Reader's note

The Information document on ratifications and standards-related activities (Report III (Part 2)) provides an overview of developments in international labour standards during 2014. It supplements the information contained in the report of the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations (Report III) (Part 1A). Part I provides general information on recent developments concerning international labour standards, constitutional and other procedures in relation to the supervision of standards, and technical assistance in the field of standards. Part II provides information on the ratification of individual Conventions and Protocols in table format. Part III contains “country profiles” which bring together information on the ratification and application of Conventions and on the submission of instruments adopted by the International Labour Conference to the competent authorities in a table format by country.

Part I. General information on international labour standards

Standards policy

A. Improvements to standards-related activities

1. Developments arising from the discussions in the Governing Body

Standards policy and the ILO standards initiative

1. The ILO Declaration on Social Justice for a Fair Globalization, 2008, reaffirms that the Organization must promote its standard-setting policy as a cornerstone of its activities by enhancing its relevance to the world of work, and ensures the role of standards as a useful means of achieving the constitutional objectives of the Organization.
2. In November 2010, there was consensus in the Governing Body that the ILO standards policy involved the following components:
 - ❑ the determination of the best means for keeping the body of standards up to date;
 - ❑ the identification of standards in need of revision or other action;
 - ❑ the identification of up-to-date standards, and their promotion;
 - ❑ the determination of new subjects and approaches for standard setting; and
 - ❑ the preparation and adoption of standards.
3. In November 2011, the Governing Body agreed to the establishment of a Standards Review Mechanism (SRM). The purpose of the SRM is to ensure that the ILO has a clearly defined, robust and up-to-date body of international labour standards. The Governing Body invited further tripartite consultations on the modalities of the SRM and noted at its 313th Session (March 2012) the need to continue the consultations on the matter. The discussions on the ILO standards policy and the SRM were suspended in the context of the decision taken by the Conference at its 101st Session (2012) to refer certain matters arising from the report of the Committee on the Application of Standards to the Governing Body. In its Report to the 102nd Session (2013) of the Conference, the Director-General proposed as part of the ILO centenary initiatives, the standards initiative “to consolidate tripartite consensus on an authoritative supervisory system and to enhance the relevance of international labour standards through a standards review mechanism”.¹

¹ ILO: Towards the ILO centenary: Realities, renewal and tripartite commitment, Report of the Director-General, International Labour Conference, 102nd Session, Geneva, 2013, Report I(A), para. 155(2).

4. The Governing Body discussed matters pertaining to the standard initiative at its 319th (October 2013), 320th (March 2014) and 322nd (November 2014) Sessions.

5. At its 322nd Session (October–November 2014), the Governing Body took the following decision:

Decision on the fifth item on the agenda: The standards initiative: Follow-up to the 2012 ILC Committee on the Application of Standards

Further to the wide-ranging discussion held under the fifth item on the agenda of the Institutional Section, the Governing Body decided to:

- (1) convene a three-day tripartite meeting in February 2015, open to observers with speaking rights through their group, to be chaired by the Chairperson of the Governing Body and composed of 32 Governments, 16 Employers and 16 Workers with a view to reporting to the 323rd Session (March 2015) of the Governing Body on:
 - ❑ the question of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87) in relation to the right to strike; and
 - ❑ the modalities and practices of strike action at national level;
- (2) place on the agenda of its 323rd Session, the outcome and report from this meeting on the basis of which the Governing Body will take a decision on the necessity or not for a request to the International Court of Justice to render an urgent advisory opinion concerning the interpretation of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87) in relation to the right to strike;
- (3) take the necessary steps to ensure the effective functioning of the Committee on the Application of Standards at the 104th Session of the International Labour Conference, and to this end reconvene the Working Group on the Working Methods of the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards to prepare recommendations to the 323rd Session of the Governing Body in March 2015, in particular with regard to the establishment of the list of cases and the adoption of conclusions;
- (4) defer at this stage further consideration of the possible establishment of a tribunal in accordance with article 37(2) of the Constitution;
- (5) as part of this package, refer to the 323rd Session of the Governing Body the following:
 - (a) the launch of the Standards Review Mechanism (SRM), and to this effect establish a tripartite working party composed of 16 Governments, eight Employers and eight Workers to make proposals to the 323rd Session of the Governing Body in March 2015 on the modalities, scope and timetable of the implementation of the SRM;
 - (b) a request to the Chairperson of the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations (CEACR), Judge Abdul Koroma (Sierra Leone), and the Chairperson of the Committee on Freedom of Association (CFA), Professor Paul van der Heijden (Netherlands), to jointly prepare a report on the interrelationship, functioning and possible improvement of the various supervisory procedures related to articles 22, 23, 24 and 26 of the ILO Constitution and the complaints mechanism on freedom of association.²

Other standards-related activities

Maritime Labour Convention, 2006 (MLC, 2006)

6. Following the entry into force of the MLC, 2006, on 20 August 2013, the Governing Body decided to convene the first meeting of the Special Tripartite Committee (STC) which had been established in accordance with Article XIII of the MLC, 2006. One of the most important responsibilities of the STC is to consider proposals for amendments to the Code of the Convention, in accordance with Article XV of the MLC, 2006. The STC met in Geneva in April 2014 and adopted two sets of amendments to the Code of the Convention, related to two important issues: the abandonment of seafarers; and claims for compensation in the event of a seafarer's death or long-term disability due to an occupational injury, illness or hazard. At its 103rd Session (June 2014), the Conference approved these amendments. At its 322nd Session (October–November 2014), the Governing Body decided to convene the second meeting of the STC in the first quarter of 2016, subject to financial arrangements being made for this purpose.³

² Document GB.322/INS/5(Add.2), para. 1, as amended according to the Governing Body discussion.

International cooperation relating to the Seafarers' Identity Documents Convention (Revised), 2003 (No. 185)

7. The Governing Body, at its 320th Session (March 2014), based on discussions relating to action to be taken to address certain matters concerning the implementation of Convention No. 185, decided to hold a meeting involving both maritime and visa experts to address the issues involved in the implementation of the Convention. The Meeting of Experts is to take place from 4 to 6 February 2015.⁴

Choice of Conventions and Recommendations on which reports should be requested under article 19 of the Constitution in 2015

8. At its 321st Session (June 2014), the Governing Body decided to request governments to submit in 2015, under article 19 of the Constitution, reports on the labour migration instruments with a view to the preparation of the General Survey by the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations (CEACR) in 2015 and its discussion by the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards in 2016. It also approved the corresponding report. With respect to the General Survey to be conducted by the CEACR in 2016 and discussed by the Conference in 2017, at its 322nd Session (October–November 2014):

The Governing Body requested the Office to prepare for the consideration of its 323rd Session (March 2015) a draft report form for the General Survey for 2016 concerning the Safety and Health in Construction Convention, 1988 (No. 167), the Safety and Health in Mines Convention, 1995 (No. 176), and the Safety and Health in Agriculture Convention, 2001 (No. 184), and their respective Recommendations in the context of the Promotional Framework for Occupational Safety and Health Convention, 2006 (No. 187), and its corresponding Recommendation, taking into account the conclusions of the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations in its General Survey of 2009 concerning the Occupational Safety and Health Convention, 1981 (No. 155), the Occupational Safety and Health Recommendation, 1981 (No. 164), and the Protocol of 2002 to the Occupational Safety and Health Convention, 1981, as well as the related discussion and conclusions of the Committee on the Application of Standards of the International Labour Conference at its 98th Session (2009).⁵

2. Enhanced access to the standards system and broader visibility

9. Following the successful launch in 2012 of the new information system NORMLEX, the Office moved to the next step with the implementation of an online reporting system, in which a few countries participated for the 2012 and 2013 reporting

³ GB.322/LILS/3 and GB.322/LILS/PV/Draft, para. 17.

⁴ GB.320/LILS/5 and GB.320/PV, para. 617.

⁵ GB.322/LILS/4, para. 7, as amended according to the Governing Body discussion, and GB.322/PV/Draft, para. 518.

exercises. In March 2014, the online reporting system was extended to all ILO member States wishing to use this new facility for the 2014 reporting exercise.

10. As far as the NATLEX database is concerned, between 1 January and 31 December 2014, more than 3,000 new entries were made in the database, an average of around 260 per month. Since the NATLEX application had not been changed substantially since its original deployment over a decade ago, NORMES launched in the second half of 2014 a redesigned NATLEX public application with several enhancements and a modern interface similar to the NORMLEX design.

11. In terms of publications, Rules of the game: A brief introduction to international labour standards, which was first published in 2005 to help the ILO's constituents as well as non-specialists and the general public to better understand the essence of ILO Conventions and Recommendations, the application and supervision of international labour standards and their importance in the global economy, was revised for a second time in October 2014. It was deemed appropriate to revise the second edition, in particular to integrate recently adopted instruments, to take into account the entry into force of the MLC, 2006, as well as to put into perspective the key role international labour standards can play in the context of the ongoing employment crisis.

3. Instrument of Amendment to the ILO Constitution of 1997

12. The Instrument of Amendment, 1997, of the ILO Constitution, the purpose of which is to enable the Conference to abrogate Conventions that have become obsolete, will enter into force once it has been ratified or accepted by two-thirds of the Members of the Organization (124/185). A campaign for ratification has been launched with a view to promoting the entry into force of this Instrument of Amendment, which has, to date, received 122 ratifications or acceptances. The last ratification, that of South Sudan, was registered on 30 November 2012.⁶

B. Agenda of future sessions of the International Labour Conference

13. The applicable rules concerning the agenda of the International Labour Conference are set out in the ILO Constitution,⁷ the Standing Orders of the International Labour Conference⁸ and the Standing Orders of the Governing Body.⁹ The agenda of the Conference consists of standing and ad hoc items.

14. The following standing items are required to be included by the Governing Body on the Conference agenda each year:

- ❑ reports of the Chairperson of the Governing Body and of the Director-General;
- ❑ financial and budgetary questions; and
- ❑ information and reports on the application of Conventions and Recommendations.

15. It has also become the practice to include on the Conference agenda three additional ad hoc items, with a view either to a general discussion or to standard setting.

⁶ See the list of countries that have ratified or accepted the Instrument of Amendment in Appendix II.

⁷ Articles 14(1) and 16(3).

⁸ In particular, articles 7, 7bis, 8 and 12.

⁹ Section 5 and article 6.2.

For standard-setting items, while a double discussion remains the norm, the Governing Body may decide to hold a single discussion. The ad hoc items to be placed on the Conference agenda are considered at two successive sessions of the Governing Body. In accordance with current practice, the Governing Body holds its first discussion of proposed items for future sessions of the Conference at its November session.

16. The Declaration on Social Justice for a Fair Globalization, 2008 (the Social Justice Declaration), and its follow-up introduced a scheme of recurrent discussions by the Conference so as to understand better the diverse realities and needs of its members with respect to each of the ILO's strategic objectives, respond more effectively to them using all the means of action at its disposal, and adjust its priorities and programmes of action accordingly.¹⁰ Recurrent discussions are intended to play a key role in the setting of the overall Conference agenda. The Governing Body initially decided that these recurrent discussions would follow a seven-year cycle,¹¹ with employment, fundamental principles and rights at work, and social protection being discussed twice, and social dialogue being discussed once,¹² according to the following sequence: employment (first recurrent discussion, 2010); social protection (social security) (first recurrent discussion, 2011); fundamental principles and rights at work (first recurrent discussion, 2012); social dialogue (first recurrent discussion, 2013); employment (second recurrent discussion, 2014); social protection (labour protection) (second recurrent discussion, 2015); and fundamental principles and rights at work (second recurrent discussion, 2016).

17. This sequence was subsequently adjusted following the Governing Body's decision to place the evaluation of the impact of the Social Justice Declaration on the agenda of the 105th Session (2016) of the Conference, and to defer the second recurrent discussion on fundamental principles and rights at work from the 105th Session (2016) to the 106th Session (2017).

A strategic and coherent approach to the setting of the Conference agenda

18. At its 322nd Session (October–November 2014), the Governing Body adopted the concept of a strategic and coherent approach to the setting of the Conference agenda for the 106th (2017), 107th (2018) and 108th (2019) Sessions of the Conference, having regard in particular to the following elements: the window of opportunity provided by the preparation of the centenary session of the Conference, enhanced coherence between the Conference agenda and other processes that contribute to the strategic orientation of the ILO, the building of tripartite ownership and the need to ensure adequate flexibility in the selection of Conference agenda items. In this framework, the Governing Body will further discuss the agenda of future sessions of the Conference at its 323rd Session (March 2015), including the consideration of three proposed items: (i) effective ILO development cooperation in a changing global context (general discussion); (ii) violence against women and men in the world of work (standard setting, double discussion); (iii) labour migration (general discussion).¹³

19. At this stage, as a result of the decisions taken by the Governing Body, the ad hoc items placed on the agenda of the Conference for the next three years are as follows:

¹⁰ Social Justice Declaration, Part II(A)(i), and Annex, Part II(B)(i).

¹¹ Under Part II(B) of the Annex to the Declaration, the modalities of recurrent discussions are agreed by the Governing Body.

¹² GB.304/PV, para. 183(b).

¹³ GB.322/INS/2 and GB.322/PV/Draft, para. 17.

Constitutional and other procedures

A. Measures taken under article 26 of the ILO Constitution

20. Complaints may be filed under article 26 of the Constitution alleging that a member State that has ratified a Convention is not securing its effective observance. Complaints may be filed by another member State that has ratified the same Convention, a delegate to the ILC, or the Governing Body of its own capacity. The Governing Body may appoint a Commission of Inquiry to consider the complaint. Findings of the Commission of Inquiry are followed up by the Committee of Experts or the Committee on Freedom of Association.

Bahrain

21. A complaint was presented on 15 June 2011 by a number of Workers' delegates to the 100th Session (2011) of the International Labour Conference pursuant to article 26 of the ILO Constitution, against the Government of Bahrain alleging violations of the Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, 1958 (No. 111). The receivability of the complaint was examined by the Governing Body at its 312th (November 2011), 313th (March 2012), 316th (November 2012), 317th (March 2013), 319th (October 2013) Sessions, and its 320th Session (March 2014).

22. In November 2011, the Governing Body decided to defer all consideration of the complaint until its following session, following the proposal from the Government of Bahrain to establish a tripartite committee at the national level that would address the issue of dismissals and reinstatements referred to in the complaint, and to submit a progress report to the Director-General.¹⁴ Three Office missions visited the country: the first mission took place from 29 February to 11 March 2012, in response to a request sent by the General Federation of Bahrain Trade Unions (GFBTU) to the ILO Director-General. In the course of this mission, on 11 March 2012, the tripartite constituents signed a Tripartite Agreement concerning the issues raised in the complaint.¹⁵ At the request of the GFBTU, a further mission of the Office took place from 7 to 10 October 2012. While some progress was made, it was not possible to reach an agreement in the course of the mission.¹⁶ Following an invitation of the Governing Body in March 2013 to gather all relevant information concerning the implementation of the Tripartite Agreement of 2012¹⁷ a further mission took place on 7 and 8 October 2013.¹⁸

23. On 10 March 2014, the Office received the "Tripartite Agreement on the Final Settlement of the Cases concerning the Dismissed Workers" signed by the Government, the GFBTU and the Bahrain Chamber of Commerce and Industry (BCCI). The Office also received a letter signed by the abovementioned signatories to the Supplementary Tripartite Agreement of 2014, requesting the Governing Body to consider that the complaint called for no further action on its part. At its 320th Session, in March 2014, the Governing Body welcomed the Supplementary Tripartite Agreement of 2014 reached by the Government, the GFBTU and the BCCI which, together with the Tripartite Agreement of 2012, addressed all the issues contained in the complaint and provided for measures to settle all the remaining matters; invited the CEACR, in its examination of the application by the Government of Bahrain of the Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, 1958 (No. 111), to follow up on the implementation of the Tripartite Agreement of 2012, as well as the Supplementary Tripartite Agreement of 2014; and invited the Office to provide technical assistance, if so required by the Government of Bahrain, the GFBTU and the BCCI for the full and effective implementation of the agreements referred to above.

¹⁴ GB.312/INS/16/1, para. 2, as amended.

¹⁵ GB.313/INS/13/1, paras 8–9 and Appendix I.

24. The Governing Body also decided that the complaint called for no further action on its part and declared closed the procedure under article 26 of the ILO Constitution concerning the abovementioned complaint.¹⁹

Belarus

25. It will be recalled that at its 288th Session (November 2003), the Governing Body established a Commission of Inquiry to examine the observance by the Government of Belarus of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), and the Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98). The Governing Body noted the report of the Commission of Inquiry in November 2004 and entrusted the Committee on Freedom of Association with the responsibility of supervising and following up the Committee's recommendations, as well as those made by the Committee of Experts in its periodic review of these Conventions. In June 2013, the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards invited the Government to accept a direct contacts mission with a view to obtaining a full picture of the trade union rights situation in the country and assisting the Government in the rapid and effective implementation of all outstanding recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry. At its 320th Session (March 2014), the Governing Body had before it a report of the direct contacts mission which visited the country in January 2014. The direct contacts mission concluded that, while the situation of trade union rights had evolved, there had been no fundamental change or significant progress in implementing the Commission of Inquiry's recommendations to amend the legislation in force. Furthermore, while some previously raised problems had become less acute, new problems had arisen. The Governing Body took note of the information provided in the report and provided guidance for the Office.

26. In June 2014, the Conference Committee noted that in the light of the findings and concrete proposals formulated by the direct contacts mission, the Government has accepted ILO technical assistance to conduct a series of activities aimed at improving social dialogue and cooperation between the tripartite constituents at all levels, as well as enhancing knowledge and awareness of freedom of association rights. It took note of the Government's statement that these activities would contribute to the effective implementation of the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry and expressed the hope that these activities would give rise to concrete results. The Conference Committee invited the Government to submit detailed information on the results of the abovementioned activities and all other measures taken to implement the outstanding recommendations of the ILO supervisory bodies to the Committee of Experts at its meeting this year, and trusted that it would be in a position to note significant progress with respect to all remaining matters at its next session. It decided to include its conclusions in a special paragraph of its report.

¹⁹ GB.320/INS/15/1, para. 20, as amended.

Fiji

27. At its 319th Session (October 2013), the Governing Body decided that the article 26 complaint brought by some Workers' delegates to the 102nd Session (2013) of the ILC against the Government of Fiji for non-observance of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), was receivable. At its 320th Session (March 2014), in the light of the continuing concerns regarding the trade union situation in Fiji, the Governing Body: (a) called once again on the Government of Fiji to accept the ILO direct contacts mission under the previously agreed terms of reference, which were based on the conclusions and recommendations of the ILO Committee on Freedom of Association on Case No. 2723; and (b) decided that, if the direct contacts mission did not take place in time for a report to its 322nd Session (October–November 2014), then the 322nd Session should appoint a Commission of Inquiry under article 26 of the ILO Constitution. The direct contacts mission took place from 6 to 11 October 2014 and its report was submitted to the Governing Body at its 322nd Session (October–November 2014).²⁰ Taking into account the information contained in the report, the Governing Body deferred until its 323rd Session (March 2015) the decision on the appointment of a Commission of Inquiry and invited the Government to provide follow-up information on the complaint.

Guatemala

28. In a statement addressed to the 101st Session of the Conference (June 2012), ten Workers' delegates filed a complaint under article 26 of the ILO Constitution against the Government of Guatemala for non-observance of Convention No. 87. At its 316th Session (November 2012) meeting, considering the complaint as receivable, the Governing Body requested the Office to obtain relevant information from the Government and employers' and workers' organizations of Guatemala, and report to the Governing Body at its March 2013 session.

29. At its 317th Session (March 2013), the Governing Body decided to defer, until its 319th Session (October 2013), the decision on the appointment of a commission of inquiry to examine the aforementioned complaint. The decision of the Governing Body was based on the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) signed on 26 March 2013 by the Workers' group of the ILO Governing Body and the Government of Guatemala. Pursuant to the MoU, an ILO representation was established in Guatemala at the beginning of July 2013, and it was agreed that a high-level tripartite mission would visit Guatemala to monitor compliance with the Memorandum of Understanding. This mission visited the country from 23 to 27 September 2013.

30. At its 319th Session (October 2013), the Governing Body decided to defer, until its 320th Session (March 2014), the decision on the appointment of a commission of inquiry. The decision of the Governing Body was based on the conclusions of the high-level mission and on the roadmap adopted by the Government of Guatemala in consultation with the social partners of the country with a view to expediting the application of the abovementioned MoU. At its 320th Session (March 2014), the Governing Body deferred the appointment of a commission of inquiry until its 322nd Session (October–November 2014), based on the information provided by the Government and by the social partners in Guatemala regarding the implementation of the Memorandum of Understanding and the roadmap. At its 322nd Session (October–November 2014), the Governing Body decided to defer until its 323rd Session (March 2015) the decision whether to appoint a commission of inquiry. The decision was based on the information provided by the

Government and the employers' and workers' organizations of Guatemala, and on the information gathered by the ILO mission which was undertaken in September 2014, in relation to the follow-up to the "roadmap" adopted on 17 October 2013 by the Government of Guatemala in consultation with the country's social partners, with a view to accelerating the implementation of the MoU concluded on 26 March 2013 between the Workers' group of the ILO Governing Body and the Government of Guatemala.

Qatar

31. At the 103rd Session of the Conference (June 2014), through a communication to the Director-General, 12 Workers' delegates filed a complaint under article 26 of the ILO Constitution against the Government of Qatar alleging non-observance of the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29), and the Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81). At its 322nd Session (October–November 2014), the Governing Body declared the complaint receivable and requested the Office to obtain relevant information from the Government and employers' and workers' organizations of Qatar and to report to the Governing Body in March 2015.

Zimbabwe

32. At its 303rd Session (November 2008), the Governing Body established a Commission of Inquiry to examine the observance by the Government of Zimbabwe of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), and the Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98). The Governing Body noted the Commission's report in March 2010. At the same session, the Governing Body supported the Commission's proposal that the ILO pursue its assistance to the Government and social partners in relation to the implementation of the Commission's recommendations.

33. At its 102nd Session (June 2013), the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards invited the Government to accept a high-level technical assistance mission to assess the obstacles to the rapid implementation of the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry and the full implementation of Convention No. 87, both in law and in practice. The mission visited Zimbabwe in February 2014 and received full cooperation from the Government.

B. Representations submitted under article 24 of the ILO Constitution

34. Representations may be filed under article 24 of the Constitution by industrial associations of employers or workers, alleging that a member State that has ratified a Convention has failed to secure within its jurisdiction the effective observance of that Convention. Once declared receivable, representations are examined by a tripartite committee established by the Governing Body. Their findings are followed up by the Committee of Experts. C. Special procedure concerning freedom of association

35. At its last meetings (March, June and November 2014), the Committee on Freedom of Association had before it more than 189 cases concerning 78 countries, for which it presented interim or final conclusions, or for which the examination was adjourned pending the arrival of information from governments (371st, 372nd and 373rd Reports). Many of these cases have been before the Committee on Freedom of association on more than one occasion. Moreover, two new cases have been submitted to it since the last meeting of the Committee of Experts. The Committee on Freedom of Association has drawn the attention of the Committee of Experts to the legislative aspects of Cases Nos 2963 (Chile), 2684 (Ecuador), 3013 (El Salvador), 2990 (Honduras) and 2892 (Turkey).

Technical assistance and cooperation

A. Follow-up missions to the conclusions adopted by the Conference at its recent sessions

Saudi Arabia

36. Following the conclusions of the Committee on the Application of Standards of the International Labour Conference at its 102nd Session (2013) and the issues raised by the Committee of Experts at its 84th Session (November–December 2013) on the application of the Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, 1958 (No. 111), a direct contacts mission visited Riyadh from 1 to 6 February 2014. The objectives of the mission related to the progress made in declaring and pursuing a national equality policy to address discrimination on all the grounds set out in Convention No. 111; examine the situation of men and women migrant workers, including domestic workers; and make suggestions with a view to assisting the Government and the social partners to continue to make tangible progress in the application of Convention No. 111. The mission noted the request for technical assistance in developing a national equality policy, including awareness raising, training and capacity building for government officials and agencies, including labour inspectors, as well as for the judiciary and for employer and worker representatives.

Islamic Republic of Iran

37. At its 102nd Session in June 2013, the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards urged the Government to accept a high-level mission with a view to examining all the issues raised by the Committee of Experts and the Conference Committee concerning the application of the Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, 1958 (No. 111). A high-level mission was undertaken by the Office from 4 to 8 May 2014. The objective of the mission was to assess and discuss with constituents and other stakeholders issues relating to discrimination against women, and religious and ethnic minorities, their equal opportunities with respect to education, training, employment and occupation, and relevant legislative matters. The mission also had the opportunity to discuss the latest developments concerning freedom of association in the country and possible solutions and the way forward with the Government and the social partners. During the mission, a need for technical assistance and knowledge-sharing was expressed with respect to research on the position of women in the labour market and decent work indicators, awareness raising among government officials and the wider public, activities to promote women's entrepreneurship including in new areas such as ICTs and green jobs, as well as, skills training for women, and capacity building for workers' organizations in the country. During the International Labour Conference in June 2014, an MoU was signed between the Ministry of Cooperatives, Labour and Social Welfare of the Government of the Islamic Republic of Iran and the International Training Centre of the ILO, specifying thematic priorities for future cooperation.

Kenya

38. A technical assistance mission took place in August 2014 to follow-up on the conclusions adopted by the ILC Committee on the Application of Standards in June 2013 concerning the application by Kenya of the Minimum Age Convention, 1973 (No. 138). The mission met with representatives from various Ministries as well as with the social partners to discuss implementation gaps in respect to the child labour

Conventions. The mission was informed that draft regulations on child labour, which the supervisory bodies have been requesting for a number of years, would be adopted shortly.

Paraguay

39. In June 2013, the Conference Committee examined the application by Paraguay of the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29), and asked the Office to provide reinforced and extended technical assistance. At the invitation of the Government, a multidisciplinary mission, headed by the Director of the International Labour Standards Department, visited the country in October 2014. The mission met with the Minister of Labour, Employment and Social Security, representatives of the social partners at the highest level and representatives of the judiciary and of other government institutions. In the framework of this mission, the representatives of the Government and of the social partners signed a memorandum of understanding on international labour standards, which makes provision, with the assistance and support of the ILO, for the introduction of a training and capacity-building programme on international labour standards, the conducting of a study into possible ways of bringing national legislation into conformity with the provisions of the standards ratified by Paraguay, the organizing of a national tripartite seminar on international labour standards related to collective bargaining, inter alia.

C. Promotional activities

(a) Activities to achieve rapid and widespread ratification and effective implementation of the Maritime Labour Convention, 2006 (MLC, 2006)

40. In September 2006, the International Labour Office adopted a five-year action plan (2006–11) to achieve rapid and widespread ratification and effective implementation of the MLC, 2006. The strategic approach adopted in this action plan was very successful in achieving its primary objective, and the MLC, 2006, accordingly entered into force on 20 August 2013. In so doing, it became binding international law for the first 30 Members that had registered ratifications on 20 August 2012.²¹ For Members with ratifications registered after 20 August 2012, in accordance with its Article VIII, paragraph 4, the MLC, 2006, will enter into force 12 months after the date on which the Member's ratification is registered by the Director-General. To date, 64 instruments of ratification have been received and registered with a total combined gross tonnage of nearly 80 per cent of the world gross tonnage. The registration of the ratification by two Members²² is still pending the receipt of the information regarding the branches of social security protection that are required by Standard A4.5, paragraphs 2 and 10, of the Convention.

41. In April 2014, the Special Tripartite Committee established under Article XIII of the MLC, 2006, held its first meeting and adopted a set of proposals for amendments to the Code of the Convention establishing mandatory requirements that shipowners have financial security to cover abandonment of seafarers, as well as compensation for seafarers or their families in the event of a seafarer's death or long-term disability of seafarers due to occupational injury and hazard.

42. In June 2014, at the 103rd Session of the International Labour Conference, the constituents voted overwhelmingly in favour of these amendments.²³ They have been subsequently circulated to member States for their consideration under the "tacit acceptance" procedure provided for in Article XV, paragraph 7, of the MLC, 2006, concerning the amendment of the Code of the Convention. It is expected that the amendments adopted will enter into force in early 2017, unless there is significant disagreement by the governments of ratifying States.²⁴

²¹ The ratifications by the following 30 Members had been registered on 20 August 2012, representing a total share of nearly 60 per cent of the world gross tonnage: Antigua and Barbuda, Australia, Bahamas, Benin, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Canada, Croatia, Cyprus, Denmark (which extended ratification to the Faeroe Islands), Kiribati, Latvia, Liberia, Luxembourg, Marshall Islands, Netherlands, Norway, Palau, Panama, Philippines, Poland, Russian Federation, Saint Kitts and Nevis, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, Singapore, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Togo and Tuvalu.

²² Lebanon and Montenegro have also ratified, but registration is pending.

²³ Adopted texts are available at: http://www.ilo.org/ilc/ILCSessions/103/reports/WCMS_248905/lang-en/index.htm.

²⁴ Paragraphs 7 and 8 of the MLC, 2006, prescribe a basic formula for the entry into force of amendments to the Code under the tacit acceptance procedure:

"7. An amendment approved by the Conference shall be deemed to have been accepted unless, by the end of the prescribed period, formal expressions of disagreement have been received by the Director-General from more than 40 per cent of the Members which have ratified the Convention and which represent not less than 40 per cent of the gross tonnage of the ships of the Members which have ratified the Convention.

43. As a related development, it is recalled that the Subcommittee on Wages of Seafarers of the Joint Maritime Commission met in February 2014 and updated the minimum monthly basic pay rate for able seafarers. The rate will be raised from US$585 to $592, as of 1 January 2015 and $614, as of 1 January 2016.

44. In addition to achieving the entry into force of the Convention, actions have been taken to ensure the effective implementation of the MLC, 2006, at the national level by strengthening the capacity of maritime labour inspection systems in flag and port States, well in advance of the entry into force of the Convention in those countries. By strengthening the inspection capacity at an early stage, it is hoped that ratifying countries will be better equipped to confront the immense workload of inspecting and certifying vessels by the entry into force of the Convention in these countries.

45. In this connection, the Office has devised several training courses and workshops that are mainly delivered through the Maritime Labour Academy established by the ITC–ILO:

- The ILO Maritime Labour Academy, which was launched in 2011, offers a programme composed of six specialized courses (Tracks 1 to 6). In addition to the “Training of trainers and maritime inspectors in the application of the ILO MLC, 2006” (Track 1), five new tracks were added to focus on: governments’ legal counsels involved in the transposition of the MLC, 2006 (Track 2); ships’ operators and officers (Track 3); seafarers and seafarers’ representatives (Track 4); the cruise industry (Track 5); and recruitment and placement agencies (Track 6).
- According to the data from the ITC–ILO, as of 26 August 2014: Track 1 was attended by 20 participants; and Track 2 was attended by 29 participants. Another edition of Track 1 will be held in September, a session of Track 3, in December; Track 4, in October; and Track 6, in September.

46. The Office has also responded to requests from Members for assistance in building their capacity to carry out the legal work necessary to move towards ratifying the MLC, 2006, such as adopting a coordinated approach with ILO regional or subregional offices to support nearly 40 national legal gap analyses. The Office has also provided technical assistance in the form of national workshops for tripartite constituents. For instance, a tripartite workshop took place in Namibia (February 2014), South Africa (March 2014), and Mauritius (May 2014) on the main provisions of the MLC, 2006. At the workshops in Namibia and South Africa, the Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 (No. 188), was also discussed. At the workshop in Mauritius, draft regulations implementing the MLC, 2006, were presented and discussed.

47. In October 2014, a Meeting of Experts was held to discuss and adopt guidelines on implementing the maritime safety and health provisions of the MLC, 2006. These guidelines will assist Members to implement requirements of Regulation 4.3 and the accompanying provisions of the Code concerning health and safety protection and accident prevention.

48. Finally, it will be recalled that the Governing Body, at its 320th Session (March 2014), decided to hold a meeting from 4 to 6 February 2015 involving both maritime and visa experts to examine the feasibility and to carry out a cost–benefit analysis of the various options, to address the issues involved in the implementation of the Seafarers’

8. An amendment deemed to have been accepted shall come into force six months after the end of the prescribed period for all the ratifying Members except those which had formally expressed their disagreement in accordance with paragraph 7 of this Article and have not withdrawn such disagreement ...”.

Identity Documents Convention (Revised), 2003 (No. 185), for ratifying and non-ratifying flag States, port States and seafarer supplying States, as well as for shipowners and seafarers.

- (b) Plan of action to improve the conditions of work of fishers through the widespread ratification and effective implementation of the Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 (No. 188)

49. The 2011–16 action plan to improve the conditions of work of fishers was adopted in November 2010. A tripartite meeting of experts will be held from 21 to 25 September 2015 to consider guidelines for flag State inspection under Convention No. 188.

- (c) Plan of action to achieve widespread ratification and effective implementation of OSH instruments (Convention No. 155, its 2002 Protocol, and Convention No. 187)

50. The plan of action to achieve widespread ratification and effective implementation of the three key OSH instruments²⁵ was adopted by the Governing Body in March 2010 and covers the period 2010–16. In the context of the implementation of this plan of action, activities have been carried out in the form of technical assistance given to countries, and promotional tools have been developed. Technical assistance consisted of the analysis of draft legislation and legal advice from the perspective of the key OSH instruments, including gap analyses between the national legislation and practice and the Conventions concerned, and/or assistance with the formulation of national OSH policies, strategies profiles and programmes.

51. During the last year, analysis and recommendations on draft legislation or legal advice from the perspective of OSH Conventions was provided to Bangladesh, Belize, Egypt, Ecuador, Gabon, Georgia, Haiti, Republic of Maldives, Mexico, Mongolia, Myanmar, Niger, Qatar, Viet Nam and Zambia.

52. Technical cooperation to support the establishment of a culture of prevention on OSH issues was undertaken, through tripartite consultations, advisory services or workshops, in Bangladesh, Botswana, Cameroon, Chile, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Honduras, Indonesia, Jamaica, Kenya, Lao People's Democratic Republic, The former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, Malawi, Namibia, Nepal, Pakistan, Peru, the Occupied Palestinian Territory, Papua New Guinea, Samoa, Seychelles, Tajikistan, United Republic of Tanzania, Timor-Leste and Zambia. With the assistance of the Office, national OSH policies or strategies have been adopted in Bangladesh, Botswana, Kenya, Namibia, Pakistan, Seychelles, United Republic of Tanzania and Zambia, national OSH profiles have been developed in Botswana, Jamaica, Malawi, and the Occupied Palestinian Territory and national OSH programmes have been adopted in Malawi and Zambia.

53. Following the Soma mine accident, an ILO interdepartmental technical mission on OSH was undertaken to Turkey in October 2014, in the course of which a roadmap on how to improve OSH conditions, including in the mining sector, was adopted by the government, worker and employer representatives and other relevant stakeholders.

54. With regard to global activities, the celebration of the World Day for Safety and Health at Work, on 28 April 2014, focused on the theme of “Safety and health in the use of chemicals at work“, with events taking place in several countries. In August 2014, the ILO co-organized the 20th World Congress on Safety and Health, held in Frankfurt, Germany. The Congress included technical sessions organized by the ILO on strengthening OSH strategies and systems and exchanging experiences on applying Convention No. 155, its 2002 Protocol and Convention No. 187.

55. Since the adoption of the plan of action in 2010 and, until August 2014, there have been 28 new ratifications of Convention No. 155, its 2002 Protocol or Convention No. 187²⁶ (including seven ratifications in 2014); and 27 ratifications²⁷ of other up-to-date OSH Conventions.

(d) Plan of action towards widespread ratification and effective implementation of the governance Conventions

56. The plan of action, covering the period 2010–16, was adopted by the Governing Body in November 2009.²⁸ In the context of its implementation, the Office actively promotes both the ratification and application of the labour inspection Conventions through needs assessments, policy advice for governments and social dialogue on labour inspection, training activities, definition and implementation of strategies and methodologies addressing particular topics such as the informal economy and undeclared work, occupational safety and health, gender equality or domestic work.

57. Assistance in the form of analysis and recommendations on draft legislation or legal advice from the perspective of the labour inspection Conventions, including analyses of gaps between the national legislation and practice and the Conventions concerned, was provided by the Office for Bangladesh, Ecuador, Gabon, Haiti, Honduras, Morocco, Mongolia, Niger, Paraguay, Peru, Serbia and Viet Nam. In Botswana, a gap analysis of national law and practice with respect to Convention No. 81 was presented in a workshop in August 2014. This analysis had been undertaken following a request from the Government, with a view to facilitating the ratification and implementation of the Convention. In Sudan, a national tripartite workshop on Convention No. 81 took place in May 2014, which resulted in training for 53 labour inspectors and the development of a draft strategy for the reform of the labour inspection system in the country. In 2014, trainings for labour inspectors using the ITC–ILO curriculum on modern and effective labour inspectors were organized for a number of countries, such as Haiti and Saudi Arabia. An international two-week course on labour administration and inspection was held at the ITC–ILO in Turin in November 2014, bringing together 39 senior labour officials from 17 countries, to reflect on key issues, trends and challenges for the development of labour administration and labour inspection and share experiences. Moreover, in Morocco, as the result of a technical assistance project on strengthening the effectiveness of the labour inspection system, a guide for labour inspectors on fundamental rights at work was prepared to serve as a reference tool in the performance of their functions. Furthermore, a high-level workshop on strategic planning for labour inspection managers was organized in the country.

58. Further work to promote the ratification and implementation of the labour inspection Conventions will be undertaken within the framework of the area of critical importance (ACI) on strengthening workplace compliance through labour inspection. A pilot phase has begun in three countries (Burkina Faso, Colombia and Viet Nam) with a roll-out phase to other countries and regions expected over the course of 2014–15.

59. Since the adoption of the plan of action (period from November 2009 to December 2014), there have been four new ratifications of Convention No. 81²⁹ and five new ratifications of Convention No. 129.³⁰ In addition, Convention No. 122 has been ratified by seven countries³¹ and Convention No. 144 has been ratified by 15 countries.³²

The Convention was also declared applicable to the non-metropolitan territory of Sint Maarten in 2013.

Specific activities undertaken in collaboration with other international organizations concerning international labour standards

A. United Nations system

60. In the context of collaboration with other international organizations on questions concerning supervision of the application of international instruments relating to subjects of common interest, the United Nations, certain specialized agencies and other intergovernmental organizations with which the ILO has entered into special arrangements for this purpose, are asked whether they have information on how Conventions are being applied. The list of the Conventions concerned and the international organizations that were consulted is as follows:

- ❑ the Indigenous and Tribal Populations Convention, 1957 (No. 107): United Nations (UN), Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO), Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR), United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), World Health Organization (WHO), and the Inter-American Indian Institute of the Organization of American States;
- ❑ the Radiation Protection Convention, 1960 (No. 115): International Atomic Energy Agency;
- ❑ the Social Policy (Basic Aims and Standards) Convention, 1962 (No. 117): FAO, OHCHR and UNESCO;
- ❑ the Rural Workers' Organisations Convention, 1975 (No. 141): UN, OHCHR and FAO;
- ❑ the Prevention of Accidents (Seafarers) Convention, 1970 (No. 134), and the Merchant Shipping (Minimum Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 147): International Maritime Organization;
- ❑ the Human Resources Development Convention, 1975 (No. 142): UNESCO;
- ❑ the Migrant Workers (Supplementary Provisions) Convention, 1975 (No. 143): UN, OHCHR, UNESCO and WHO;
- ❑ the Nursing Personnel Convention, 1977 (No. 149): WHO;
- ❑ the Indigenous and Tribal Peoples Convention, 1989 (No. 169): FAO, OHCHR, UNESCO, WHO and Inter-American Indian Institute of the Organization of American States.

61. International labour standards and the provisions of the UN human rights treaties related to them are complementary and mutually reinforcing. Close cooperation between the ILO and the UN in relation to its human rights treaties is therefore an important strategy to enhance the influence of ILO standards and to ensure consistency and coherence within the UN system with regard to human rights at work. In this context, it is also important to recall that, drawing on the lessons learnt through the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), reflection continues globally on what a post-2015 agenda should look like so as to be anchored in the core values of human rights, equality and sustainability. In July 2014, the Open Working Group for Sustainable Development Goals (OWG) presented its outcome document proposing a list of 17 sustainable development goals (SDGs). ILO-related matters are prominent in the document, particularly SDG 8 referring to inclusive growth and decent work. One of the targets under SDG 8 explicitly calls for efforts to achieve by 2030 “full and productive employment and decent work for all women and men, including for young people and persons with disabilities, and equal pay for work of equal value”. References to ILO areas of concern are found in several other SDG targets. With a view to being active in this process and ensuring that decent work is accepted as a core component of the post-2015 agenda, the Governing Body, at its 322nd Session (October–November 2014), requested the Office to strengthen the work on the post-2015 sustainable development framework under the six-point strategy agreed upon at the 319th Session (October 2013) of the Governing Body.

Cooperation with United Nations human rights treaty and Charter-based bodies

62. The Office has undertaken activities with the UN human rights bodies responsible for supervising the application of the following instruments:

- ❑ International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights.
- ❑ International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights.
- ❑ Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women.
- ❑ International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination.
- ❑ Convention on the Rights of the Child.
- ❑ International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of Migrant Workers and Members of Their Families.
- ❑ Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.

63. The Office regularly submits reports to the different treaty bodies containing standards-related information regarding the countries examined by them. These ILO reports include information on the ratification of ILO Conventions relevant to the provisions of the respective UN human rights treaties, summaries of the findings and recommendations of the ILO supervisory bodies and information on ILO technical assistance, as appropriate. In addition, Office representatives participate in the sessions of the treaty and Charter-based bodies and provide oral advice and information on specific countries or particular subjects. The Office also contributes to specific working groups or sessions of these bodies (United Nations Working Group on discrimination against women in law and in practice, Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW), etc.) and the general comments elaborated by these treaty bodies concerning issues that come within the ILO’s remit (for example, Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, draft general comment on the right to just and favourable conditions of work).

Cooperation with the Human Rights Council

64. The Office continues to promote international labour standards in the context of the UN Human Rights Council. With respect to the Universal Periodic Review, the Office regularly draws the attention of the UN secretariat to the available reports of the ILO supervisory bodies. The documentation prepared by the UN secretariat as a basis for the Universal Periodic Review includes information on the ratification of fundamental ILO Conventions by the country under review, as well as references to comments of the Committee of Experts. The Office also contributes to the work of the other mechanisms and mandates set up by the Council, including the Expert Mechanism on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, and the work of Special Rapporteurs. In particular, the Office has continued to collaborate with the Special Rapporteur on the rights of indigenous peoples.

Cooperation with other United Nations bodies and entities

65. The ILO continues to develop its relations with the International Maritime Organization (IMO). The two organizations have complementary mandates in respect of merchant shipping: the ILO is responsible for social issues and those to do with labour, while the IMO addresses other aspects. The IMO has officially recognized the MLC, 2006, as the fourth pillar of international maritime law, alongside the three IMO Conventions dealing with safety of life at sea; standards of training, certification and watchkeeping for seafarers; and prevention of pollution from ships (SOLAS, STCW and MARPOL). The IMO also encourages ratification of the MLC, 2006, by its member States. Furthermore, the ILO is working together with the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) in respect of the implementation of the Seafarers' Identity Documents Convention (Revised), 2003 (No. 185), which provides that seafarers' identity documents must be in line with certain specifications established by the ICAO.

66. Within the United Nations Development Group (UNDG), the Office continued to be active in the UNDG Human Rights Mainstreaming Mechanism (UNDG-HRM), which has been transformed into the Human Rights Working Group (HRWG), effective as of January 2015. Its overall objective is to institutionalize human rights as a central part of the UN's development work. The ILO is represented on the UNDG-HRWG Resource Management Committee, which has approved proposals to create or extend positions for a number of human rights advisers at the country and regional levels. The ILO also continued to be active in the messaging of the HRM (HRWG), including in the context of the post-2015 development agenda, to ensure that decent work is included as a human right and that the ILO's fundamental Conventions and supervisory bodies are clearly referred to as part of the UN human rights framework.

B. Council of Europe

European Code of Social Security and its Protocol

67. In accordance with the supervisory procedure established under Article 74(4) of the European Code of Social Security, and the arrangements made between the ILO and the Council of Europe, the Committee of Experts will again be called upon to examine a number of reports on the application of the Code and, as appropriate, its Protocol. The Committee's conclusions on these reports will be sent to the Council of Europe. In addition, representatives of the ILO took part as technical advisers in the meeting of the Governmental Committee of the European Social Charter and the European Code of Social Security held in Strasbourg (France) in May 2014. The Governmental Committee has examined the application of the Code and the Protocol on the basis of the conclusions of the ILO Committee of Experts, which are subsequently endorsed by the resolutions on the application of these instruments in the countries concerned, adopted by the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe. For the purpose of improving the application and supervision of the relevant provisions of the Code, the Governmental Committee has requested the ILO to undertake a review of the methodologies used by the States parties to the Code for determining the reference wage for the calculation of benefits, as well as a comparative study of the statutory provisions concerning the right of complaint and appeal in social security matters.

European Social Charter

68. In accordance with Article 26 of the European Social Charter, the ILO participates in an advisory capacity in the sessions of the European Committee of Social Rights responsible for supervising the application of the Charter and the revised Charter. In particular, an exchange of views with the European Committee took place at its 273rd Session in September 2014 in Strasbourg (France) on the subject of labour and trade union rights.

Appendix I. General information

Information on ratifications, denunciations and declarations of application

Part III. Country profiles

The following country profiles provide information on the ratification and application of Conventions and on the submission of instruments adopted by the Conference to the competent authorities in a table format by country.*

The ratifications section indicates which fundamental Conventions, governance Conventions, and other Conventions a country has ratified as of 31 December 2014. It does not list Conventions which have been denounced or which are not in force.

The section on reports requested indicates how many reports were requested from the country in 2014 and how many were received. Under articles 22 and 35 of the ILO Constitution, member States are required to submit reports at regular intervals on the application of Conventions which they have ratified or declared applicable to their non-metropolitan territories. If a report requested was a first detailed report (which is required in the case of a newly ratified Convention), the number of the Convention appears in parentheses. A section is dedicated to cases discussed before the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards since 1985, as well as to cases active before the Committee on Freedom of Association.

The section on submissions indicates the sessions of the ILC of which adopted instruments have, or have not, been submitted by governments to the authority or authorities competent to consider further action, as required under article 19 of the Constitution. In 1947, at its 103rd Session, the Governing Body of the ILO decided that, as from the coming into force of the constitutional amendment of 1946, the mandate of the Committee of Experts would be extended to matters related to the constitutional obligation of submission to competent authorities under article 19 of the ILO Constitution. The Committee of Experts started monitoring compliance with this constitutional provision as of 1948, with the instruments adopted by the ILC at its 31st Session. The number of the Conventions, Recommendations or Protocols is given in parentheses, preceded by the letter “C”, “R”, or “P” as the case may be, when only some of the texts adopted at any one session have been submitted. When the ratification of a Convention was registered, that Convention and the corresponding Recommendation are considered as submitted.
