

www.ilo.org

The ILO Global Product on Jobs and Skills Mismatch

Paul Comyn
Senior Skills & Employability Specialist
Skills & Employability Branch
International Labour Organisation (ILO)

www.ilo.org

Global Product on Jobs and Skills Mismatch

Initiated in 2016 to undertake new research, develop new knowledge products and provide support to constituents on how they can better understand and address the labour market impact of various forms of skills mismatch

Research - Dissemination - Capacity Building

Skills

Key Research Questions

- ◆ What is the extent of skills mismatch?
- ◆ What are the drivers of skills mismatch?
- ◆ What is the labour market impact of the different forms of skills mismatch?
- ◆ How do these vary in different country contexts?
- ◆ What is the nature and impact of skills mismatch in the informal economy?

Key Research Outputs

- ◆ Background paper: 'How Useful Is the Concept of Skills Mismatch?'
- ◆ Background papers (x3) on labour market impact of skills mismatch (LFS, SWTS, STEP datasets) - June 2017
- ◆ Research report on Skills Mismatch and the Informal Economy - August 2017
- ◆ The Labour Market Impact of Skills Mismatch Synthesis Report - August 2017
- ◆ Research report on Institutional Arrangements for Skills Anticipation Systems - June 2017

www.ilo.org

Knowledge Products

- ◆ Research reports and papers
- ◆ Policy briefs
- ◆ Training and resource materials

(May – December 2017)

www.ilo.org

Dissemination and Capacity Building

- ◆ Geneva Conference - May 2017
- ◆ World Skills 2017 Abu Dhabi Conference - October
- ◆ Regional Events (July - December 2017)
 - Asia-Pacific
 - Africa
 - South America
- ◆ Global KSP Discussion - November 2017

www.ilo.org

Thanks

Skills

