LABOUR LAW

International labour law and domestic law: a training manual for judges, lawyers and legal educators

This manual is the result of practical cooperation between the ILO's International Labour Standards Department (ILS) and the International Training Centre (ITC), which firmly believe that labour tribunals, the lawyers who appear before them, the tutors responsible for training future lawyers and the legal advisers to employers' and workers' organizations are crucial to the effective, in-depth application of international labour law and to the achievement of the objective of decent work.

Labour law and worker protection in developing countries

This study shifts the focus of scholarly and policy debates on the role of labour law in an era of globalization away from the countries and labour law systems of the North to those of the global South. The book argues that, in addition to problems in the application of labour law, there is a mismatch between the realities of the developing world and the social, economic, and political underpinnings of labour law.

LOCAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Learning event on local economic development: proceedings

The "Learning Event on Local Economic Development" was a training-workshop conceived for local executives. The main goal was to build, strengthen and enhance their governing ability in the execution of social, economic, political reforms and policies that can make development a tangible reality. It is an event where the local executives who have been entrusted with authority acquire, deduced knowledge culled from the experiences of other local executives, for them to gain expertise in mapping, designing programmes and practices to mobilize stakeholders who can push development that ultimately make quality of life better.
