Introduction

1. At its 262nd Session (March-April 1995), the Governing Body set up a Working Party on Policy regarding the Revision of Standards and entrusted it, among other things, with undertaking a case-by-case examination of all international labour Conventions and Recommendations.¹ This decision followed the discussions on standard-setting policy at the International Labour Conference in 1994. The Working Party, which held 14 meetings in total, concluded its work in March 2002. It formulated a significant number of proposals that were unanimously approved by the Commission on Legal Issues and International Labour Standards (LILS Commission) and the Governing Body.
2. In accordance with the request by the Working Party, the Office prepared and regularly updated an information note on the progress of work and decisions taken regarding the revision of standards. The present information note reviews the results of this work and the decisions taken by the Governing Body through its 283rd Session (March 2002), in order to inform the technical and regional departments, the external offices and multidisciplinary teams, and to guide them in the implementation of the follow-up measures that the Governing Body decisions required.
3. In total, decisions were taken by the Governing Body with respect to 183 Conventions and 191 Recommendations.² The Working Party did not reach any conclusions regarding two instruments: the Termination of Employment Convention, 1982 (No. 158), and Recommendation (No. 166). Information on the Governing Body decisions is presented below in a systematic and concise manner.

I. Decisions concerning international labour Conventions

1. Conventions on fundamental rights at work and priority Conventions

4. The Governing Body has confirmed the central role of 12 Conventions within the ILO standards system. It considers that these Conventions remain fully relevant and up to date.
5. The States parties to these Conventions are requested to submit every two years a report on their application for examination by the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations.

² The text of the decisions figures in GB.264/9/2, GB.265/8/2, GB.267/9/2, GB.268/8/2, GB.270/9/2, GB.271/11/2, GB.273/8/2, GB.274/10/2, GB.276/10/2, GB.277/11/2 and GB.280/12/2, GB.282/8/2 and GB.283/10/2. The elements relevant to the analysis of the Conventions and Recommendations under review are reproduced in the documents: GB.265/LILS/WP/PRS/1, GB.267/LILS/WP/PRS/2, GB.268/LILS/WP/PRS/1, GB.270/LILS/WP/PRS/2, GB.271/LILS/WP/PRS/1, GB.271/LILS/WP/PRS/2, GB.271/4/2, GB.273/LILS/WP/PRS/2, and GB.273/LILS/WP/PRS/4, GB.274/LILS/WP/PRS/2, GB.274/LILS/WP/PRS/3, GB.276/LILS/WP/PRS/4, GB.277/LILS/WP/PRS/1/2, GB.277/LILS/WP/PRS/2, GB.277/LILS/WP/PRS/3/1, GB.277/LILS/WP/PRS/4, GB.279/WP/PRS/1/1, GB.279/LILS/WP/PRS/1/2, GB.279/LILS/WP/PRS/4, GB.280/LILS/WP/PRS/1/3, GB.280/LILS/WP/PRS/2/1, GB.280/LILS/WP/PRS/2/2, GB.280/LILS/WP/PRS/3, GB.282/LILS/WP/PRS/2, GB.283/LILS/WP/PRS/2 and GB.283/LILS/WP/PRS/3.

A. Eight Conventions on fundamental rights at work

Subject matter	Conventions proposed for ratification
Freedom of association	Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87) Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98)

Child labour	Minimum Age Convention, 1973 (No. 138) Worst Forms of Child Labour Convention, 1999 (No. 182)

6. The Governing Body decision strengthens the essential role and function of the eight fundamental Conventions. A ratification campaign is under way aiming at the universal ratification of these Conventions. Furthermore, according to the second paragraph of the ILO Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work and its Follow-up, all Members, even if they have not ratified the Conventions in question, have an obligation, arising from the very fact of membership in the Organization, to respect, to promote and to realize, in good faith and in accordance with the Constitution, the principles concerning the fundamental rights which are the subject of those Conventions.

B. Four priority Conventions

Subject matter	Conventions proposed for ratification
Employment policy	Employment Policy Convention, 1964 (No. 122)

Tripartite consultation	Tripartite Consultation (International Labour Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 144)

2. Decisions to revise

7. The Governing Body considered that a certain number of Conventions could be revised. To date, final proposals for revision exist with respect to 22 Conventions, while conditional proposals exist for two other Conventions.³

³ The Governing Body had also considered that the Maternity Protection Convention (Revised), 1952 (No. 103), should be revised. The process of revision of this Convention and the Maternity Protection Recommendation, 1952 (No. 95), led to the adoption of the Maternity Protection Convention, 2000 (No. 183), and Maternity Protection Recommendation, 2000 (No. 191). See also below, para. 12.

A. Twenty-two proposals are final

Subject matter	Conventions to be revised
Hours of work	Hours of Work and Rest Periods (Road Transport) Convention, 1979 (No. 153)

Fishermen	Medical Examination (Fishermen) Convention, 1959 (No. 113) Fishermen’s Articles of Agreement Convention, 1959 (No. 114) Fishermen’s Competency Certificates Convention, 1966 (No. 125)

⁵ The Governing Body considered that the revision of these three Conventions as well as the Unemployment Insurance (Seamen) Recommendation, 1920 (No. 10), the Seafarers’ Social Security (Agreements) Recommendation, 1946 (No. 75), and the Seafarers’ (Medical Care for Dependants) Recommendation, 1946 (No. 76), should be considered along with the Social Security (Seafarers) Convention (Revised), 1987 (No. 165), and the other maritime instruments in the context of the elaboration of a draft framework instrument on labour standards in the maritime sector. Document GB.280/5. See also below, para. 42. The first session of a high-level tripartite working group on maritime labour standards was held in Geneva (17-21 December 2001).

B. Two proposals are conditional

Subject matter	Conventions proposed for revision
Hours of work ⁶	Sheet-Glass Works Convention, 1934 (No. 43) Reduction of Hours of Work (Glass-Bottle Works) Convention, 1935 (No. 49)

8. The Working Party has recommended that these two Conventions be included among the Conventions that might be revised should the Working Party recommend a revision of other Conventions dealing with hours of work and working conditions of shiftworkers.

3. Promotion of the ratification of revised Conventions

9. Revised Conventions have not always attracted a large number of ratifications, and in certain cases the older Conventions have remained in force. The Governing Body has decided to invite the States parties to the initial Conventions to contemplate ratifying the corresponding revised Convention and denouncing, at the same time, the previous Convention.⁷
10. The main concern of the Working Party has been to avoid a member State deciding on an immediate denunciation of a Convention while postponing, until an uncertain later date, the ratification of the corresponding recent Convention. In this regard, during the discussions in the Working Party, both the Employer and the Worker members stressed that these two measures (ratification/denunciation) together constituted a balanced action that should not be disrupted, and that they should be taken concurrently.
11. The Governing Body has also emphasized that the implementation of these decisions implied that the member States would engage in tripartite consultations, particularly taking into account the procedures provided for in the framework of the Tripartite Consultation (International Labour Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 144), and the Tripartite Consultation (Activities of the International Labour Organisation) Recommendation, 1976 (No. 152).
12. The Governing Body has decided accordingly for 48 older Conventions. In some cases, this invitation is accompanied by a request for information on the obstacles and difficulties encountered, if any, that might prevent or delay the ratification of the recent instruments.⁸

⁶ Conventions Nos. 43 and 49 have also been shelved by the Governing Body. See para. 30 below.

⁷ The technical modalities for denunciation vary from one instrument to the other. Conventions incorporating the standard final provisions state that ratification of the revised Convention shall ipso jure involve the immediate denunciation of the former Convention. Where the Conference has decided otherwise, however, and for most of the Conventions adopted before 1929 that did not contain this provision, denunciation is not automatic. In such cases, technically the registration of a denunciation can only be made during a given period of time. However, the Governing Body wished to stress the political decision to be taken by the governments, in consultation with the social partners, and not on the technical modalities.

²³ See also below, para. 26.

²⁴ The request for information on the need for revision of Conventions Nos. 77, 78 and 124 includes the question of their possible consolidation.

Subject matter	Conventions	General Survey
Hours of work	Hours of Work (Industry) Convention, 1919 (No. 1) Hours of Work (Commerce and Offices) Convention, 1930 (No. 30)	To be submitted to the ILC in 2005
Dockers ²⁵	Dock Work Convention, 1973 (No. 137)	Submitted at the current session of the ILC

24. Following the recommendations of the Working Party, a General Survey was already carried out with respect to the Migration for Employment Convention (Revised), 1949 (No. 97), and the Migrant Workers (Supplementary Provisions) Convention, 1975 (No. 143), and submitted to the International Labour Conference in June 1999. The question of migrant workers has been placed on the agenda of the 92nd Session (June 2004) of the Conference with a view to a general discussion based on an integrated approach.²⁶
25. Following the recommendation of the Working Party, the Committee of Experts has carried out a General Survey with respect to Conventions Nos. 4, 41 and 89, together with its 1990 Protocol. This General Survey has been submitted to the Conference at its 89th Session (June 2001). At its November 2001 meeting, the Working Party re-examined the instruments on night work of women in the industry in the light of the General Survey and the debates that have taken place in the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards.²⁷

B. Requests for ad hoc information

26. In the case of 18 up-to-date Conventions, the invitation made to member States to contemplate ratifying these Conventions is accompanied by a request for information on the obstacles and difficulties encountered, if any, that could prevent or delay their ratification.²⁸ In the case of three other up-to-date Conventions, the request for information refers to the obstacles and difficulties which might prevent or delay the ratification or point to the need for a full or partial revision of these Conventions.²⁹
27. The Governing Body invited the States party to five older Conventions to contemplate ratifying the corresponding recent Conventions and to inform the Office on the obstacles and difficulties encountered, if any, that might prevent or delay the ratification of the latter.³⁰

Subject matter	Conventions proposed for ratification	Corresponding older Conventions
Safety and Health at Work	Safety and Health in Construction Convention, 1988 (No. 167)	Safety Provisions (Building) Convention, 1937 (No. 62)

Maternity protection	Maternity Protection Convention, 2000 (No. 183)	Maternity Protection Convention, 1919 (No. 3) ³¹ Maternity Protection Convention (Revised), 1952 (No. 103)

28. The Governing Body has also decided to invite member States to provide information on the possible obstacles encountered which could prevent or delay ratification or point to the need for full or partial revision of the Accommodation of Crews (Fishermen) Convention, 1966 (No. 126).³²
29. In addition, in the case of four Conventions relating to workers in non-metropolitan territories, the Governing Body wished that the Office engage in consultations with the governments concerned.³³

6. Shelving, abrogation and withdrawal

A. Decisions to shelve

30. The Governing Body decided to shelve certain Conventions which no longer corresponded to current needs and had become obsolete. Of these Conventions five were withdrawn by the Conference at its 88th Session (2000).³⁴ At present, 25 Conventions are shelved:

Subject matter	Conventions shelved
Employment service	Fee-Charging Employment Agencies Convention, 1933 (No. 34)

³¹ The Governing Body also decided the maintenance of the status quo with regard to Convention No. 3. See below, para. 39.

³² The question of the adoption of a comprehensive standard (a Convention supplemented by a Recommendation) on work in the fishing sector has been placed on the agenda of the 92nd Session (June 2004) of the Conference.

In the case of the Labour Standards (Non-Metropolitan Territories) Convention, 1947 (No. 83), it is a matter of examining in what way the Conventions listed in the Annex to Convention No. 83 could continue to be applied in the non-metropolitan territories concerned.

The member States that have made a formal commitment to apply the provisions of the Right of Association (Non-Metropolitan Territories) Convention, 1947 (No. 84), are invited to contemplate ratifying the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), and/or, as appropriate, the Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98).

The five States parties to the Labour Inspectorates (Non-Metropolitan Territories) Convention, 1947 (No. 85), are invited to contemplate extending the application of the Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81), and/or of the Labour Inspection (Agriculture) Convention, 1969 (No. 129), to non-metropolitan territories that continue to be governed by the provisions of Convention No. 85.

³⁴ See below, para. 38.

Hours of work	Sheet-Glass Works Convention, 1934 (No. 43) ³⁵ Reduction of Hours of Work (Glass-Bottle Works) Convention, 1935 (No. 49) Hours of Work and Rest Periods (Road Transport) Convention, 1939 (No. 67)
Night work	Night Work (Bakeries) Convention, 1925 (No. 20) Night Work (Women) Convention, 1919 (No. 4) Night Work (Women) Convention (Revised), 1934 (No. 41)

Seafarers – General conditions of employment	Paid Vacations (Seafarers) Convention (Revised), 1949 (No. 91)
Seafarers – Minimum age	Minimum Age (Trimmers and Stokers) Convention, 1921 (No. 15)

31. Ratification of shelved Conventions is no longer encouraged and their publication in Office documents, studies and research papers will be modified. Shelving also means that detailed reports on the application of these Conventions will no longer be requested on a regular basis. However, the right to invoke provisions relating to representations and complaints under articles 24 and 26 of the Constitution remains intact. In addition, employers' and workers' organizations may still submit observations in accordance with the regular supervisory procedures, for a review by the Committee of Experts resulting, where necessary, in requests for detailed reports. Finally, shelving has no impact on the status of these Conventions in the legal systems of member States that have ratified them.

B. Deferred decisions to shelve

- 32. The Governing Body further decided to postpone the decision to shelve seven Conventions.
- 33. It considered that the shelving of Convention No. 63 (statistics) could not be envisaged until the number of ratifications of this Convention has decreased. It considered moreover that the status of Convention No. 32 (dockworkers) would be re-examined in due course, including the possibility of shelving.

34. As regards Convention No. 62 (occupational safety and health), the States parties are invited to communicate to the Office information on the obstacles and difficulties, if any, that might prevent or delay the ratification of the Safety and Health in Construction Convention, 1988 (No. 167).³⁶
35. In the case of two Conventions relating to workers in non-metropolitan territories (Conventions Nos. 82 and 83) the question of shelving will be re-examined in the light of consultations to be held with the member States concerned.³⁷ Finally, the Governing Body also deferred the decision to shelve Conventions Nos. 24 and 25 (sickness insurance).

C. Prospects for abrogation or withdrawal

36. At its 85th Session in June 1997, the Conference adopted a proposal to amend the ILO Constitution and the Standing Orders of the Conference in order to enable the Conference to proceed with the abrogation or withdrawal of Conventions or Recommendations. The constitutional amendment aims at enabling the Conference to abrogate, by a majority of two-thirds of the votes of delegates present, any Convention that has lost its purpose or no longer makes a useful contribution to the accomplishment of the objectives of the Organization.³⁸ By 15 May 2002, 72³⁹ member States had ratified or accepted the constitutional amendment on the abrogation of obsolete Conventions, including six countries of chief industrial importance.⁴⁰ The Director-General of the ILO is launching a new ratification campaign for this amendment. Following the amendment of its Standing Orders,⁴¹ the Conference can also decide on the withdrawal of Conventions which have not entered into force or which are no longer in force as a result of denunciations, or of Recommendations.
37. The Governing Body has retained seven shelved Conventions as candidates for a possible abrogation:
 - Hours of work: Convention No. 67.
 - Night work of women: Conventions Nos. 4 and 41.

³⁶ See also above, para. 12, under the section on the promotion of the ratification of revised Conventions.

³⁷ See above, para. 29.

³⁸ Pursuant to article 36 of the Constitution, this amendment will take effect when ratified or accepted by two-thirds of the Members of the Organization including five of the ten Members which are represented on the Governing Body as Members of chief industrial importance.

³⁹ Albania, Antigua and Barbuda, Argentina, Australia, Austria, Azerbaijan, Bahrain, Bangladesh, Barbados, Bulgaria, Canada, China, Congo, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Dominica, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Egypt, Estonia, Ethiopia, Finland, France, Hungary, Iceland, India, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Jordan, Republic of Korea, Kuwait, Lebanon, Libyan Arab Jamahiriya, Malaysia, Malawi, Malta, Mauritius, Mexico, Republic of Moldova, Morocco, Namibia, Nepal, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Norway, Pakistan, Panama, Peru, Portugal, Qatar, Romania, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, San Marino, Saudi Arabia, Singapore, Slovakia, Spain, Sri Lanka, Sweden, Switzerland, Syrian Arab Republic, Tajikistan, Thailand, Togo, Trinidad and Tobago, Turkey, United Arab Emirates, United Kingdom, Yemen and Zambia.

⁴⁰ China, France, India, Italy, Japan and the United Kingdom.

⁴¹ Article 45bis of the Standing Orders of the Conference.

- Protection against Accidents (Dockers) Convention, 1929 (No. 28).
- Minimum age: Conventions Nos. 15 and 60.
- Seafarers: Convention No. 91.⁴²

38. Furthermore, the Governing Body decided to propose to the Conference the withdrawal of 11 Conventions which had not entered into force.⁴³ Five of these Conventions were withdrawn by the International Labour Conference at its 88th Session (2000):⁴⁴

- Hours of work: Conventions Nos. 31, 46, 51, 61.
- Migration for employment: Convention No. 66.

The question of the withdrawal of six other Conventions is yet to be placed on the agenda of the International Labour Conference:

- Seafarers: Conventions Nos. 54, 57, 72, 75, 76 and 93.

⁴³ Furthermore, the Working Party (or LILS Committee) will re-examine the situation of Convention No. 109 including its possible withdrawal in due course, after the entry into force of Convention No. 180 (this entry into force will take place on 8 August 2002).

⁴⁴ See Reports VII(1) and (2), and Provisional Records Nos. 62, 6-2A-E, 88th Session (2000) of the ILC.

II. Decisions concerning international labour Recommendations

40. Recommendations are non-binding instruments which define the Organization's objectives in a specific sphere and at a given time, and which establish guidelines for member States in the area of social policy. Contrary to Conventions, Recommendations are not subject to ratification.
41. According to the methodology adopted by the Working Party for their examination,⁴⁷ Recommendations which have been replaced by way of explicit Conference decisions have been distinguished from Recommendations which may have become de facto obsolete following a change of circumstances or the adoption of later standards on the same subject. In addition, a distinction has been made between Recommendations which accompany or supplement a Convention and those which are autonomous. The Governing Body decisions concerning the former group of Recommendations tend to follow the decisions taken for the corresponding Conventions.⁴⁸

1. Decisions to revise

42. The Governing Body decided on the revision of 13 Recommendations in accordance with the proposals of the Working Party.⁴⁹

Subject matter	Recommendations
Hours of work	Hours of Work and Rest Periods (Road Transport) Recommendation, 1979 (No. 161)
Occupational safety and health ⁵⁰	Anthrax Prevention Recommendation, 1919 (No. 3) Lead Poisoning (Women and children) Recommendation, 1919 (No. 4) White Phosphorus Recommendation, 1919 (No. 6) Guarding of Machinery Recommendation, 1963 (No. 118) Maximum Weight Recommendation, 1967 (No. 128)

⁴⁶ Furthermore, Convention No. 137 and Recommendation No. 145 were the subject of a General Survey by the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations. The General Survey is submitted to the Conference at its current Session. See above, para. 23.

⁴⁸ See table in Appendix I attached to this information note.

⁴⁹ In addition, the revision of the Co-operatives (Developing Countries) Recommendation, 1966 (No. 127), is the object of a second discussion at the current session of the Conference. See Report V(1), 89th Session (2001) of the Conference. Furthermore, at its 280th Session (March 2001), the Governing Body placed an item on the revision of the Human Resources Development Recommendation, 1975 (No. 150), on the agenda of the 91st Session (2003) of the Conference. See document GB.280/2.

⁵⁰ At its 280th Session (March 2001) the Governing Body placed an item on the implementation of the integrated approach to ILO standards-related activities in the area of occupational safety and health on the agenda of the 91st Session (2003) of the Conference. See document GB.280/2.

2. Up-to-date Recommendations

43. When a Recommendation is considered up to date, the Governing Body has invited the member States to give it effect, in accordance with the provisions of article 19 of the Constitution. The Governing Body decided accordingly regarding 38 Recommendations. ⁵⁴ In some cases, it has also requested additional information on the obstacles encountered in the implementation of these instruments. ⁵⁵

⁵² The Governing Body considered that the revision of these three Recommendations as well as the Unemployment Indemnity (Shipwreck) Convention, 1920 (No. 8), the Shipowners' Liability (Sick and Injured Seamen) Convention, 1936 (No. 55), and the Seafarers' Pensions Convention, 1946 (No. 71), should be considered along with the Social Security (Seafarers) Convention (Revised), 1987 (No. 165), and the other maritime instruments, in the context of the elaboration of a draft framework instrument on labour standards in the maritime sector. See above, para. 7.

⁵³ The question of the adoption of a comprehensive standard (a Convention supplemented by a Recommendation) on work in the fishing sector has been placed on the agenda of the 92nd Session (June 2004) of the Conference.

⁵⁴ Of the 71 Recommendations considered up to date by the Governing Body, 33 were not examined by the Working Party since they are linked to the fundamental and priority Conventions or were adopted since 1985.

Final remarks

- 55. The Governing Body has asked the Office to continue to solicit the information requested in its decisions concerning the revision of standards, to promote the ratification of revised or up-to-date Conventions (inviting the member States to denounce at the same time, as appropriate, the corresponding older, outdated Conventions) and to invite member States to give effect to the up-to-date Recommendations. The Office has been asked also to provide technical assistance as required by member States in order to enable them to respond in detail to these requests for information with the aim of contributing to the future orientation of the work of the Organization in the field of revision of standards.
- 56. The Director-General would expect the full cooperation of all units and officials concerned, and in particular of the specialists of the multidisciplinary teams, in order to follow up on the decisions taken by the Governing Body, which are of crucial importance to the credibility and the effectiveness of the standards system of the Organization.

Summary tables

1. The three tables that follow contain a summary account of the decisions taken by the Governing Body in the context of the policy regarding the revision of standards.
2. In the first table, Conventions and Recommendations are grouped together following the classified guide of international labour standards. Nevertheless, for reasons of simplicity, instruments that cover more than one subject matter appear only once in the table. Thus, for example, the Minimum Age Convention, 1973 (No. 138), is included only under the heading “Basic human rights – Child labour” and does not appear under the heading “Employment of children and young persons – Minimum age”.
3. The other two tables present the Conventions and Recommendations, respectively, in chronological order.
4. For reasons of clarity, the decisions taken by the Governing Body with regard to Conventions and Recommendations have been arranged into five categories: “Up-to-date instruments”, “Instruments to be revised”, “Outdated instruments”, “Requests for information” and “Other instruments”. Not all the nuances contained in the Governing Body decisions have therefore been reflected in the tables. A specific category was also created for the Recommendations which have been expressly replaced by subsequent instruments, and one other for the instruments which have been withdrawn by the Conference. In order to facilitate reading, the withdrawn or replaced instruments are not reproduced in the summary table by subject matter presented below. Finally, one category includes two instruments with regard to which the Working Party could not reach any conclusions.
5. The category “Up-to-date instruments” includes the fundamental and priority Conventions (appearing in bold in the first table) and their accompanying Recommendations, the instruments adopted since 1985 and those the implementation of which the Governing Body has decided to promote following the recommendations of the Working Party.
6. The “Instruments to be revised” include those instruments the revision of which has been decided by the Governing Body, in addition to two Conventions whose possible revision depends on the revision of other instruments on the same subject matter.
7. The category “Outdated instruments” includes the Conventions that have been shelved and those Conventions which the Governing Body has invited States parties to denounce while inviting them at the same time to ratify more recent Conventions on the same subject matter. This category also includes Recommendations that have been declared obsolete by the Governing Body.
8. The “Requests for information”, which constitutes the fourth category, includes the instruments for which the Governing Body has requested that a General Survey or a short survey be carried out, as well as ad hoc requests for additional information.
9. The category of “Other instruments” comprises instruments which are no longer fully up to date but remain relevant in certain respects.
