purpose of its implementation including, inter alia: universality of protection, based on social solidarity; entitlements to benefits prescribed by national law; diversity of methods and approaches; progressive realization; adequacy and predictability of benefits; protection of rights and dignity of beneficiaries; non-discrimination, gender equality and responsiveness to special needs; financial, fiscal and economic sustainability; transparent, accountable and sound financial management and administration; as well as tripartite participation and consultation with representatives of persons concerned.

8. In order to ensure effective access to essential health care and basic income security throughout the life cycle, national social protection floors should comprise at least the following social security guarantees, as defined at the national level: (i) access to essential health care, including maternity care; (ii) basic income security for children, providing access to nutrition, education, care and any other necessary goods and services; (iii) basic income security for persons of active age who are unable to earn sufficient income, in particular in cases of sickness, unemployment, maternity and disability; and (iv) basic income security for older persons. Such guarantees should be provided to all residents and all children, as defined in national laws and regulations, and subject to existing international obligations. They should be provided through the most effective and efficient combination of benefits and schemes in the national context.

9. In addition, the Recommendation sets out that countries should also formulate and implement national social security extension strategies, based on national consultations through effective social dialogue and social participation. These should prioritize the establishment and maintenance of social protection floors, and seek to provide higher levels of protection to as many people as possible, reflecting the economic and fiscal capacities of Members, and as soon as possible. When building comprehensive social security systems, countries should aim to achieve the range and levels of benefits set out in the Social Security (Minimum Standards) Convention, 1952 (No. 102), or in other ILO social security Conventions and Recommendations setting out more advanced standards.

C. Standards-related items placed on the agenda of the Conference (2013 and 2014)

10. The three items on the agenda for the 102nd Session (2013) of the ILC are:

- ❑ a recurrent discussion on the strategic objective of social dialogue;
- ❑ a general discussion on green jobs, decent work and sustainable development; and
- ❑ a general discussion on employment and social protection in the new demographic context.

11. In the context of the seven-year cycle for recurrent discussions adopted in 2009, the Governing Body decided to place the last three recurrent discussions of the cycle on the agenda of the Conference, namely a recurrent discussion on the strategic objective of employment in 2014, a recurrent discussion on social protection (labour protection) in 2015 and a recurrent discussion on fundamental principles and rights at work in 2016. The Governing Body is also examining other proposals for the 103rd Session of the ILC (2014) and beyond, including a standard-setting proposal with a view to supplement the ILO forced labour Conventions in the light of the recurrent discussion on fundamental principles and rights at work of the Conference in June 2012.

Constitutional and other procedures

A. Measures taken under article 33 of the ILO Constitution: The question of the observance by Myanmar of the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29)

12. Following a complaint filed pursuant to article 26 of the Constitution, alleging the non-observance by Myanmar of the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29), the Governing Body decided to establish a Commission of Inquiry. The Commission concluded, in its report published in 1998, that the obligation under Article 1, paragraph 1, of the Convention to suppress the use of forced or compulsory labour was being violated in Myanmar both in national legislation and in practice in a widespread and systematic manner, and it made a series of recommendations.

13. As the Government failed to take the necessary steps to implement the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry, the ILC adopted at its 87th Session (June 1999) a resolution on the widespread use of forced labour, according to which Myanmar should cease to benefit from any technical cooperation or assistance from the ILO, except for the purpose of direct assistance to implement immediately the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry. The following year, the ILC adopted a new resolution, under article 33 of the Constitution, inviting the Organization's constituents to review their relations with Myanmar and take appropriate measures to ensure that Myanmar cannot take advantage of such relations to perpetuate or extend the system of forced or compulsory labour referred to by the Commission of Inquiry.

14. In May 2001, the Government agreed to receive a high-level team appointed to assess, with full independence and freedom of movement, the realities of the forced labour situation and also accepted the appointment of an ILO Liaison Officer in Myanmar, whose role covers all activities relevant to ensuring the prompt and effective elimination of forced labour. The post of Liaison Officer has been in existence since October 2002.

15. In May 2003, the Government and the ILO agreed on a joint plan of action on the elimination of forced labour practices in Myanmar, which could not be implemented in view of events that occurred at the national level. Upon request by the Governing Body (November 2004), a very high-level mission visited the country in February 2005. The mission considered that the conditions were not conducive to the effective discharge of its mandate and submitted to the authorities, before leaving the country, an aide-memoire outlining the measures that should be taken to improve the situation. In October 2005, the authorities indicated that Myanmar did not wish to engage in any debate on the measures recommended by the very high-level mission or on the joint plan of action in so far as the only acceptable mechanism for dealing with complaints of forced labour was the actual presence of the ILO in the country. In November 2005, many members of the Governing Body expressed their deep concern about the deteriorating situation in Myanmar and a number of them asked for the ILC to review the measures adopted, under article 33 of the Constitution, in the ILC resolution of 2000.

16. Accordingly, the ILC (June 2006) reviewed at its 95th Session possible further action by the ILO in accordance with its Constitution in order: (i) to effectively secure Myanmar's compliance with the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry; and (ii) to ensure that no action is taken against complainants or their representatives. The ILC examined various options aimed at ensuring compliance with the Convention, including the possibility of the ILO seeking an advisory opinion from the International Court of Justice.

17. On 26 February 2007, the ILO and the Government of Myanmar signed a Supplementary Understanding to establish a complaints mechanism, aimed at giving victims of forced labour the opportunity to channel their complaints through the services of the Liaison Officer to the competent authorities with a view to seeking redress. Both the Governing Body and the ILC, while welcoming the implementation of this mechanism, subsequently emphasized that it was vital to ensure that the mechanism functioned efficiently and that the Liaison Officer had the necessary staff to discharge adequately the responsibilities that the position entailed.

18. In November 2007, the Governing Body called on the Government to ensure: that the mechanism provided by the Supplementary Understanding remains fully functional at the national level; that forced labour victims are able to access the complaints mechanism easily; and that there are no further detentions or acts of harassment against complainants, facilitators or others.

19. In March and November 2009, the Governing Body acknowledged a certain degree of cooperation from the Government to make the complaints mechanism function. However, it called upon the Government to strengthen the capacity of the ILO so that complaints could be dealt with throughout the country and to immediately release all persons currently detained because of their association with the complaints mechanism. In June 2010, the ILC considered that the steps taken by the Government were totally inadequate and again emphasized the need for the Government to work proactively towards the full implementation of the 1998 recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry.

20. In November 2010, the Governing Body called on the new Parliament to proceed without delay to bring the legislation into line with the Convention and underlined the need to move towards sustaining an environment free from harassment or fear of retribution. The Governing Body welcomed the release of Daw Aung San Suu Kyi and urged that other persons associated with the submission of complaints would be similarly given their liberty as soon as possible.

21. In November 2011, the Governing Body welcomed the positive developments in Myanmar, in particular the fact that legislation, prohibiting the use of forced labour in all its forms and repealing both the Towns and Villages Acts of 1907, was before Parliament – but remained concerned that serious problems in the use of forced labour persisted. It urged the Government to adopt the legislation and again stressed the critical importance of a comprehensive proactive approach encompassing not only the continuation of awareness-raising activities and the management of the complaints mechanism but also the effective prosecution of forced labour perpetrators, military and civilians, under the Penal Code.

22. In March 2012, the Governing Body welcomed the following developments in Myanmar: adoption of the Ward or Village Tract Administration Act in February 2012, which contains a provision punishing the exaction of forced labour as a penal offence; repeal of the Village Act and the Towns Acts of 1907, and prosecution of some offenders; declaration of intent by the Government to develop a joint strategy with the ILO for the full elimination of all forms of forced labour by 2015; further awareness-raising activities for the civilian and military authorities; and further releases of labour activists from detention. While welcoming these important developments which represent major steps towards meeting the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry, the Governing Body observed that the strict application of the new law and the prosecution and punishment of offenders are critical to achieving this objective.

23. Upon request by the Governing Body, a high-level tripartite mission visited Myanmar in May 2012, which concluded that there is sufficient political will and technical need in Myanmar to justify a substantially increased and diversified engagement by the ILO. It also concluded that the legislative changes introduced by the new Government appear to respond appropriately to the Commission of Inquiry's first recommendation on amending the legislation. The mission furthermore emphasized the need for major and sustained effort of awareness raising and the importance of an independent and impartial judiciary trained on issues of forced labour to ensure full implementation of the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry.

24. On the basis of the report of the high-level tripartite mission, the 101st Session of the ILC (June 2012) reviewed the measures adopted by the ILC in 1999 and 2000 to secure compliance by Myanmar with the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry. The ILC adopted a resolution which effectively removed the restrictions on ILO cooperation with the Government of Myanmar that had been set by the ILC resolution in 1999. Under the terms of this resolution, the ILC decided, in particular: (i) to allow the Government of Myanmar once again to participate in ILO meetings, symposia and seminars in the same way as any other Member, with social partners from Myanmar receiving the same treatment; (ii) to suspend for one year the recommendation contained in paragraph 1(b) of the 2000 resolution, which called on the Organization's constituents to review their relations with Myanmar and take appropriate measures to ensure that these relations could not be taken advantage of to perpetuate or extend the system of forced labour referred to by the Commission of Inquiry; and (iii) to facilitate the enlarged scope of the activities of the International Labour Office in Myanmar through appropriate arrangements. Finally, the ILC decided that in light of the information available to it regarding the elimination of forced labour in Myanmar, the recommendations contained in the resolution should be reviewed again in 2013.

25. In November 2012, the Governing Body observed that there was a significant degree of commitment by all parties to the implementation of the action plan for the elimination of forced labour. The Governing Body noted in particular, a range of measures undertaken by the Government to implement the action plan for the elimination of forced labour, including coordination and inter-ministry cooperation; the beginning of the work on the implementation of both the ILO action plan on under-age military recruitment; release of under-age recruits; preparation of a forced labour brochure in seven languages distributed since June 2012 through various official channels and reproduced in full in Myanmar language newspapers and journals and broadcasted over national radio and television; and further awareness-raising activities for the civilian and military authorities. The Governing Body noted that, although there were continuing indications that the practice of using forced labour is being reduced, complaints continue to be received under the mechanism set up by the 2007 Supplementary Understanding.

B. Representations submitted under article 24 of the ILO Constitution

26. Representations may be filed under article 24 of the Constitution by industrial associations of employers or workers, alleging that a member State that has ratified a Convention has failed to secure within its jurisdiction the effective observance of that Convention. Once declared receivable, representations are examined by a tripartite committee established by the Governing Body. Their findings are followed up by the Committee of Experts. The table below indicates developments concerning representations in 2012.

Country	Conventions	Complainant organization	Status of the representation
Chile	Old-Age Insurance (Industry, etc.) Convention, 1933 (No. 35), and Invalidity Insurance (Industry, etc.) Convention, 1933 (No. 37)	College of Teachers of Chile AG	Pending: Representation declared receivable by the Governing Body at its 308th Session (June 2010).

C. Complaints submitted under article 26 of the ILO Constitution

27. Complaints may be filed under article 26 of the Constitution alleging that a member State that has ratified a Convention is not securing its effective observance. Complaints may be filed by another member State that has ratified the same Convention. The Governing Body may initiate the procedure either of its own motion or upon receipt of a complaint from a delegate to the ILC. The Governing Body may appoint a Commission of Inquiry to consider the complaint. Findings of the Commission of Inquiry are followed up by the Committee of Experts or the Committee on Freedom of Association.

Bahrain

28. At the 100th Session of the ILC in June 2011, a number of Workers' delegates filed a complaint under article 26 of the ILO Constitution against the Government of Bahrain for violations of the Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, 1958 (No. 111). In November 2011, on the recommendation of its Officers, the Governing Body invited the Director-General to provide any requested legal guidance or support to the Government of Bahrain or the Worker or Employer representatives in this process, and to report on the situation to the Governing Body at its March 2012 session, and took note that on this basis the Officers had deferred all consideration of the complaint until the next session of the Governing Body. On 11 March 2012, a tripartite agreement concerning the issues raised in the framework of the complaint was reached in the course of an ILO mission to the country. At its March 2012 session, the Governing Body suspended the consideration of the complaint. A mission was undertaken in October 2012 with a view to the preparation of a report for the Officers of the Governing Body. At its 316th Session (November 2012), the Governing Body requested the Government to provide a report on the effective implementation of the tripartite agreement and to report to the Governing Body at its next session (March 2013) on the progress made to implement fully its provisions. The Governing Body also requested the Office to take the necessary measures to provide all the technical assistance necessary to the tripartite constituents, if requested by the Government or the organizations that signed the agreement, the General Federation of Bahrain Trade Unions (GFBTU) or the Bahrain Chamber of Commerce and Industry (BCCI), to ensure the effective implementation of the tripartite agreement, to take measures to promote a climate of genuine industrial relations, and to report to the Governing Body at its next session on the progress made. On that basis, the Governing Body deferred its decision on the complaint to its 317th Session (March 2013).³

Belarus

29. It will be recalled that at its 288th Session (November 2003), the Governing Body established a Commission of Inquiry to examine the observance by the Government of Belarus of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), and the Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98). The Governing Body noted the report of the Commission of Inquiry in November 2004 and entrusted the Committee on Freedom of Association with the responsibility of following up on the implementation of the Commission's recommendations and the Committee of Experts with the continued examination of the legislative aspects involved within the framework of its periodic review of these Conventions. The Committee on Freedom of Association once again examined this case at its meeting in November 2012 (366th Report). The Governing Body approved the Committee's recommendations and asked to review the matters once again at its March 2013 meeting. In June 2012, the Committee on the Application of Standards had not been able to discuss individual cases due to its failure to agree on a final list. Being one of the countries which had been included on the preliminary list of possible cases to be examined at the Conference, the Government of Belarus was requested by the

³ GB.316/INS/15/1(Rev.), para. 17.

Conference to submit a report on the application of Convention No. 87 containing answers to the issues raised in the observation adopted by the Committee of Experts in 2011. The latest developments have been examined by the CEACR in an observation adopted at its November–December 2012 session.

Guatemala

30. At the 101st Session of the ILC (June 2012), ten Workers' delegates filed a complaint under article 26 of the ILO Constitution against the Government of Guatemala for non-observance of Convention No. 87. At its November 2012 session, the Governing Body: (a) requested that the Director-General transmit the complaint to the Government; (b) invited the Office to obtain relevant information from the Government and employers' and workers' organizations of Guatemala, including the Memorandum of Understanding signed on 10 October 2012 and the report of the high-level mission conducted in May 2011, and to report to the Governing Body at its 317th Session (March 2013); and (c) placed this issue on the agenda of its 317th Session in order to decide whether further action on the complaint is required in the light of the information provided by the Office in connection with paragraph (b).

Myanmar

31. At the 99th Session (2010) of the ILC, a number of Workers' delegates presented a complaint under article 26 of the ILO Constitution against the Government of Myanmar for persistent and grave violations of Convention No. 87. The Governing Body declared the complaint receivable at its November 2010 session and requested the Government to provide its observations thereon for its consideration. Following its review of the resolutions relating to the application of Convention No. 29 in Myanmar, the ILC adopted a new resolution which also raised the issue of freedom of association. In June 2012, a new post was filled in the Liaison Office to be responsible for assistance to all constituents in the area of freedom of association. In the meantime, leaders of the Federation of Trade Unions of Burma (FTUB) returned to the country. At its November 2012 session, the Governing Body decided: (a) to take no further action under article 26; (b) to request the International Labour Office, in light of the guidance given under this agenda item, to continue its close cooperation with the Government to bring about the application of Convention No. 87.

Zimbabwe

32. It will be recalled that at its 303rd Session (November 2008), the Governing Body established a Commission of Inquiry to examine the observance by the Government of Zimbabwe of Conventions Nos 87 and 98. The Governing Body noted the report of the Commission of Inquiry in March 2010. At the same session, the Governing Body supported the Commission's proposal that the ILO pursue its assistance to the Government and social partners in relation to the implementation of the Commission's recommendations.

33. At its May–June 2012 meeting, the Committee on Freedom of Association examined a complaint submitted by the Zimbabwe Congress of Trade Unions (ZCTU) alleging that it was prevented from holding International Women's Day and International Labour Day processions in 2011 and 2012 (see Case No. 2862). It should be recalled that in its report, the Commission of Inquiry dealt with similar claims when it examined alleged systematic infringements of freedom of assembly and demonstration in relation to the implementation of the Public Order and Security Act (POSA). Referring to the findings and conclusions of the Commission of Inquiry, the Committee expected that the Government would intensify its efforts in ensuring that the POSA was not used to infringe upon legitimate trade union rights and requested the Government to provide information on all concrete measures aimed at ensuring that trade unions could organize freely peaceful demonstrations and that permissions to hold processions and demonstrations were not arbitrarily refused. The Committee urged the Government to carry out a full review of the application of the POSA in practice together with the social partners and requested the Government to inform it of the outcome. Furthermore, the Committee expected that clear lines of conduct for the police and security forces would be elaborated and promulgated without delay and requested the Government to keep it informed in this respect. Finally, the Committee firmly expected that the Government would take the necessary steps without delay to ensure that training on human and trade union rights for the police and security forces was intensified.

34. In June 2012, as mentioned earlier, the Committee on the Application of Standards had not been able to discuss individual cases. Being one of the countries included on the preliminary list of possible cases to be examined at the Conference, the Government of Zimbabwe was requested to submit a report on the application of Convention No. 87 containing answers to the issues raised in the observation adopted by the Committee of Experts in 2011. The latest developments have been examined by the CEACR in an observation adopted at its November–December 2012 session.

35. During the December 2011–August 2012 period, the following activities took place – with ILO support – to assist the Government of Zimbabwe in implementing the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry: (i) in collaboration with the International Training Centre (ITC) in Turin, a training course on ILS and judicial independence and ethics for labour court judges, conciliators, arbitrators and lawyers was organized in December 2011; (ii) capacity-building workshops for the Ministry of Labour conciliators and arbitrators on conciliation and mediation of labour disputes; (iii) participation of an officer of the Ministry of Labour and Social Services in a course on ILS; (iv) participation of one journalist in a course “Communicating Labour Rights” for media professionals; and (v) in August 2012, training course on ILS for the police and other law enforcement agencies and state actors.

D. Special procedure concerning freedom of association

36. At its last meetings (March, May–June and November 2012), the Committee on Freedom of Association had before it more than 231 cases concerning 64 countries from all parts of the world, for which it presented interim or final conclusions, or for which the examination was adjourned pending the arrival of information from governments (363rd, 364th, 365th and 366th Reports). Many of these cases have been before the Committee on Freedom of Association on more than one occasion. Moreover, more than 87 new cases have been submitted to it since the last meeting of the Committee of Experts. The Committee on Freedom of Association has drawn the attention of the Committee of Experts to the legislative aspects of Cases Nos 2611 (Romania), 2698 (Australia), 2723 (Fiji), 2727 (Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela), 2737 and 2754 (Indonesia), 2888 (Poland) and 2789 and 2892 (Turkey).

Technical assistance and cooperation

37. The Governing Body, during its 310th Session, allocated funds of the Special Programme Account (SPA) for a limited duration to support the strengthening of programmes which will result in the better application of ILS. These time-bound assistance activities will be carried out in 2012 and 2013 and are comprised of two elements: (i) reporting assistance to countries, i.e. a reporting “safety net” that will enable these countries to catch up on their backlog and to better discharge their reporting obligations in the future; and (ii) technical assistance to countries so as to reduce the implementation gap with respect to specific ratified Conventions.

38. Under this programme, some 34 priority countries⁴ have been identified (jointly with the field offices) on the basis of the problems encountered in reporting and implementation, and a strategy has been developed to act on several fronts, with the aim of achieving closer compliance with reporting obligations and/or ratified Conventions. In each country, selected key actors likely to bring about positive change in terms of standards are provided with technical assistance, training and sensitization. Currently some 47 national action plans (discussed or under discussion with the national constituents) have been developed and are fully reflected in the outcome-based workplan of the Office. The action plans for the following countries are already in the phase of implementation: Benin, Botswana, Burkina Faso, Cape Verde, Central African Republic, China, Ghana, Guyana, Haiti, Republic of Moldova, Nigeria, Seychelles, Solomon Islands, United Republic of Tanzania and Togo. Activities under each country action plan include one or more of the following activities: training on the content of selected ILS; research to generate information on the status of implementation of ILS, including legislative gap analyses; advice on elements that will enable tripartite constituents to take the relevant decisions aiming at full implementation; legal advice on the revision or drafting of legislation and regulations in the light of the supervisory bodies’ comments; and strengthening the data collection and reporting capacity of tripartite constituents.

39. NORMES implements its technical assistance activities in close collaboration with the field offices. Certain training activities are also carried out in collaboration with the ITC in Turin.

40. It would also be appropriate to recall that since 2005 the Committee on the Application of Standards of the ILC and the Committee of Experts have strengthened, with the assistance of the Office, the follow-up concerning serious failure by member States to comply with their reporting and other standards-related obligations. Hence, NORMES, in close collaboration with the external offices, organizes technical assistance activities in light of what had been observed by the two Committees at their respective sessions.⁵ The activities that took place during the course of 2012 to ensure that member States comply with their obligations in this field, including those carried out in the framework of this follow-up, are listed below.

⁴ Bangladesh, Benin, Botswana, Burkina Faso, Cameroon, Cape Verde, Central African Republic, China, Colombia, Comoros, Equatorial Guinea, Gabon, Ghana, Grenada, Guatemala, Guyana, Haiti, Indonesia, Jordan, Lebanon, Republic of Moldova, Morocco, Peru, Philippines, Saint Kitts and Nevis, Saint Lucia, Seychelles, Solomon Islands, Sri Lanka, South Sudan, United Republic of Tanzania, Togo, Zambia and Zimbabwe.

A. Follow-up missions to the conclusions adopted by the Conference at its recent sessions

Guatemala

41. In 2011, an ILO high-level mission visited the country as a follow-up to the examination in 2010 by the Committee on the Application of Standards of the application of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87). In line with the recommendations of the high-level mission, a first training workshop on ILS was held on 9–10 July 2012, with special emphasis on freedom of association, collective bargaining and impunity. Some 40 prosecutors and prosecution service employees took part in the event. At the end of the workshop conclusions were adopted emphasizing in particular that investigations into crimes against trade unionists needed to take due account of possible anti-union motives in such crimes. In addition, the Prosecutor-General signed a cooperation agreement with NORMES.

Panama

42. In June 2011, the Committee on the Application of Standards examined the application of Convention No. 87 by Panama and invited the Government to accept an ILO mission to provide assistance with regard to achieving effective social dialogue. The mission took place from 30 January to 2 February 2012. At the end of its work it held a tripartite meeting resulting in a tripartite agreement whereby the representatives of the Government and of the social partners agreed to: (1) launch a dialogue on the Committee of Experts' comments concerning the application of Convention No. 87 and the Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98), which began on 27 February 2012, and inform the Committee of Experts of the results achieved; (2) undertake training and awareness-raising activities with regard to freedom of association, collective bargaining and social dialogue; and (3) establish, with ILO assistance, a tripartite committee for the rapid handling of complaints regarding freedom of association and collective bargaining.

43. At the invitation of the Government, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–San José participated in two technical assistance missions to Panama in April and June 2012 to follow up on the application of the tripartite agreement signed in February 2012 further to which two committees for dialogue on standards-related matters were set up, one concerning the follow-up to questions raised in the Committee of Experts' comments on the application of Conventions Nos 87 and 98 and the other concerning the rapid handling of complaints regarding freedom of association.

B. Technical assistance in reporting and other standards-related obligations

Africa

44. Training seminars on standards and the constitutional obligations relating to them, for tripartite constituents and especially officials responsible for reports under article 22 of the ILO Constitution, were organized by the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Yaoundé in Cameroon (August 2012), Central African Republic (September 2012), Equatorial Guinea and Comoros (October 2012). Some received support from the SPA project.

45. The standards specialist of DWT/CO–Dakar also organized training activities jointly with colleagues from the French-funded Project to Support the Implementation of the Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work (PAMODEC) on reporting obligations in Burkina Faso (as a consequence, the Government is currently working on the adoption of a decree setting up a consultative body as suggested by Convention No. 144 on tripartite consultations), Mauritania (as the official currently preparing Mauritania's article 22 reports will be retiring in few years) and Senegal. The standards specialist also organized a training workshop on constitutional obligations on reporting in Nigeria (jointly with the child labour and workers' activities specialists), with special focus on child labour standards and the role of social partners in the reporting process.

46. As a follow-up to the 2011 Conference discussion on the Global Report on non discrimination, the InFocus Programme on Promoting the Declaration (DECLARATION), in collaboration with NORMES and DWT/CO–Pretoria, is developing a step-by-step guide on the elimination of racial discrimination in the workplace. In January 2012, a meeting of experts was organized in South Africa to review and discuss the first draft, input ILO expertise and gather comments from the experts with a view to preparing a further draft. Upon completion of the revised draft, DECLARATION will organize in January 2012, in collaboration with NORMES, a tripartite validation workshop.

47. In view of the Committee of Experts' request that the Government of Sudan submit a detailed report on the Employment Policy Convention, 1964 (No. 122), and in preparation for a training on report writing with a specific focus on this Convention, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Cairo provided the Government with examples of active employment policies, the draft Decent Work Country Programme (DWCP) to be updated by the tripartite constituents, the finalized United Nations Development Assistance Framework (UNDAF) for Sudan, etc.

48. The DWT/CO–Cairo also participated in a joint mission with DECLARATION and the International Programme on the Elimination of Child Labour (IPEC), which visited South Sudan in November 2012. The workshop aimed, inter alia, at raising the capacity of the tripartite constituents in fulfilling their ILO constitutional reporting obligations and providing technical assistance for the Government's first reports on ratified Conventions and its first annual report under the 1998 Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work.

49. Botswana being selected to benefit from the SPA project, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Pretoria conducted a tripartite inter-ministerial workshop in September 2012 to assist the country in its article 22 reporting obligations. Prior to the organization of that workshop, a half-day sensitization session on ILS had been held to reinforce the existing inter-ministerial committee led by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation (MOFAIC) for purposes of reporting under all international Conventions ratified by the country. A similar tripartite inter-ministerial workshop was conducted in the Seychelles (August 2012) – also selected as an SPA project beneficiary – which gathered the social partners, the Ministry of Labour, other technical ministries, as well as representatives from the Parliament and judiciary to sensitize and capacitate the stakeholders to timely and quality reporting, assist the country in meeting its article 22 reporting obligations and strengthen the inter-ministerial collaboration to collect relevant data.

50. Two tripartite workshops took place in Dar es Salaam and Zanzibar, United Republic of Tanzania, in September 2012, within the framework of the SPA project, with the aim of drawing the participants' attention to the legislative gaps, as well as issues of application in practice, identified by the Committee of Experts on the subjects of child labour and forced labour, and of facilitating discussion on how to concretely address these gaps in the near future. The workshops included sessions on the principles established by ILO standards on child labour and forced labour, ILS challenges in the United Republic of Tanzania, an overview of comments of the Committee of Experts regarding the application of the Conventions on child labour and forced labour vis-à-vis national legislative framework and lessons learned in implementing these Conventions at the national level. Both workshops resulted in the development of time-bound action plans on the necessary steps that need to be taken to concretely address the obstacles identified.

Americas

51. The standards specialist from DWT/CO–Port-of-Spain organized training workshops on ILS and report writing. In the spirit of South–South cooperation and with a view to capacity-building, two labour officers from Antigua and Barbuda were associated with the delivery of the workshops which took place in the British Virgin Islands (December 2011) and in St Maarten (December 2012).

52. In the framework of the SPA project, the following activities have been carried out by the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Port-of-Spain:

- workshop with officials from the Ministry of Labour and other government institutions and the social partners in Guyana (May 2012) in order to raise awareness and enhance cooperation among governmental institutions with a view to providing the necessary information to prepare the reports in a timely manner. This was followed by additional technical support in July 2012;
- facilitation of the participation of a labour officer from Guyana in the ITC–ILO course “Laws, policies and reporting tools: Supporting the fight against child labour” (June 2012);
- assistance provided to Saint Kitts and Nevis in drafting a new Labour Code (July–August 2012); and
- support provided to Saint Lucia to raise awareness and facilitate understanding of the new Labour Code.

53. In February 2012, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–San José accompanied the Director of NORMES on a mission to Haiti for the purpose of evaluating the needs of the tripartite constituents regarding ILS. Meetings were held with the tripartite constituents, other government institutions that play a key role in the smooth operation of the ILO standards system and the national judiciary. Moreover, tripartite training on ILS and the ILO supervisory system was conducted in Port-au-Prince in July 2012 by the “Better Work” programme, in collaboration with NORMES and the standards specialist from DWT/CO–San José. The tripartite constituents of the garment industry, members of the HOPE Commission and the labour mediator took part. The participants received training on the eight fundamental Conventions and adopted a statement of principles affirming the need to establish a bipartite forum for dialogue in this sector.

54. In May, June and July 2012, in collaboration with NORMES, the white paper compliance verification project and IPEC–El Salvador, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–San José organized in Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala and Haiti, at the request of the respective governments, five workshops on reporting obligations under article 22. The purpose of the workshops was to help these countries meet their obligations under the ILO Constitution and reply to the supervisory bodies' comments on ratified Conventions.

55. In August 2012, an ILO delegation composed in particular of the standards specialist from DWT/CO–San José, the Regional Director, the Director of DWT/CO–San José, the Director of the Argentina Office, the Programme to Promote ILO Convention No. 169 on Indigenous and Tribal Peoples (PRO 169) held, at the request of the Government of Guatemala, a technical meeting on Convention No. 169. The Deputy Minister for Inter-Cultural Matters from the Ministry of Culture of the Government of Peru also took part. The Presidency and members of the Cabinet of Guatemala attended the meeting, the purpose of which was to explain the content of Convention No. 169, especially provisions concerning consultation and participation, and to disseminate good practices in this area. Technical meetings also took place with representatives of national employers' and workers' organizations.

56. A mission visited Colombia in August 2012 to follow up the high-level tripartite mission which took place in 2011 to examine the implementation of the Tripartite Agreement of Freedom of Association and Democracy of 2006. Matters raised during this visit included the issue of acts of violence, and a Memorandum of Understanding was signed between the Office of the Attorney-General and the ILO. The Ministry also used this opportunity to provide information on various cases pending before the Committee on Freedom of Association.

57. With the support of the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Santiago, the Government of Chile held a series of training days between January and August 2012 for officials in various ministries and municipalities on indigenous peoples' right to consultation with a view to the development of regulations in this sphere. In Paraguay, with the assistance of the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Santiago, the Tripartite Advisory Commission on Fundamental Rights at Work and the Prevention of Forced Labour met three times between February and April 2012 with the following results: a labour subcommittee was set up with fewer members in order to streamline its operations; it was decided to invite representatives of indigenous peoples, where appropriate, to its meetings; and it was decided to draw up a roadmap and plan for systematic action in proportion to the seriousness of the problem, in line with the comments made by the Committee of Experts.

58. In the context of the joint United Nations (UN) programme in Uruguay for support for the reform of institutions for persons deprived of their freedom, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Santiago, in collaboration with NORMES, supplied technical assistance in connection with a legislative initiative of the Government relating to work done by persons deprived of their freedom, in the light of Conventions relating to forced labour, OSH and labour inspection, and of the comments made by the Committee of Experts concerning the application of the relevant Conventions. In Chile, the standards specialist participated in a series of meetings of various congress committees in order to provide guidance concerning draft legislation on labour and indigenous peoples from the perspective of the Conventions ratified by Chile on the basis of comments made by the Committee of Experts.

59. The standards specialist from DWT/CO–Santiago also prepared a practical guidance document for officials from various ministerial departments, including the office of the Deputy Minister of Labour of Paraguay, on drafting reports under article 22, in view of the political developments that prevented workshops from being held in the country.

60. In Peru, the DWT/CO–Lima provided technical assistance for the Ministry of Labour and Promotion of Employment regarding the implications of the Domestic Workers Convention, 2011 (No. 189), on the labour inspectorate and the regulation of private employment agencies. This matter had also been referred to under the recommendations made by the CEACR to Peru on the implementation of Convention No. 29 to combat forced labour. An indirect result was that at the end of 2012, the Peruvian Government approved a new regulation on the functioning of private employment agencies. In addition, the Ministry of Labour has carried out a number of activities to finalize the new National Plan against Forced Labour, which was approved at the meeting of the National Commission against Forced Labour in January 2013. Technical assistance was also provided to promote the involvement of the state institutions in the preparation of reports due on the application of standards.

61. In the Plurinational State of Bolivia and Ecuador, during the course of 2012, the DWT/CO–Lima also participated in training activities for public servants in state institutions and for trade union confederations, to promote their participation in the Convention implementation reporting process, and provided the Ministry of Labour with relevant information. In the Plurinational State of Bolivia, with a view to the ratification of the Domestic Workers Convention, 2011 (No. 189), technical assistance was provided to train labour inspectors and inform them of the different practices used on the continent to advance the recognition and protection of domestic workers' labour rights.

Arab States

62. With the participation of a member of the Committee of Experts, the standards specialist of DWT/CO–Beirut conducted in Beirut two regional workshops for journalists and trade unionists from the Arab region on human rights protection mechanisms, in cooperation with the Beirut office of the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR) (May 2012). Memoranda of Understanding concerning migrant domestic workers between governments of sending and receiving countries in the Arab region, as well as between recruitment agencies in these countries, have been developed (April 2012).

63. During a major wage dispute in Lebanon (December 2011), the standards specialist of DWT/CO–Beirut provided information on the application of the Minimum Wage Fixing Convention, 1970 (No. 131), to the Government and the social partners. Together with the Ministry of Labour of Lebanon, the standards specialist elaborated draft legislation on migrant domestic workers, respecting the provisions of the Domestic Workers Convention, 2011 (No. 189) (December 2011–March 2012). Further assistance will be provided on the application of the Minimum Age Convention, 1973 (No. 138), and the Worst Forms of Child Labour Convention, 1999 (No. 182). In the framework of the SPA project, the standards specialist of DWT/CO–Beirut provided reporting assistance to the Government (July 2012).

64. In October 2012, the standards specialist of DWT/CO–Beirut organized and conducted, in cooperation with NORMES and the Industrial and Employment Relations Department (DIALOGUE), a study tour of Members of Parliament of Iraq and of representatives of the Kurdistan Regional Government, to ILO Geneva. After a thorough analysis of the draft Labour Code of Iraq, participants were given detailed information on principles and applicable provisions of ILS, followed by in-depth discussions on possible improvements to the draft Code. Participants requested the ILO to accompany the adoption of the Code and to provide further assistance, if requested.

65. In July 2012, NORMES participated in a workshop of the National Steering Committee on Pay Equity (NSCPE) of Jordan in the framework of the technical cooperation project on equal pay for work of equal value organized by the ILO Regional Office for the Arab States in collaboration with DECLARATION. During the workshop, the legal and policy subcommittee of the NSCPE presented the findings of a legal review of relevant Jordanian legislation, which revealed serious gaps including the absence of explicit provisions which prohibit discrimination in employment and occupation and which require equal remuneration for men and women for work of equal value. A range of measures were proposed, including specific amendments to the Labour Code in the areas of non-discrimination, wages and maternity protection. In the framework of the SPA project, the standards specialist of DWT/CO–Beirut provided reporting assistance to the Government (June 2012). Further assistance has been provided to Jordan on the application of the Seafarers’ Identity Documents Convention (Revised), 2003 (No. 185).

Asia

66. At the invitation of the Secretary of Labor and Employment of the Philippines, the Deputy Director of NORMES participated in May 2012 in the launching of the guidelines on the conduct of officials of the Department of Labor and Employment, the Department of Interior and Local Government, the Department of National Defence, the Department of Justice, the armed forces of the Philippines and the Philippines national police relative to the exercise of workers’ rights and activities. These guidelines, which tally with the recommendations of the Committee on Freedom of Association, were the fruit of a profound dialogue with the social partners that brought to light the particular challenges trade unions had faced with the military. Each of these challenges is taken up in the guidelines. As a follow-up to the comments of the Committee of Experts on the application of Convention No. 87, the standards specialist of DWT/CO–Bangkok held a validation activity of the plan of action to promote freedom of association in export processing zones (EPZs) in the Philippines in April 2012.

67. A two-day high-level seminar on child labour was held in Nanchang, Jiangxi Province, China, in September 2012. This seminar included sessions on: China’s legal framework prohibiting child labour and the role of labour administration and labour inspection services in ensuring compliance with the law; global trends, experiences and practices towards the effective elimination of child labour; the role of the social partners in eliminating child labour; overcoming current challenges in law and practice on child labour in China; and the current status in China of the list of types of hazardous work prohibited to children under 18. The high-level seminar involved active participation by Director-General-level participants from 14 provinces. For the first time within China, the Ministry of Human Resources and Social Security officially acknowledged the challenge of child labour in the country and stated that it would now be open to international technical cooperation to address child labour.

68. The standards specialist of DWT/CO–New Delhi was involved in the following: (i) missions to support the Governments of Afghanistan and Nepal in their efforts to strengthen their reporting capacities with regard to ILS (July and October 2012, respectively); (ii) tripartite meeting on labour law review in Bangladesh (May 2012); (iii) missions to India, Nepal and Pakistan conducted in the framework of the respective bonded labour projects to follow up on the Committee of Experts’ comments on the application of the forced labour Conventions through tripartite meetings, field visits or trade union training; and (iv) in view of the 2007 and 2010 conclusions of the Committee on the Application of Standards concerning the equality Conventions (the Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, 1958 (No. 111)), and the Equal Remuneration Convention, 1951 (No. 100), respectively), activities in India within the framework of the joint DECLARATION–NORMES technical assistance aimed at improving the legislative and policy framework with respect to manual scavenging and strengthening the capacity of constituents to implement equal remuneration for work of equal value; in particular, the “Workshop on strengthening the implementation of the Equal Remuneration Act (ERA) through enhanced application of Convention No. 100 and improved data collection” (New Delhi, February 2012), at the end of which participants agreed on the way forward on research and data collection, proactive measures and legislation; and the “National Conference on Promotion of Equality at Work in India: Manual Scavenging Practices” (Ahmadabad, February 2012) to review the current situation and discuss practical and policy measures and solutions.

Europe

69. At the invitation of the Government, a technical advisory mission, led by the Regional Director for Europe and Central Asia, was carried out in Tashkent (Uzbekistan) in May 2012 to discuss issues of implementation of the 13 Conventions ratified by Uzbekistan. Bilateral meetings were held with various ministries and the representatives of the social partners, as well as with the local United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) and the United Nations Children’s Fund (UNICEF) representatives. The discussions focused on further collaboration between the Government and the ILO on how to move forward towards implementing the recommendations of the Committee on the Application of Standards in June 2010 and June 2011 concerning the application by Uzbekistan of Convention No. 182.

70. As a follow-up to the high-level mission of September 2011 to examine the impact of the measures adopted in the framework of the mechanism to support the Greek economy on the application of 11 Conventions ratified by Greece, another high-level mission visited the country in April 2012 to present the Committee of Experts’ comments in the areas of freedom of association and collective bargaining, wages, employment policies, social security and labour inspection and administration, and explore ways in which the ILO could be of help to the tripartite constituents in their efforts to overcome the current difficulties. Two follow-up missions took place in September and in October 2012, in order to carry out a needs assessment of the structure and functioning of the Greek labour inspection system at the request of the Government.

71. In July 2012, a mission led by the Director of NORMES visited the Netherlands with a view to follow up on the CEACR’s comments on the application on the Employment Injury Benefits Convention, 1964 [Schedule I amended in 1980] (No. 121).

C. Training activities

(a) Activities developed in collaboration with the International Training Centre in Turin

72. In 2012, the ITC in Turin continued to support the action of the ILO relating to the adoption and monitoring of the application of standards through the direct implementation of 38 training activities at the interregional, regional, subregional and national levels, and also through the design and development of pedagogical and methodological tools relating to procedures connected with the adoption and monitoring of the application of standards.

73. These tools included the following: (i) the creation of a website aimed at easing the management of the obligation to report on ILS which contains a compilation of good practices and provides practical tools (such as checklists), as well as online assistance for constituents; (ii) the design of a distance learning course on the preparation of reports relating to child labour. Both tools are aimed at strengthening national capacity with respect to ILS-related procedures, especially those relating to the obligation to submit reports, in accordance with the Constitution of the ILO. As such, along with various other courses listed in the following paragraphs, these tools form part of the ILO's standard-setting strategy and contribute to strengthening synergies in this area between the ITC in Turin, headquarters and field structures.

74. The tripartite course on ILS organized immediately before the Conference (34 participants from all regions of the world in 2012), and the distance learning course on reporting on the implementation of standards (which favours participation of representatives from labour ministries facing difficulties with regard to drafting and sending reports) are two examples of valuable training tools for building national capacity in ILS-related obligations, including reporting obligations. They also constitute a very good example of how the activities of the ITC are integrated in the ILO standards strategy.

75. In the area of freedom of association, two new regional activities for lawyers defending the interests of trade unions were designed and carried out in collaboration with the Bureau for Workers' Activities (ACTRAV) and the International Trade Union Confederation (ITUC); one for Latin America was held in Paraguay, and the other, for English-speaking Africa, was held in Kenya.

76. As regards forced labour, the Centre organized a course on the identification and investigation of forced labour and human trafficking and started a national project specific to India. A tripartite meeting on forced labour in fishing was also organized.

77. The development of the Maritime Labour Academy, established in 2011 to provide a programme of five highly specialized training courses on the MLC, 2006, has continued. Three training courses for trainers and maritime inspectors were organized in 2012 for a total of 59 participants. A workshop on the transposition of the Convention into national law was held in June for 14 government representatives and the two training courses organized together with the International Transport Workers' Federation (ITF) provided training for 47 inspectors in that organization. In 2012, the Maritime Labour Academy started two new courses, at the request of the ITF and the International Shipping Federation (ISF), to raise awareness among their members of the rights and obligations resulting from the MLC, 2006. The new workshop for fishing vessel owners and shipping companies brought together 21 representatives and the workshop for trade unions of seafarers affiliated to the ITF enabled 20 participants to enhance their knowledge of the Convention's provisions. The eight activities carried out by the Maritime Labour Academy have been attended by a total of 161 participants.

78. Twelve training activities are scheduled for 2013, as well as national workshops at the request of members of the ISF. The entry into force of the MLC, 2006, on 20 August 2013, has prompted a marked increase in applications for training activities, whose relevance and methodology have received positive evaluations from participants. The 261 participants in the training courses for trainers and maritime inspectors held from 2009 to 2012 have, in turn, trained some 7,740 experts. The evaluation of the impact of the activities in 2012 is currently under way. The Maritime Labour Academy, therefore, continues to be an essential tool in the ILO action plan to achieve rapid and widespread ratification and effective implementation of the MLC, 2006.

79. In addition, various training activities for judges, lawyers and teachers of law were organized in 2012. Three regional activities were held in addition to the annual interregional course in Turin. The regular course for Latin America was held in Mexico in collaboration with the ILO Office for Mexico, Mexico's National Human Rights Commission and the National Autonomous University of Mexico. In addition, a course for judges, lawyers and teachers of law from the Caribbean was organized in Trinidad and Tobago in collaboration with the ILO Office in Port-of-Spain. And, for the second time, a regional conference and training course for judges and mediators in Asia and the Pacific was organized in partnership with Fair Work Australia, in Melbourne (Australia). Fifteen countries were represented. Members of the ILO Committee of Experts were able to participate in all these courses.

80. It is also important to note the update (in English, French and Spanish) of the digest of judicial decisions based on international law and in particular on ILS. A considerable number of judicial decisions included in the digest were taken by legal professionals having participated in training courses organized by the ITC. Moreover, a database has been specially developed by the ITC to allow public access to this digest. It will be possible to access this database from both from the ITC website and from the ILO website through the NORMLEX database page.

81. In order to promote the impact of ILS in the media, an edition of the course on ILS for journalists and media professionals in Central America was organized by the Office in San José (Costa Rica), in collaboration with a local technical cooperation project, in addition to the interregional edition of this course that was held in Turin in July 2012.

82. In the area of equality and non-discrimination, a course was held in May 2012 in Kinshasa (DRC) for government, worker and employer representatives, judges, lawyers and teachers of law from Burundi, Democratic Republic of the Congo and Rwanda with the support of the standards specialists from the DWT/CO–Yaoundé. A very comprehensive programme of regular training activities (both on-site and online) has also been offered to more than 600 participants (ILO constituents, officials from the Organization and from other UN agencies) on gender equality and non-discrimination. In the follow-up to the conclusions of the 2009 ILC, a course on gender equality at work was held in Turin for judges from five African countries.

83. A computer assisted training tool (“webinar”) on the subject of non-discrimination at work was developed by the multinational company ENI, which is planning to offer it to all its employees in 77 countries. Discrimination between men and women in the world of science is, moreover, the subject of an institutional capacity-building project, with which the Centre has collaborated since 2011 by providing methodological adaptation services and gender audit activities in six European countries.

84. Collaboration with the other technical programmes of the ITC has continued and has been strengthened in so far as the general presentation of standards introduced in various ACTRAV/Turin activities has been supplemented by a new course on ILS and initiatives on corporate social responsibility, organized in conjunction with the Enterprise, Microfinance and Local Development Plan.

(b) Training on issues related to indigenous peoples

85. In July 2012, PRO 169, based in NORMES, carried out a training programme for indigenous fellows, in collaboration with the OHCHR, as a part of the annual United Nations Indigenous Fellowship Programme.

86. At the regional level, PRO 169 organized four regional training workshops on Convention No. 169 for ILO constituents covering Argentina, Plurinational State of Bolivia, Chile, Colombia, Ecuador, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay and Peru. The workshops directed at employers' and workers' organizations were organized in collaboration with the Bureau for Employers' Activities (ACT/EMP) and ACTRAV and took place, respectively, in September and November 2011 in Bogotá (Colombia) and Asunción (Paraguay). In October 2011, a regional workshop for ombudspersons was co-organized in Santa Cruz (Plurinational State of Bolivia) with the ITC in Turin, the OHCHR and UNDP. In January 2012, a regional workshop for public officials was convened in Nicaragua with the objective of promoting the exchange of experiences among countries and strengthening national implementation capacity on Convention No. 169.

87. In the same vein, in July 2012 at the subregional level, PRO 169 carried out, in collaboration with the UN Country Team in the Plurinational State of Bolivia, an experience-sharing seminar on the application of Convention No. 169 with the participation of representatives from Colombia and Peru in the framework of South–South cooperation. PRO 169 also supported in April 2012 the study visit of government representatives from Bangladesh to Denmark, Norway and Sweden to gain an insight into these countries' experience in integrating and implementing indigenous and tribal peoples' rights in national policies and legislation. In addition, PRO 169 organized an advanced human rights course on indigenous peoples' rights in collaboration with the Human Rights Centre of Pretoria in September 2011 and 2012 supporting the participation of government representatives from Botswana, Namibia and South Africa.

88. At the national level, the programme, in collaboration with certain standard specialists, has been participating and organizing capacity-building activities on indigenous peoples' rights, particularly on the promotion and implementation of Conventions Nos 111 and 169, in various countries in Asia, Africa and Latin America, including Bangladesh, the Plurinational State of Bolivia, Cambodia, Cameroon, Central African Republic, Guatemala, Honduras, Namibia, Nicaragua, Peru and the Philippines. The activities have included capacity building for target groups such as government officials, human rights institutions, parliamentarians, employers' and workers' organizations, indigenous peoples' organizations, youth and journalists.

89. In particular, PRO 169 has carried out various activities to build the capacity of governments, indigenous organizations and social partners to implement Convention No. 169, in response to the comments formulated by the Committee of Experts. In Nicaragua, a national workshop was convened in view of the preparation of the first report on the application of the Convention. In Peru, PRO 169 and the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Santiago supported the organization of a training activity for public officials on the rights of indigenous peoples.

90. In March 2012, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–San José, in collaboration with NORMES and at the request of the Ombudsperson, participated in two workshops in Costa Rica on the content and implementation of Convention No. 169. Representatives of various government bodies attended the first workshop and representatives of the country's indigenous peoples participated in the second.

91. In Chile, at the request of the Confederation for Production and Commerce (CPC) and with the support of the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Santiago, a round table was held in July with the CPC and the Chilean Federation of Industry (SOFOFA) on consultation under Convention No. 169 and the importance of legal certainty with respect to investment, with emphasis on the comments of the ILO supervisory bodies. In the context of the joint UN programme for national capacity building for intercultural conflict prevention and management (2010–12), five training days for high court judges were held in various cities in Chile in May and June on the rights of indigenous peoples deriving from Convention No. 169; with the support of the standards specialist and a member of the Committee of Experts, a total of 166 judges received the training. In addition, an international meeting on the experiences of different countries with regard to indigenous and tribal peoples' consultation rights under Convention No. 169 was held for the Government, employers, workers and indigenous peoples of Chile; its purpose was to exchange the experience gained by Canada, Colombia and Peru in the application of the aforementioned right. In the context of a national panel, the various stakeholders gave their views on prospects and challenges regarding application of the right to consultation in Chile. In collaboration with Acción RSE (an employers' organization concerned with sustainable development and corporate social responsibility), the standards specialist held a workshop in August with the mining sector on the implementation of Convention No. 169, with an emphasis on the ILO supervisory bodies' comments. Finally, in collaboration with various UN agencies, a workshop was held for indigenous leaders on UN mechanisms for monitoring the rights of indigenous peoples.

(c) Other training activities

Africa

92. In May 2012, the standards specialist and the ACTRAV specialist of DWT/CO–Cairo, at the request of newly unionized workers, held a seminar in Egypt to explain how ILS could assist them better in moving forward their issues in the relevant sectors, and to deepen their understanding of the Decent Work concept. The workers then sought help in setting up a cooperative to address issues in the coal industry.

93. With the assistance of the standards specialist of DWT/CO–Pretoria, one official from the Ministry of Labour of Swaziland responsible for reporting benefited from a scholarship to attend the yearly two-week training on ILS, in May 2012, at the ITC in Turin, and a lawyer from the same Ministry benefited from financial support to participate in the annual two-week course on ILS for judges and legal educators (August–September 2012).

94. In October 2012, the standards specialist from the DWT/CO–Pretoria was invited by the African Regional Labour Administration Centre (ARLAC) to present the eight core Conventions under the Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work, 1998, as well as the concrete modalities to implement ILS in general. The workshop, organized by ARLAC, gathered tripartite delegations from nine member countries and concluded by the adoption of a concrete five-year implementation plan of ILS.

95. Sensitization on the four gender equality Conventions was further provided by the DWT/CO–Pretoria ILS specialist to two trade unions, i.e. respectively, the Federation of Trade Unions of South Africa (FEDUSA) (South Africa, August 2012) and the Trade Union Congress of Swaziland (TUCOSWA) (Swaziland, November 2012).

Americas

96. As a follow-up to the Memorandum of Understanding signed by the State Labour Prosecutor, NORMES and the ITC in Turin, the Ministry of Labour and the High Court for Labour (TST) in Brasilia organized a seminar on freedom of association, which took place in Brazil in April 2012.

97. A member of the Committee of Experts participated in a workshop on Conventions Nos 87 and 98 which took place in Panama in May 2012. Officials from various areas of the Government and representatives of the main workers' and employers' federations took part.

98. In June 2012, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–San José, with the participation of the ACTRAV specialist and a member of the Committee of Experts and in cooperation with the white paper compliance verification project, conducted a seminar for national trade unions in Costa Rica on the ILO supervisory system and ILS, with the emphasis on freedom of association and collective bargaining. Also in June 2012, the standards specialist, in collaboration with the specialist on legislation, social dialogue and labour administration and a member of the Committee of Experts, held a training course, at the request of the judiciary of Costa Rica, for judges and lawyers concerning the use by national courts of international labour law, especially with respect to freedom of association and collective bargaining. Also in June 2012, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–San José, in collaboration with the ACTRAV specialist, participated in a subregional workshop in Nicaragua for trade unions concerning ILS and freedom of association and collective bargaining.

99. The standards specialist from DWT/CO–Port-of-Spain organized or participated in the following training activities:

- ❑ Training Workshop on Labour Administration organized in collaboration with the Government of Suriname, with presentations on ILS on labour inspection.
- ❑ In the framework of the Caribbean Occupational Safety, Health and the Environment Programme: (i) ILO Subregional Training Workshop for Safety Inspectors in Suriname (March 2012); (ii) lectures on ILS on OSH at the University of the West Indies in Jamaica and in Trinidad and Tobago as part of the curriculum of the Occupational and Environmental Safety and Health Master Programme; and (iii) training workshop on OSH in Trinidad and Tobago for labour inspectors of Bahamas, Barbados, Belize, Jamaica, Suriname and Trinidad and Tobago.
- ❑ Labour and Industrial Relations Seminar in Belize (June 2012), together with the ACT/EMP specialist. The goal of the seminar was to clarify and capacitate members of the Belize Chamber of Commerce and Industry and the National Trade Union Congress of Belize on the recently amended Labour Act 2011 and on the application of standards.
- ❑ Briefing of the ILO 144 Tripartite Committee of Trinidad and Tobago on the occasion of its opening session (September 2012).

100. In April, at the request of the Government of Chile and in collaboration with the specialists on standards and OSH from DWT/CO–Santiago, a training day was held on the Promotional Framework for Occupational Safety and Health Convention, 2006 (No. 187). This activity was aimed at providing guidance for the Government and supporting the legislative process which has been launched to give effect to the Convention. In addition, in collaboration with the ACTRAV specialist, the standards specialist supported a refresher seminar for the National Association of Fiscal Employees (ANEF) on the subjects of freedom of association and collective bargaining.

Arab States

101. The standards specialist from DWT/CO–Beirut held two workshops in Jordan (December 2011 and June 2012), to brief labour inspectors on ILS, specifically on the fundamental Conventions, the Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81), and the Domestic Workers Convention, 2011 (No. 189).

Asia

102. In May 2012, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Bangkok held in Indonesia a one-week training of judges of the Industrial Relations Court (the nationwide system of tribunals specializing in labour-related disputes) so as to promote the use of ILS by domestic courts. This pilot test project for training of judicial trainers on ILS included a session on the use by domestic judges of certain fundamental Conventions and other technical instruments. The Deputy Director of NORMES made a presentation focusing on the curriculum elements related to freedom of association and collective bargaining.

103. Lastly, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–New Delhi participated in the tripartite training on unfair labour practices in Sri Lanka (September 2012).

Europe

104. In April 2012, a seminar on labour standards and equality and non-discrimination was delivered in France in the framework of the master's degree programme entitled "Inequality and discrimination: Managing the contemporary challenges of equality" at the University of Lyon II.

D. Promotional activities

(a) Action plan to achieve rapid and widespread ratification and effective implementation of the Maritime Labour Convention, 2006

105. The Governing Body adopted in March 2007 a five-year plan of action primarily aimed at achieving the maximum number of ratifications for the MLC, 2006, and to ensure the effective implementation of its requirements. The plan of action includes international, regional and national promotional activities and requires cooperation with sectoral experts and regional offices.

106. In order for the MLC, 2006, to enter into force two conditions had to be met: (1) ratification by 30 member States, which (2) must have a total share of at least 33 per cent of the world gross tonnage of ships. In 2012, ten new ratifications of the Convention were registered (Cyprus on 20 July; Morocco on 10 September; Palau on 29 May; Philippines on 20 August; Poland on 3 May; Russian Federation on 20 August; Saint Kitts and Nevis on 21 February; Sweden on 12 June; Togo on 14 March; and Tuvalu on 16 February). In total, 32 countries are now Parties to the Convention, representing almost 60 per cent of the world tonnage of ships. Both entry into force requirements have been met. The MLC, 2006, will accordingly enter into force on 20 August 2013.

107. In the context of its activities to promote the MLC, 2006, the Office has initiated and participated in the following activities:

- ❑ National Tripartite Seminar on the MLC, 2006, in Egypt (June 2012).
- ❑ National Tripartite Seminar on the MLC, 2006, in the Islamic Republic of Iran (April 2012).
- ❑ Training Workshop of Port State Control Officers under the MLC, 2006, in the Sultanate of Oman (February 2012).
- ❑ Seminar on Crewing Agencies in Ukraine (July 2012).
- ❑ Validation Workshop in the Seychelles (September 2012).
- ❑ High-level consultations in Jamaica (November 2012).

108. The Office has also participated in numerous international or maritime events, including lecturing at the World Maritime University in Malmö, Sweden and at the Summer Academy of the International Foundation for the Law of the Sea in Hamburg, Germany. Furthermore, the Office has completed two new legal gap analyses for Bangladesh and Seychelles, for the purpose of identifying obstacles to the ratification of the MLC, 2006, and helping elaborate tripartite strategies to bridge legislative gaps. In addition, the Office has provided technical assistance to Saint Kitts and Nevis with a view to drafting maritime legislation compliant with the MLC, 2006.

109. Following the second meeting of the Preparatory Tripartite MLC, 2006, Committee (PTMLC) in December 2011 to discuss the Office-proposed draft text for the Standing Orders under Article XIII of the MLC, 2006, the ILO Governing Body adopted at its 313rd Session (March 2012) the Standing Orders of the Special Tripartite Committee which is mandated to keep the working of the Convention under continuous review and to consider proposals to amend the Code of the Convention.

110. Furthermore, in order to assist the effective implementation of the MLC, 2006, the Office has continued to provide guidance to member States concerning challenges with preparations. To this effect, the Office has continued to provide legislative drafting assistance through courses offered within the ILO Maritime Labour Academy and specialized courses for maritime inspectors, captains and manning agents at the ITC in Turin. Since November 2011, a total of 34 participants attended the “Training of trainers and maritime inspectors in the application of the ILO MLC, 2006”; 14 attended the “Workshop on national legal implementation of the ILO MLC, 2006”; and 47 the “Workshop for ITF inspectors on the ILO MLC, 2006”.

111. Following up on the action plan, the Office plans to convene tripartite technical meetings in order to draft additional informational tools. In 2012, it prepared and published two handbooks: Guidance on implementing the Maritime Labour Convention, 2006, and social security for seafarers; and Guidance on implementing the Maritime Labour Convention, 2006 – Model national provisions. The Office has also published a substantially revised edition of Maritime Labour Convention, 2006 (MLC, 2006): Frequently asked questions. The Office has completed draft handbooks on maritime occupational safety and health (MOSH) and on seafarers’ welfare, which are now being circulated for comments and finalization. Finally, a tripartite meeting of experts is scheduled for September 2013, to adopt the Guidelines on the training of ships’ cooks.

(b) Plan of action to improve the conditions of work of fishers through the widespread ratification and effective implementation of the Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 (No. 188)

112. The action plan was adopted by the Governing Body in November 2010 and sets out the activities that the Office is planning to deliver in the period 2011–16. As of 31 December 2012, two member States have ratified the Convention (Argentina (15 September 2011) and Bosnia and Herzegovina (4 February 2010)).

113. The Office is currently engaged in a promotional campaign focusing on the dissemination of existing materials and tools on the Convention, which include so far: the Handbook for improving living and working conditions on board fishing vessels; the Guidelines for port State control officers carrying out inspections under the Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 (No. 188); the Training manual on the implementation of the Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 (No. 188); a Guideline to undertake a comparative analysis of the Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 (No. 188), and national laws, regulations or other measures; and a brochure called Decent working conditions, safety and social protection: Work in Fishing Convention No. 188 and Recommendation No. 199. Frequently Asked Questions: Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 (No. 188) is the latest tool developed by the Office, and sets out often-asked questions and the corresponding answers regarding the Convention.⁶

114. In conjunction with the promotional campaign, tripartite national seminars, workshops and other events (so far in Ecuador, Guinea-Bissau, India, Mauritania, Peru, Senegal and Thailand), as well as training courses (so far in Ecuador, Peru and Senegal) have been held to strengthen the capacity of constituents in the fishing sector. Moreover, the Convention has been incorporated into the DWCP for India, and legislative “gap” analyses have been undertaken to foster its effective implementation (so far in Benin, Côte d’Ivoire, Guinea-Bissau, India, Senegal and Togo).

115. The Office has continued to work closely with other UN agencies such as the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) and the International Maritime Organization (IMO) on the safety of fishing vessels and fishers. Collaboration with the FAO to address the issue of child labour in the fishing industry has yielded an FAO–ILO Good practice guide for addressing child labour in fisheries and aquaculture: Policy and practice.

116. The Office also convened a Global Dialogue Forum (GDF) for the promotion of Convention No. 188 to be held from 15 to 17 May 2013 in Geneva. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss challenges in the implementation of the Convention, to evaluate how it can be used as a tool to address major issues in the sector, to share good practices and experiences, to report and review promotional activities, and to provide an update on the status of national efforts to implement and ratify Convention No. 188.⁷

117. A tripartite consultation on forced labour and human trafficking in the fishing sector was held in September 2012. It was organized through cooperation between the Sectoral Activities Department (SECTOR) and the Special Action Programme to Combat Forced Labour (SAP-FL), and hosted by the ITC in Turin. Participants from governments, employers’ and workers’ organizations, intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations (NGOs), and other experts, attended the consultation. The objective was to facilitate a discussion on an ILO strategy to prevent and combat forced labour and human trafficking in the sector and to obtain inputs on a draft ILO desk review on the issue.

118. With ILO support, a social partners’ agreement on the Convention was signed in May 2012 by representatives of employers and trade unions from the European Union (EU) fishing sector. This is a major step towards the transposition into EU law of the provisions of the Convention. It is anticipated that the agreement will encourage the ratification and effective implementation of the Convention by EU countries and other ILO member States.

(c) Plan of action to achieve widespread ratification and effective implementation of the occupational safety and health instruments (Convention No. 155, its 2002 Protocol, and Convention No. 187)

119. The plan of action for the OSH instruments covering the period 2010–16 was adopted by the Governing Body in March 2010.⁸ It is being implemented by the Programme on Safety and Health at Work and the Environment (SafeWork) and NORMES, in close collaboration with ACT/EMP and ACTRAV.

120. In November 2011 and 2012, reports containing information on the implementation of the plan of action were submitted to the Governing Body.⁹ These reports provided detailed information on the basis of specific indicators in the plan of action. Since the adoption of the plan of action, there have been 17 new ratifications¹⁰ of Convention No. 155, its 2002 Protocol, and Convention No. 187; and 18 ratifications¹¹ of other up-to-date OSH Conventions.

121. The ILO approach to the development of national OSH policies and programmes, and its OSH key instruments were promoted at the World Day for Safety and Health at Work (28 April 2012), at the 50th Annual Meeting of ILO International OSH Information Centre (CIS) (Geneva, November 2012), and the 30th International Congress on Occupational Health (Cancún, March 2012) and in regional meetings, including the “Review of the EU OSH Strategy 2007–12 and priorities for the future” conference (Copenhagen, June 2012) and the Tripartite Workshop on the Formulation and Implementation of National Occupational Safety and Health Programmes for Selected English-speaking African Countries (Johannesburg, December 2011). The Summit of Ministers of Labour for a Preventative Culture, held in September 2011 in conjunction with the 19th World Congress on Safety and Health at Work (Istanbul, September 2011), adopted the Istanbul Declaration on Safety and Health at Work and supported Convention No. 187.

122. In Africa, in the framework of two projects funded by Sweden and the EU, training and guidance materials have been prepared on the development of national OSH programmes and on conducting audits on the implementation of the ILO Guidelines on occupational safety and health management systems (ILO–OSH 2001). A workshop for selected African countries, on improving safety and health in mining, held in the United Republic of Tanzania (May 2012) was attended by government, worker and employer participants from Botswana, Ethiopia, Ghana, Kenya, Malawi, Namibia, South Africa, United Republic of Tanzania, Uganda, Zambia and Zimbabwe. Training of trainer workshops using the Work Improvements in Small Enterprises (WISE) methodology were held in Senegal and the United Republic of Tanzania.

¹¹ Convention No. 115: Republic of Korea (07.11.11). Convention No. 127: Honduras (13.04.12) and India (26.03.10). Convention No. 139: Republic of Korea (07.11.11) and Ukraine (17.06.10). Convention No. 161: Belgium (28.02.11), Bulgaria (01.03.12) and Ukraine (17.06.10). Convention No. 162: Australia (10.08.11), Kazakhstan (05.04.11) and Morocco (13.04.11). Convention No. 174: Russian Federation (10.02.12), Slovenia (01.03.10) and Ukraine (15.06.11). Convention No. 176: Belgium (02.10.12) and Ukraine (15.06.11). Convention No. 184: Ghana (06.06.11) and Portugal (08.11.12).

123. In the Americas, the ITC provided training on risk assessment in El Salvador. The Trade Union Confederation of the Americas (TUCA) identified OSH as a strategic priority at its second congress (Brazil, April 2012).

124. In Asia, the ILO has promoted Convention No. 187 through the ILO/Japan multi-bilateral programme, the ILO/Korea Partnership Programme and the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) OSH Network (ASEAN-OSHNET), which have encouraged the ratification and application of the Convention.

125. In addition, Bahrain organized the First National Occupational Safety and Health Conference (May 2012). The ILO gave a presentation on a preventative safety and health culture and provided an analysis of the 2012 comments of the CEACR on the application of Convention No. 155 in Bahrain.

126. The Office, through ACT/EMP, continued to raise awareness among employers' organizations of the importance of OSH, and to help them provide OSH-related services for their members. Capacity-building activities were carried out in Argentina, Armenia, Bangladesh, Plurinational State of Bolivia, Croatia, Ecuador, Georgia, Hungary, India, Kenya, Montenegro, Paraguay, Romania, Saint Lucia, Slovenia and Tajikistan.

127. Through ACTRAV, the Office has undertaken or contributed to various training activities in the area of OSH in Albania, Argentina, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Botswana, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Ghana, Guatemala, Kenya, Malawi, Mauritius, Mexico, Republic of Moldova, Namibia, Paraguay, Peru, Seychelles, South Africa, The former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, Uruguay, Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela, Zambia and Zimbabwe.

128. Furthermore, legislative assistance was given to Bangladesh, Belize, Chile, Cook Islands, Ghana, Greece, Mexico, Papua New Guinea, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines and Uruguay. In some cases this assistance consisted of analysis and recommendations for draft legislation from the perspective of the key OSH Conventions; in other cases it consisted of assistance with the formulation of national OSH policies. National OSH profiles were adopted in Honduras, Kenya, Republic of Moldova, Seychelles, United Republic of Tanzania (Zanzibar), Zambia, and national OSH policies were adopted in Brazil and Kenya.

(d) Plan of action towards widespread ratification and effective implementation of the governance Conventions

129. The plan of action for the promotion of widespread ratification and effective implementation of the Conventions that are most significant from the viewpoint of governance was adopted by the Governing Body in November 2009 and is implemented. Through collaborative action of NORMES with the ILO field offices and the relevant technical units, notably the Labour Administration and Labour Inspection Programme (LAB/ADMIN), DIALOGUE and the Employment Policy Department (EMP/POLICY), as well as ACT/EMP, ACTRAV and the ITC in Turin. In November 2011 and 2012, reports containing information on the implementation of the plan of action were submitted to the Governing Body.¹²

130. Since the adoption of the plan of action, two ratifications have been registered for the Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81),¹³ and four for the Labour Inspection (Agriculture) Convention, 1969 (No. 129);¹⁴ ratification is under consideration in four countries.¹⁵ The ILO has provided technical assistance to 49 countries,¹⁶ based typically on needs assessments and national plans of action agreed upon with the social partners and supported by technical cooperation projects. Advice has been provided on the design of national labour inspection training strategies in nine countries,¹⁷ and training workshops based on a comprehensive labour inspector training curriculum published in collaboration with the ITC in Turin have been held so far in 20 countries¹⁸ covering over 1,800 labour inspectors. Two separate guidelines for employers and workers served as a basis for six dedicated workshops for workers and employers.¹⁹ Moreover, a self-assessment tool for labour inspection systems was developed in collaboration with the ITC in Turin and has been piloted in Indonesia. Currently, a pilot project in five countries is working to develop a standardized methodology on labour inspection statistics.²⁰ A needs assessment of the structure and functioning of the Greek labour inspection system has been established and sent to the Government of Greece in December 2012.²¹ The recommendations made therein are currently being studied by the Government, with a view to their implementation, where appropriate with ILO technical assistance.

131. Since the adoption of the plan of action, five ratifications of the Employment Policy Convention, 1964 (No. 122), have been registered,²² and five governments²³ are taking concrete steps towards its ratification and implementation. The Office has provided technical assistance to many countries to help in the formulation and implementation of national employment policies, as one of the DWCP priority outcomes. A guide for the formulation of national employment policies has been published in 2012 as a capacity-building tool for ILO's tripartite constituents, ILO technical staff and a variety of national stakeholders engaged in the development and implementation of national employment policies. A training module on employment policies and ILS is under preparation to promote employment policies through a rights-based approach and increase the awareness and capacity of ILO constituents for implementing related instruments. Finally, ten ratifications have been registered for the Tripartite Consultation (International Labour Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 144).²⁴ The Office published

(e) ILO policy on indigenous peoples

132. PRO 169 has continued to undertake a wide range of activities at different levels to promote the application of the principles of Convention No. 169 and other relevant ILO Conventions.

133. At the international level, PRO 169 provided technical contributions to the United Nations Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues, the Expert Mechanism on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples and the Inter-Agency Support Group on Indigenous Issues, among others. Furthermore, the ILO is, at present, the host organization for the Technical Secretariat of the United Nations Indigenous Peoples Partnership (UNIPP), a joint rights-based initiative recently created by the ILO, OHCHR, UNDP, UNICEF and the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA) for the implementation of international standards on indigenous peoples at the country level. In March 2012, UNIPP has started implementing six country projects (Plurinational State of Bolivia, Cameroon, Central African Republic, Congo, Nepal and Nicaragua) and a regional South-East Asian programme, covering Indonesia, the Philippines and Viet Nam, which supports capacity-building activities, the establishment of dialogue processes and participatory and consultative mechanisms to promote and guarantee the respect of indigenous peoples' rights as enshrined in Convention No. 169 and the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples.

134. In addition to the training activities mentioned above in this document, promotional activities on Convention No. 169 and other relevant ILO Conventions, including the realization of legal studies, are ongoing in Bangladesh, the Plurinational State of Bolivia, Cambodia, Cameroon, Central African Republic, Congo, Guatemala, Indonesia, Namibia, Peru and the Philippines. In particular, in the Philippines a comparative legal study on the Indigenous and Tribal Peoples Convention, 1989 (No. 169), was realized and will soon be launched. In Namibia, a user-friendly guide for government officials on indigenous peoples' rights, with particular emphasis on the principles of consultation and participation, was finalized and published in collaboration with the Office of the Ombudsperson. Also, in Namibia, a study on child labour among San communities was also realized in collaboration with IPEC.

135. Furthermore, in January 2012, PRO 169, in collaboration with the Bureau for Gender Equality (GENDER), published a study on indigenous women workers to document discrimination faced by indigenous women in employment and occupation based on studies from Bangladesh, Nepal and Latin America.

136. Lastly, DWT/CO–Yaoundé, in the context of the PRO 169 project in Cameroon, is continuing its awareness-raising activities on the rights of indigenous and tribal peoples, especially in the form of comic strips. A new comic strip to raise public awareness of combating discrimination against indigenous and tribal peoples in employment and occupation is being published.

(f) Other promotional activities

137. Several activities to promote the ratification of up-to-date Conventions were carried out by the standards specialists in the various external offices in 2012.

Africa

138. In the context of the programme “Understanding Children’s Work” (a joint programme between the World Bank, the ILO and UNICEF), research and analysis activities on child labour and the vulnerability of children and youth employment have been conducted in Cameroon since the end of 2010, jointly with the standards specialist of DWT/CO–Yaoundé and under the supervision of a national steering committee. The country report, which has been published jointly by the Government and the partner agencies and was officially launched in October 2012, will lead to the drafting of a national plan of action for the elimination of child labour. In addition, with the support of the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Yaoundé, a radio conference on child labour was held on the World Day against Child Labour (12 June) as part of an ILO–IPEC mini-programme. Extracts of the recording are available on the DWT/CO–Yaoundé website.

139. In June 2012, the standards specialist of DWT/CO–Cairo conducted in Egypt, in response to the constituents’ request, a wider awareness-raising and policy dialogue on domestic work and the newly adopted instruments concerning domestic workers. This initiated a process of government consultations with stakeholders on the possibilities of drafting legislation for domestic workers consistently with the newly adopted Domestic Workers Convention, 2011 (No. 189). During the event, the considerable gaps in national legislation as regards domestic workers (excluded from the Egyptian Labour Law) came to light. Thereafter, the Ministry of Manpower and Immigration and the National Council for Motherhood and Childhood with the facilitation of DWT/CO–Cairo have shown willingness to build on the work done, draft a separate law for the protection of workers in a regular situation and engage workers and employers in a task force to review the whole. In July 2012, a conference entitled “Egyptian seafarers – A step on the road” was organized in Alexandria, Egypt, by an NGO, the Social Services Society for Merchant Marine Officers, to promote the MLC, 2006. To this end, the ILO has prepared gap analyses on the MLC, 2006, and Convention No. 188. The activity enabled the ILO to deliver capacity building to a large circle of stakeholders and thus support national efforts for a better understanding of the MLC, 2006, with a view to resolving the obstacles hindering the eventual ratification of the Convention. In this respect, DWT/CO–Cairo has translated into Arabic the new guidelines for implementing the MLC, 2006, in the area of social security for seafarers and the new guidelines for model national provisions relating to MLC, 2006.

140. In November 2012, the DWT/CO–Cairo participated in a joint mission to South Sudan together with DECLARATION and IPEC. The workshop included, inter alia, the promotion of the ratification of the last unratified fundamental Convention – the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), the Government expressing every intention of ratifying it. The workshop was also an occasion to follow up on the ratification by South Sudan of the 1986 and 1997 Amendments to the ILO Constitution.

141. At the request of the Department of Labour, the ILS specialist from the DWT/CO–Pretoria conducted a tripartite inter-ministerial workshop to introduce the participants with the four ILO Conventions that South Africa is currently considering to ratify, namely the Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81), the Indigenous and Tribal Peoples Convention, 1989 (No. 169), the Private Employment Agencies Convention, 1997 (No. 181), as well as the Domestic Workers Convention, 2011 (No. 189). It is noteworthy that government representatives made detailed presentations on the domestic situation of these Conventions as well as on the work undertaken nationally in this regard.

142. In the area of child labour, it is to be noted that in 2012, following the assistance provided by DWT/CO–Dakar (through the work of its technical cooperation projects and the child labour specialist), three countries covered by ILO Dakar (Benin, Burkina Faso and Senegal) have adopted the National Plan of Action to fight child labour, in application of Convention No. 182 and the ILO Global Plan of Action adopted in 2006. Furthermore, it is with the support of DWT/CO–Dakar that the Council of Ministers of the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS) has adopted a Regional Plan of Action to fight child labour which is to be submitted to the ECOWAS Heads of State in 2013.

143. Cabo Verde and Benin have both benefited in 2012 from technical consultative services in relation to Convention No. 87 as regards civil requisition and the right to strike, respectively, and DWT/CO–Dakar is awaiting the Government's feedback in relation to the social partners' recommendations.

144. Following a request from the Government of Benin, a study followed up by a validation workshop was held in Benin concerning the Private Employment Agencies Convention, 1997 (No. 181). As a result, a draft legislation on the subject is about to be submitted to the Government for onward transmission to the National Assembly as the tripartite constituents have all recognized the need to legislate on that matter.

145. Technical assistance was also provided to Guinea and Mauritania on the Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81), to ensure better application of the provisions of the Convention, in particular the inspection aspects (labour inspectors in the subregion tend to focus on mediation/conciliation activities rather than proper inspection). Follow-up activities are to be realized in 2013 to ensure that participants have respected their undertakings and to share experience on the obstacles encountered.

146. After a promotional activity on Conventions Nos 100 and 111 in Togo, participants have suggested that a study on discrimination in Togo (including a study on the feasibility of setting up a special body to fight against discrimination) be undertaken. A consultant has been hired and its report should be available by the end of January 2013. The study will be submitted to a national tripartite validation workshop which will adopt a set of recommendations. Finally, trade unions from Niger have benefited from a sensitization activity on how to better organize women workers to ensure respect of the principles enshrined in the Equal Remuneration Convention, 1951 (No. 100).

Americas

147. In March 2012, a mission took place to Canada to present the Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81), to the tripartite constituents in the framework of the annual federal, provincial, territorial workshop on Canada–ILO issues and to attend, at the request of the Government, a preliminary technical discussion concerning the capacity of Canada to ratify this Convention. During that meeting, the tripartite constituents expressed an interest in further exploring the prospects of ratification of Convention No. 81 and its 1995 Protocol.

148. In March 2012, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–San José participated, at the request of the Legislative Assembly of Costa Rica, in an activity concerning the content and scope of the Domestic Workers Convention, 2011 (No. 189).

149. Missions were carried out in Saint Kitts and Nevis (February 2012) and Dominica, Saint Lucia and Trinidad and Tobago (July 2012) by the Director of NORMES, together with the standards specialist of DWT/CO–Port-of-Spain, for the purpose of promoting the ratification of various ILS, including Convention No. 138 and the MLC, 2006, and discussing labour legislation issues.

150. In Chile, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Santiago participated in a seminar to promote the ratification of the Safety and Health in Mines Convention, 1995 (No. 176), conducted by the National Confederation of Workers of the Electro-Metallurgical, Mining and Automotive Industries of Chile (CONSFETEMA) in the aftermath of the 2010 accident at the San José mine. The gender and standards specialists conducted information and awareness-raising activities on the Domestic Workers Convention, 2011 (No. 189), for the tripartite constituents in the countries of South America. Uruguay was the first country to ratify this Convention, doing so in June 2012.

151. In Peru, in October 2012, the ILO Regional Office participated in a public hearing in the National Congress to promote Convention No. 189 and Recommendation No. 201, as well as in various training and technical assistance activities in trade unions related to the abovementioned ILS. Training events have also been held for Conventions Nos 81, 87 and 98 on labour inspection, freedom of association and collective bargaining, respectively. In 2012, assistance was given to train new labour inspectors in Colombia.

Arab States

152. As the national tripartite constituents expressed strong interest in the ratification of Conventions Nos 87 and 98, a Tripartite Workshop on Social Dialogue was held in Muscat (Oman) in May 2012, jointly by the Beirut Regional Office, NORMES and DIALOGUE, to explain the contents of the Conventions and to explore the national legislation for its compatibility with these instruments.

153. In cooperation with the ILO project on migrant domestic workers, the standards specialist of DWT/CO–Beirut held, in May–June 2012, a series of workshops in the Arab region for the social partners, NGOs and the media on the subject of decent working conditions for domestic workers, taking as a basis the provisions of the newly adopted Convention No. 189, and Recommendation No. 201. During a major wage dispute in Jordan (February 2012), the standards specialist fostered understanding of the underlying principles of the Minimum Wage Fixing Convention, 1970 (No. 131), among the Government and the social partners.

154. Furthermore, during the Doha Forum on Decent Work and Poverty Reduction (October 2012) organized by the International Institute for Family Studies and Development in Qatar with the support of the ILO, the Office presented a paper on “Promoting social dialogue and respecting and realizing fundamental principles and rights at work” and the standards specialist of DWT/CO–Beirut acted as discussant. During the First National Conference on OSH in Bahrain on “Safety Education for Decent and Safe Work” (May 2012), the Office submitted a paper on “Promoting a preventive safety and health culture – ILO OSH standards” and the standards specialist acted as discussant.

Asia

155. In May and July 2012, the standards specialist of DWT/CO–Bangkok undertook missions to the Philippines to advise the Department of Labor and Employment on the provisions of the Domestic Workers Convention, 2011 (No. 189), in support of its efforts to lobby the Senate for its ratification. On 6 August 2012, the Senate ratified the Convention.

156. In May 2012, a mission to Timor-Leste was undertaken by the standards specialist of DWT/CO–Bangkok to present upon the ILS system and renew the call to ratify the fundamental Conventions Nos 100, 105, 111 and 138 as yet unratified by Timor-Leste.

157. Through its standards specialist, DWT/CO–New Delhi carried out various promotional activities in the following countries:

- ❑ India: promotion of principles of fundamental Conventions in the textiles global supply chain (four times in 2012); promotion in September 2012 of the ratification of the Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 (No. 188); and promotion in November 2012 of the ratification of the Conventions relating to child labour;
- ❑ Afghanistan: activities to promote the Employment Policy Convention, 1964 (No. 122), and the Minimum Wage Fixing Convention, 1970 (No. 131).

Europe

158. In June 2012, NORMES participated in the “Migrants at Work” research seminar at the University of Oxford in the United Kingdom and presented a joint NORMES–International Migration Branch (MIGRANT) paper on “Migrant workers and the right to non-discrimination and equality”. The purpose of the seminar was to explore the inter-linkages between labour law, migration law and migration status.

Specific activities undertaken in collaboration with other international organizations concerning international labour standards

A. United Nations system

159. International labour standards and the provisions of the UN human rights treaties related to them are complementary and mutually reinforcing. Close cooperation between the ILO and the UN in relation to its human rights treaties is therefore an important strategy to enhance the influence of ILO standards and to ensure consistency and coherence within the UN system with regard to human rights at work.

160. In this context, it is also important to recall that, drawing on the lessons learnt through the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), reflection has started globally on what a post-2015 agenda should look like so as to be anchored in the core values of human rights, equality and sustainability. With a view to being active in this process and ensuring that decent work is accepted as a core component of the post-2015 agenda, the Governing Body decided at its 316th Session (November 2012) that the ILO should develop and implement a strategy for the adoption of full and productive employment and decent work as an explicit goal of the global development agenda beyond 2015, including a reference to the need for social protection floors. To this end, the ILO will prepare concept papers to support constituents in their national engagement in the debate on the post-2015 development agenda and strengthen its support to constituents so as to assist countries that are still lagging behind in meeting the relevant MDGs.²⁵

Cooperation with United Nations human rights treaty bodies

161. The Office has undertaken activities with the UN human rights bodies responsible for supervising the application of the following instruments:

- ❑ International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights.
- ❑ International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights.
- ❑ Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women.
- ❑ International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination.
- ❑ Convention on the Rights of the Child.
- ❑ International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of Migrant Workers and Members of Their Families.
- ❑ Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.

162. The Office regularly submits reports to the different treaty bodies containing standards-related information regarding the countries examined by them. These ILO reports include information on the ratification of ILO Conventions relevant to the provisions of the respective UN human rights treaties, summaries of the findings and recommendations of the ILO supervisory bodies and information on ILO technical assistance, as appropriate. In addition, Office representatives participate in the sessions of the treaty bodies and provide oral advice and information on specific countries or particular subjects. The Office also contributes to specific working groups or sessions of the treaty bodies (United Nations Working Group on discrimination against women in law and in practice, Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW), etc.) and the general comments elaborated by these treaty bodies concerning issues that come within the ILO's remit (e.g. Committee on Migrant Workers (CMW) draft general comment No. 2 on irregular migrant workers).

Cooperation with the Human Rights Council

163. The Office has continued to promote ILS in the context of the United Nations Human Rights Council. With respect to the Universal Periodic Review, the Office regularly draws the attention of the UN secretariat to the available reports of the ILO supervisory bodies. The documentation prepared by the UN secretariat as a basis for the Universal Periodic Review includes information on the ratification of fundamental ILO Conventions by the country under review, as well as references to the comments of the Committee of Experts. The Office also contributes to the work of the other mechanisms and mandates set up by the Council, including the Expert Mechanism on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, and the work of Special Rapporteurs. In particular, the Office has continued to collaborate with the Special Rapporteur on the rights of indigenous peoples, and has initiated discussions with the newly appointed Special Rapporteur on the rights of peaceful assembly and of association. The Office was also represented at a meeting of experts organized by the UN Independent Expert on Minority Issues, on "Discrimination on the basis of work and descent: Next steps for engaging the UN human rights system and special procedures".

164. Within the United Nations Development Group (UNDG), the Office continued to be active in the UNDG Human Rights Mainstreaming Mechanism (UNDG-HRM) including assisting in the revision of the UN Common Learning Package for UN Country Teams involved in the UNDAF process, ensuring ILS were reflected in the package and highlighting their complementarity with other human rights standards. Thus, on 17 February 2012, NORMES participated in the UNDG-HRM Senior Policy Retreat with a view to defining a common vision and strategy for mainstreaming human rights into the current and emerging development agendas (especially the Quadrennial Comprehensive Policy Review (QCPR) of UN operational activities for development, the Outcome of the United Nations Conference on Sustainable Development (Rio +20) and the UN Post-2015 Development Agenda). It was found that without explicit orientation by the ILO, none of the draft statements would have made specific reference to decent work, labour rights and fundamental rights at work. The importance was therefore highlighted of ensuring that decent work was included as a human right and that the ILO's fundamental Conventions and supervisory bodies are referred to as human rights instruments and mechanisms.

Cooperation with other United Nations bodies and entities

165. The ILO continues to develop its relations with the IMO. The two organizations have complementary mandates in respect of merchant shipping: the ILO is responsible for social issues and those to do with labour, while the IMO addresses other aspects. The IMO has officially recognized the MLC, 2006, as the fourth pillar of international maritime law, alongside the three IMO Conventions dealing with safety of life at sea; standards of training, certification and watchkeeping for seafarers; and prevention of pollution from ships (SOLAS, STCW and MARPOL). The IMO also encourages ratification of the MLC, 2006, by its State members. Furthermore, the ILO is working together with the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) in respect of the implementation of the Seafarers' Identity Documents Convention (Revised), 2003 (No. 185), which provides that seafarers' identity documents must be in line with certain specifications established by the ICAO.

B. Council of Europe

European Code of Social Security and its Protocol

166. NORMES continues to work with the competent services of the Council of Europe regarding the monitoring of the application of the European Code of Social Security and the European Social Charter. In the light of the monitoring procedure established by the European Code of Social Security, and the arrangements concluded between the Council of Europe and the ILO, each year the Committee of Experts examines the reports submitted on the application of the Code by the States parties thereto.²⁶ Furthermore, in accordance with article 26 of the European Social Charter, a representative of NORMES participates in an advisory capacity in the sessions of the European Committee of Social Rights, which is responsible for supervising the application of the Charter and the revised Charter. In particular, an exchange of views with the European Committee took place at its 259th Session in September 2012 in Strasbourg (France).

C. European Union

167. At the invitation of the International Trade Committee of the European Parliament (INTA), the Office briefed INTA on 12 July 2012 on the assessment by the ILO supervisory bodies of the situation of freedom of association and child labour in a number of non-EU countries, including: Colombia, Georgia, Pakistan, Philippines, Uzbekistan, as well as West African cocoa-producing countries. This collaboration with the various European instances on labour-related matters in a number of countries of interest to the EU was undertaken in light of the recent free trade agreements with trade and sustainable development chapters including commitments to promote and effectively implement the fundamental ILO Conventions.

168. The close collaboration on ILS between the Office and the EU is illustrated by the following activities:

- ❑ meeting with the European Commission in Brussels, Belgium (February 2012);
- ❑ presentation to the EU Committee on International Trade in Brussels, Belgium (February 2012);
- ❑ presentation about the relation between coordination among the EU and respect of EU law in Brussels, Belgium (March 2012);
- ❑ participation in the thematic days of world solidarity in Brussels, Belgium (June 2012);
- ❑ participation in the 30th meeting of the EU–Turkey Joint Consultative Committee in Berlin, Germany (June 2012).

²⁶ In this regard, see paras 131 and 132 of the General Report of the Committee of Experts.

Appendix I. General information

I. Information on ILO membership

Palau and South Sudan became Members of the ILO on 29 May and 29 April 2012, respectively. This brings the Organization's membership up to 185.

II. Entry into force of international labour Conventions

On 20 August 2012, the Director-General of the International Labour Office registered the ratifications by the Philippines and the Russian Federation of the Maritime Labour Convention, 2006. The criteria for the entry into force of the Convention have now been met and the Convention will come into force on 20 August 2013.

On 5 September 2012, the Director-General of the International Labour Office registered the ratification by the Philippines of the Domestic Workers Convention, 2011 (No. 189). The criteria for the entry into force of the Convention have now been met and the Convention will come into force on 5 September 2013.

III. Information on ratifications, denunciations and declarations of application

Ratifications

Since 1 January 2012, 64 ratifications of international labour Conventions and a ratification of a Protocol were registered, bringing the total number of ratifications of Conventions as on 31 December 2012 to 7,847.

Denunciations resulting from the ratification of a more recent Convention in the same subject area

Following the ratification of the Minimum Age Convention, 1973 (No. 183), by Montenegro, the Maternity Protection Convention (Revised), 1952 (No. 103), was automatically denounced.

Following the ratification of the Minimum Age Convention, 1973 (No. 183), by The former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, the Maternity Protection Convention (Revised), 1952 (No. 103), was automatically denounced.

Denunciations

The Director-General registered, on 11 September 2012, the denunciation by Montenegro of the Maternity Protection Convention, 1919 (No. 3).

The Director-General registered, on 27 February 2012, the denunciation by the Philippines of the Night Work (Women) Convention (Revised), 1948 (No. 89).

Declaration of application

The Director-General registered, on 17 April 2012, the notification from the Government of China concerning the application without modification of the Final Articles Revision Convention, 1946 (No. 80), to the Macau Special Administrative Region.

Part III. Country profiles

The following country profiles provide information on the ratification and application of Conventions and on the submission of instruments adopted by the Conference to the competent authorities in a table format by country.*

The ratifications section indicates which fundamental Conventions, governance Conventions, and other Conventions a country has ratified as of 31 December 2012. It does not list Conventions which have been denounced or which are not in force.

The section on reports requested indicates how many reports were requested from the country in 2012 and how many were received. Under articles 22 and 35 of the ILO Constitution, member States are required to submit reports at regular intervals on the application of Conventions which they have ratified or declared applicable to their non metropolitan territories. If a report requested was a first detailed report (which is required in the case of a newly ratified Convention), the number of the Convention appears in parentheses.

A new section has been included as of 2009 on cases discussed before the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards since 1985, as well as on cases active before the Committee on Freedom of Association. The list does not include comments made by the Committee in previous sessions for which action by governments is still requested.

The section on submissions indicates the sessions of the ILC of which adopted instruments have, or have not, been submitted by governments to the authority or authorities competent to consider further action, as required under article 19 of the Constitution. In 1947, at its 103rd Session, the Governing Body of the ILO decided that, as from the coming into force of the constitutional amendment of 1946, the mandate of the Committee of Experts would be extended to matters related to the constitutional obligation of submission to competent authorities under article 19 of the ILO Constitution. The Committee of Experts started monitoring compliance with this constitutional provision as of 1948, with the instruments adopted by the ILC at its 31st Session. The number of the Conventions, Recommendations or Protocols is given in parentheses, preceded by the letter “C”, “R”, or “P” as the case may be, when only some of the texts adopted at any one session have been submitted. When the ratification of a Convention was registered, that Convention and the corresponding Recommendation are considered as submitted.
