REGISTRATION OF UNEMPLOYED AND BENEFIT CLAIMS

The screenshot displays the 'Work in Russia' portal (TRUDVSEM.RU) with a dark blue header and a red navigation bar. The navigation bar contains two buttons: 'Register as unemployed' and 'File an application'. Below the header, the text 'Work in Russia' and 'TRUDVSEM.RU' are visible. The main section is titled 'Procedure for claiming unemployment benefits'. It includes a sub-header 'Benefits are assigned at the individual's place of residence.' followed by a paragraph explaining that applications can be filed online without regard to residence, and that public employment centers validate status and assign benefits at the place of residence. There are four links: 'Who is entitled to unemployment benefits?', 'How can you register as unemployed?', 'Instructions on registration as unemployed on the Work in Russia Portal', and 'The amount of unemployment benefits'. A note at the bottom says 'Please address your questions to the public employment service'. On the right side of the main content area, there are three buttons: 'Claim unemployment benefits' (red), 'Check the information in the Pension Fund' (dark blue with a question mark icon), and 'Declare violation of labour rights' (dark blue with a question mark icon). Below the main content area, there is a video player with a blue background and white text: 'Assistance in job-seeking and claiming unemployment benefits online on the Work in Russia Portal'. Below the video player, the 'Work in Russia' logo and 'TRUDVSEM.RU' are displayed, followed by the text 'ВИДЕОИНСТРУКЦИЯ'.

Procedure for claiming unemployment benefits

Benefits are assigned at the individual's place of residence.

You can file an application on the Work in Russia Portal without regard to your place of residence in the Russian Federation. Public employment centers validate the unemployment status and assign unemployment benefits directly at the place of residence.
