INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

Shaping global industrial relations: the impact of international framework agreements

The book brings together the contributions of 15 specialists, both academics and practitioners, covering the 80-plus international framework agreements (IFAs) that existed in July 2010. Particular attention is paid to the negotiation and implementation of IFAs, and a number of case studies illuminate the managerial motivation behind the adoption of these agreements.

SKILLS FOR GREEN JOBS

Skills for green jobs: a global view. Synthesis report based on 21 country studies

The report examines the experiences of developed and developing countries in adjusting their training provision to meet the new demand for a greener economy. It shows that while few new occupations emerge in the transition to greener work, massive change occurs in existing occupations. What is more, changes in skill profiles happen at all levels of qualifications and across all sectors, and require action to make the provision of education and training relevant to labour market needs.
