Bangladesh seeking better employment conditions for better socio-economic outcomes

The report discusses how such policy complementarities can be achieved in a low-income country. In particular, the report shows that Bangladesh has experienced a sustained period of economic growth, driven principally by exports in the garment sector. This has been accompanied by a shift in job creation towards manufacturing and services and a reduction in agricultural employment.

Linking jobs in global supply chains to demand

The paper provides a detailed description of the methodology that was used for the estimation and documents the links between GSC-related jobs and demand. The paper shows evidence on the number of jobs supported by demand in different export destinations and analyzes the number of GSC-related jobs in different country groups.

EU-Philippines trade and investment

The country is possibly at a crossroad, having long done away with its once reputation of sick man of Asia and rightfully being its bright spot today. Implementation of sound policies could mean a potential take-off to upper middle income level.
