Promoting transition to formality for peace and resilience

This publication is a first initiative to promote the transition to formality agenda in conflict and post-conflict settings and is complementary to the ILO publication "A Handbook. How to Design, Monitor and Evaluate Peacebuilding Results in Jobs for Peace and Resilience programmes". It explains some conceptual issues of informality in conflict affected settings and the theory of change of how the ILO integrated strategy on transition to formality could address conflict drivers and hence potentially promote peace and resilience.

"System needs update": Upgrading protection against cyberbullying and ICT-enabled violence and harassment in the world of work

Cyberbullying in the world of work is a relatively recent and unexplored phenomenon, despite the pervasive use of ICT in today's work environments and arrangements. The paper seeks to start filling this void, also in response to the newly adopted ILO Violence and Harassment Convention, 2019 (No. 190), and accompanying Recommendation (No. 206), that include in their scope violence and harassment occurring also "through work-related communications, including those enabled by information and communication technologies".

Human development report 2019. Beyond income, beyond averages, beyond today: Inequalities in human development in the 21st century

In every country many people have little prospect for a better future. Lacking hope, purpose or dignity, they watch from society's sidelines as they see others pull ahead to ever greater prosperity. Worldwide many have escaped extreme poverty, but even more have neither the opportunities nor the resources to control their lives. Far too often gender, ethnicity or parents' wealth still determines a person's place in society.
