The Public Employment Service Office (PESO), is a non-fee charging multi-service provider established and accredited pursuant to Republic Act 8759, otherwise known as the PESO Act of 1999. This institution is tapped by the Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE) to deliver employment related programmes, projects, and activities at the grassroots level.

The PESO caters to a wide range of clients which include jobseekers, employers, students, out-of-school youth, migrant workers, planners, policy makers, legislators, researchers, labour market information users, persons with disabilities, returning overseas Filipino workers (OFWs) and displaced workers. Its inclusive and public character is the very reason why the PESO is an effective conduit for the delivery of services that will aid in the creation of an enabling environment towards decent and productive work for all.

The PESO responds to a full range of employment services. This includes provision of career guidance and employment coaching, labour market information and analysis, and employment facilitation services. The full cycle approach of services and interventions provided by the PESO is explained by the PESO four-window model, as shown below:

BENEFITS

- Explain the core functions and operations of the PESO and understand its institutionalization as summarized into ten steps based on good practices of institutionalized PESO
- Provide local chief executives (LCE) with relevant information to make informed choices in establishing and institutionalizing existing PESO
- Support the need to make employment promotion a regular and continuing activity at the community level
- Serve as advocacy material of the DOLE to institutionalize PESO across the country
