WAGES COUNCILS ACT 1947 (ACT 195)

The weaknesses of the previous Act-

i. Coverage of the earlier Wage Orders only for employees in certain sectors, i.e hotel and catering sector, cinema workers, Penang Port workers, shop assistants and security guards.

ii. Long time taken, complicated and ad-hoc wages setting mechanisms.

iii. Wage rates are also not regularly reviewed-process is tedious.

iv. Employers had a heads-up in determining wages for employees.

iv. This Act was repealed in 2011 through the NWCC Act 2011 (Act 732).
Part 2 : Background of Minimum Wages in Malaysia (cont.)

Rationale

- High Income Economy - to achieve average growth of 6.5% yearly from 2011-2020
- Minimum wages policy should assist bottom 40% household income group with income less than RM1,500 per month.
- Minimum wages policy expected to enhance efficiency in labour market towards sustainable wages growth and providing sufficient basic social protection to workers.

Objectives

- Ensuring the basic needs of workers and their families are met;
- Providing sufficient social protection to workers;
- Encouraging industry to move up the value chain by investing in technology and increase labour productivity; and
- Reducing the nation’s dependence on unskilled foreign workforce
33.8% of the private sector workers earned below RM700 (US$187) i.e below the Poverty Line Income (PLI) 2007, RM720 (US$193) per month.

Labor productivity growth rate (6.7%) was higher than the wage growth rate (2.6%) from 2000 until 2008.

Implementation of minimum wages is one of the instrument policy to fulfill the inclusiveness aspect in NEM (New Economic Model)
Part 4: Institutional Framework of Minimum Wages in Malaysia

- National Wages Consultative Council Act 2011 (Act 732)

Minimum Wages Formula

$$MW_i = \text{Avg} \left( \frac{\text{PLI}_i + \text{Median wage}_i}{\text{Avg workers per household}} \right) \times \left( 1 + \left( \frac{P_i}{100} \right) + \left( \frac{CPI_i}{100} \right) - \left( \frac{UE_i}{100} \right) \right)$$

MW = Minimum Wages (RM)

PLI = Poverty Line Income (RM)

P = Labour Productivity Growth (%)

CPI = Consumer Price Index (%)

UE = Unemployment Rate (% change – actual unemployment rate minus natural unemployment rate (4%))

i = Region (Peninsular; Sabah, Sarawak and Labuan)
1. The model of PLI measurement used in Malaysia has been approved in 2005 by the Economic Planning Unit (EPU), Prime Minister's Department and DOSM in collaboration with the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP).

2. The Cost of Basic Needs method takes into consideration three basic components: food, non-food and the characteristics of households.

3. These PLI data obtained from Household Income and Basic Amenities Survey Report (HIS), DOSM.

4. This report is conducted twice every five years (latest report published in 2016).

5. For the minimum wages setting, the formula used is the PLI per average worker per household.

6. This is for the purpose of adjusting the value of PLI per person since the value of PLI obtained is at the household level, not at the individual level.
1. Median wage is obtained by compiling all wages of workers in the private sector in ascending order, and then the value placed in the middle position of the arrangement is selected as the Median wage.

2. Salaries & wages information collected are based on the principal occupation of the public and private employees during the reference month.

3. These data obtained from Salaries & Wages Survey Report, DOSM.

4. This report is conducted annually (latest report published in 2017). Upon request to DOSM, median wage for private sector workers is also made available by region.

5. Median wages for the purpose of determining the minimum wages in Malaysia for private workers is requested separately from DOSM (since the Minimum Wages policy is applicable to private sector workers only).
1. CPI is published monthly by DOSM. To obtain CPI changes annually, the changes are reflected between the current month and the same month of the previous year (year on year).

2. Annual CPI change information can be obtained from the CPI Publication in January each year. (latest CPI data annually published in January 2017).

3. CPI measures the percentage change through time in the cost of purchasing a constant “basket of goods and services. This “basket” classified according to the United Nations “Classification of Individual Consumption According to Purpose (COICOP)” in the following twelve groups:

   1) Food and Non-alcoholic Beverages
   2) Alcoholic Beverages and Tobacco
   3) Clothing and Footwear
   4) Housing, Water, Electricity, Gas and Other Fuels
   5) Furnishings, Household Equipment & Routine Household Maintenance
   6) Health
   7) Transport
   8) Communication
   9) Recreation Services & Culture
   10) Education
   11) Restaurants & Hotels
   12) Miscellaneous Goods & Services
Labour Productivity Growth (P)

1. The labour productivity is calculated as follows:

2. These data is obtained from Malaysian Productivity Report which is published annually by the MPC. (latest report published in 2017).

3. Productivity growth in the Minimum Wages setting formula is calculated based on Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR).

4. CAGR is the average annual growth rate over a certain period longer than one year. CAGR is used as to be fair to workers when we include productivity for the years review of Minimum Wages is not done. The CAGR formula is as follows:

P. \text{Growth (CAGR), } \% = \left( \left( \frac{\text{productivity, final year}}{\text{productivity, initial year}} \right)^\frac{1}{\text{no.of periods}} - 1 \right) \times 100
1. The Unemployment Rate (UE) is computed by using the formula below:

\text{UE Rate, \%} = \left( \frac{\text{Number of unemployed persons}}{\text{Number of persons in the labour force}} \right) \times 100

2. These UE data obtained from the Labour Force Survey Report, which is published annually by the DOSM. (latest report published in 2017).

3. For the minimum wage setting formula, adjusted UE is computed by using the formula below:

\text{UE (adjusted), \%} = (\text{UE, current} - 4.0)

4. This suggests that the economy is still sustained in full employment, as the UE below 4.0 per cent. The Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) defines full employment as UE below 4.0 per cent.
Example of Minimum Wages Calculation

Minimum Wages Calculation for Sarawak (MW Order 2016):

\frac{1}{2} \left( \frac{954}{1.2} + 1,000 \right) \times \left( 1 + \left( \frac{0.8}{100} \right) + \left( \frac{1.9}{100} \right) - \left( \frac{0.2}{100} \right) \right)

= \frac{1}{2} \left( 795 + 1,000 \right) \times \left( 1 + \left( \frac{0.008}{100} \right) + \left( \frac{0.019}{100} \right) - \left( \frac{0.002}{100} \right) \right)

= \frac{1}{2} \left( 1,795 \right) \times \left( 1.029 \right)

= \left( 897.5 \right) \times \left( 1.029 \right)

= \text{RM}923.53

Where:

Poverty Line Income, PLI (RM) = 954.00

Avg Workers per Household (B40%) = 1.2

Median Wage (RM) = 1,000.00

Labour Productivity Growth, P(%) = 0.8

Consumer Price Index, CPI (%) = 1.9

Adjusted Unemployment Rate, UE (%) = -0.2
Considerations in Minimum Wages Setting

- Formula of minimum wages serves as a strong guide to initiate discussions in NWCC.

- In discussing minimum wages rate, the bargaining process at NWCC makes the difference.

- Balanced approach is taken to ensure the minimum wages rate is reasonable, and will not give negative effect to country’s economic performance and competitiveness in attracting investments.

- Deliberations to reduce the minimum wages gap between regions is among the way forward.

- Views from authorities and bodies i.e ILO and World Bank are also considered in minimum wages issues in Malaysia.
Minimum Wages is BASIC WAGES, excluding any allowances and other payments.
