

Making trade work for inclusive growth: the role of skills development

Leveraging Globalization for Decent Jobs

Within the month of June of the European Year of Development on "Sustainable green growth, decent jobs and businesses"

Tuesday 30th June 2015, 12h30 – 14h00

Lunch time Conference External Cooperation Infopoint

Introduction

- Mr. Stefano Signore
Head of Unit, DEVCO B3, Employment,
Social Inclusion, Migration
- Mrs. Claire Courteille
Director of the International Labour
Organization (ILO) Brussels office

Presentation

- Mr. David Cheong
Trade and Employment Specialist,
Employment Policy Department, ILO

Globalization has led to technological diffusion and innovation, new forms of enterprise and inter-firm relations through outsourcing and offshoring, and increased specialization and new lines of work, which all demand higher-level technical and managerial skills. Given that global economic integration is set to continue, there is a need for research to inform countries about which skills to invest in and how to develop these skills among workers in order to leverage globalization for decent jobs.

Conference Language: English
Q&A session: English & French

Rue de la Loi 43, Ground floor – Registration required via <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/infopoint-lunch-time-conference-making-trade-work-for-inclusive-growth-the-role-of-skills-tickets-17494259802>

Information: www.ec.europa.eu/europeaid/infopoint