International Labour Organization

UNHCR
The UN Refugee Agency

“ As humanitarians, we must embody the notion of protection and respect – not only towards the persons we care for, but also towards our own staff. Only when humanitarian personnel are informed about HIV, know about universal precautions and have access to appropriate health facilities can they advocate effectively for our beneficiaries to have better access to HIV and AIDS prevention, care and treatment.”

António Guterres
United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR)
