Costing of Recovery measures

Deriving cost of recovery from Loss value of effects

- From loss of personal income, estimate amounts needed for “cash-for-work” program
- From loss of agriculture production, estimate needs for re-planting (seeds, fertilizer, pesticides) and for food imports
- From loss of industrial production and trade sales, estimate needs for working capital financing
- From loss of tourism revenues, estimate financial needs for credit to hotels and restaurants

Deriving cost of recovery from Damage value of effects

- From the value of damage to physical infrastructure and assets the cost of reconstruction are defined
- From the estimated values of damage or adopting plus the cost of disaster-resilient standards
- Cost may include
 - quality and technological improvement,
 - relocation of selected strategic activities to safer areas,
 - improved design and construction standards, structural retrofitting and adequate flood-control measures and schemes
