

Food and agriculture global value chains

Drivers and constraints for occupational safety and health improvement

International
Labour
Organization

Friday 10 November 2017

Room V

International Labour Organization,
4 route des Morillons, Geneva, Switzerland

09:00 Opening remarks

- Moussa Oumarou, Director, International Labour Organization's Governance and Tripartism Department.
- Jordi Curell, Director, Mobility and International Issues, Directorate General for Employment, Social Affairs and Inclusion, European Commission.

09:20 Reduction of occupational injuries and diseases in global value chains:

Global evidence on drivers and constraints

Overview of global evidence:

- Dr Lizbeth Navas-Aleman, Honorary Associate, Institute of Development Studies, University of Sussex.
- Dr Thomas Kopp and Nina Grassnick, University of Göttingen.
- Dr David Walters, Cardiff Work Environment Research Centre, University of Cardiff.

Presentation of the OSH Global Action for Prevention approach to OSH in GSCs, Nancy Leppink, Chief, LABADMIN/OSH Branch, ILO Governance and Tripartism Department.

Questions and answers.

Sourcing countries' experiences on drivers and constraints

Presentation on "Understanding vulnerabilities to professional risks in GSCs and their root causes – overview of three case studies", Lou Tessier, Project coordinator, LABADMIN/OSH Branch, ILO Governance and Tripartism Department.

Panel discussion with Bounnavanh Rafidimanana, Madagascar Lychee Exporter Group, and Dr José Humberto Devia, Coordinator of Health Services, National Federation of Coffee Growers of Colombia.

Questions and answers.

Consumer countries' experiences on drivers and constraints

Panel discussion followed by questions and answers.

- Marie-Christine Bauduret, Head of International Affairs Office, Ministry of Labour, France,
- Elsbeth Akkerman, Deputy Permanent Representative to the WTO/ Head Economic Affairs section, Permanent Mission of the Kingdom of the Netherlands
- Rudi Delarue, Deputy Head of Unit, International Issues, Labour Mobility, Directorate General of Employment, Social Affairs and Inclusion, European Commission.

12:45 Closing remarks

- Nancy Leppink, Chief, LABADMIN/OSH Branch, ILO Governance and Tripartism Department.
- Jordi Curell, Director, Mobility and International Issues, Directorate General for Employment, Social Affairs and Inclusion, European Commission.

13:00 Cocktail at the Gobelins

Please confirm your participation to: Evelyn Elsaesser, elsaesser@ilo.org