Reader's note

The Information document on ratifications and standards-related activities (Report III (Part 2)) provides an overview of developments in international labour standards during 2011. It supplements the information contained in the report of the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations (Report III) (Part 1A). Part I provides general information on recent developments concerning international labour standards, constitutional and other procedures in relation to the supervision of standards, and technical assistance in the field of standards. Part II provides information on the ratification of individual Conventions and Protocols in table format. Part III contains “country profiles” which bring together information on the ratification and application of Conventions and on the submission of instruments adopted by the International Labour Conference to the competent authorities in a table format by country.

Part I. General information on international labour standards

Standards policy

A. Improvements to standards-related activities

1. Discussions on the standards strategy in the Governing Body

1. Further to the consultations which took place in 2010, detailed proposals were submitted to the Governing Body in March and November 2011¹, in the context of its discussions on improvements to the standards-related activities of the ILO, relating to the establishment of a standards review mechanism under the auspices of the LILS Section of the Governing Body. The objective was for the ILO to have a clear, robust and up-to-date body of international labour standards that responds to the needs of the world of work, the protection of workers and promotion of sustainable enterprises. The proposals included the establishment of one or more working groups, their composition, working methods and the principles to guide the review, options for the standards to be reviewed, and possible time frames. In November 2011, the Governing Body approved the establishment of a standards review mechanism and recommended that further consultations should be held on the modalities of the mechanism with a view to identifying and resolving the concerns relating to it and submitting a proposal to the March 2012 session of the Governing Body on the options set out in the document before it, bearing in mind the views expressed by the Governing Body members under this agenda item.²

2. In March 2011, the Governing Body also continued to discuss the streamlining of the sending and processing of information and reports, in the context of improvements to standards-related activities.³ It decided to slightly modify the report form relating to the Occupational Safety and Health Convention, 1981 (No. 155), and to invite the Office to report on the ongoing review of the article 22 report forms for other occupational safety and health Conventions and also of the general parts of the report forms to up-to-date Conventions. Regarding the reporting cycle, the Governing Body approved the three-year cycle for the fundamental and governance Conventions and the five-year cycle for other Conventions, on the basis of the existing grouping of Conventions by subject matter, as set out in the Office document, and invited the Office to implement the aforementioned three-year cycle as of 2012, the five-year cycle remaining unchanged.⁴

3. Furthermore, following the Governing Body's decision of November 2005, and its approval of the funding proposed at the November 2009 session, a Tripartite Meeting of Experts on working-time arrangements was held in Geneva from 17 to 21 October 2011. This meeting has been organized as a result of the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations (Committee of Experts), General Survey on the Hours of Work (Industry) Convention, 1919 (No. 1), and the Hours of Work (Commerce and Offices) Convention, 1930 (No. 30), and the discussion of that General Survey by the Committee on the Application of Standards of the International Labour Conference (Committee on the Application of Standards) in June 2005. In its conclusions, the Tripartite Meeting of Experts underlined that the provisions of existing ILO standards relating to daily and weekly hours of work, weekly rest, paid annual leave, part-time and night work, remain relevant in the twenty-first century, and should be promoted in order to facilitate decent work. The Experts also emphasized the importance of working time, its regulation, and organization and management, to: (a) workers and their health and well-being, including opportunities for balancing working and non-working time; (b) the productivity and competitiveness of enterprises; and (c) effective responses to economic and labour market crises.

4. It will be recalled that at its November 2009 session, the Governing Body asked the Office to launch a process of informal tripartite consultations regarding the issue of interpretation of international labour Conventions. Consultations were undertaken in February-March and November 2010. They should be continued in 2012.

5. At its 310th Session in March 2011, the Governing Body attributed US$2 million of funds from the Special Programme Account (SPA) to the International Labour Standards Department (NORMES) to be used by 2013 for the purpose of strengthening the application of standards. The resources will, as a one-time expenditure, enable the Office to experiment with a pilot programme dedicated to helping a certain number of countries to bring their reporting obligations up to date and to assist another group of countries to reduce their implementation gap. The envisaged activities comprise two components: (i) reporting assistance to 20 countries, to create a reporting "safety net" that would enable them to catch up on their backlog and to discharge their reporting obligations in the future; and (ii) assistance to a further 20 countries, to reduce the implementation gap with respect to certain ratified Conventions.

2. Enhanced access to the standards system and broader visibility

(a) Brief update on the new NORMES information system and the implementation of an online reporting system

6. In August 2009, NORMES launched a major project to consolidate, upgrade and unify its existing databases and develop an online reporting system, with the primary objective to facilitate and streamline the reporting burden on governments. The main phase of this project was completed in December 2011, with the launching of the NORMLEX database. NORMLEX is a user-friendly information system which brings together information on international labour standards (such as ratification information, reporting requirements, comments of the ILO's supervisory bodies, etc.), as well as national labour and social security laws. NORMLEX includes the NATLEX database as well as the information which was previously contained in the former APPLIS, ILOLEX and LIBSYND databases. This single platform consolidating all legal information is part of the ILO's overall knowledge strategy, which should offer a systematic approach to gathering, sharing and analysing information at the country level.

7. The final phase of this project is the implementation of an online reporting system (ORS). The rationale behind the ORS is to offer the possibility for each member State (including the social partners) to: access in one single application all the information concerning its reporting cycle; the possibility to access all the comments (new and pending ones as well as historical data) of the Committee of Experts; and reply to them directly online with the possibility to upload and fill all the report forms (whether for a detailed or simplified report). The ORS enables each member State to log in with a password to access the portal, taking into account the need for the most representative workers' and employers' organizations to have access to the government's report.

8. At present, some 80 per cent of reports are received by the Office through email. This practice raises problems as, in most cases, governments continue in addition to send paper copies of their reports at a later date. The Office has to double-check to ensure that the two versions are identical. Once the ORS is up and running, countries adhering to this system would no longer send paper copies. The site would give the opportunity to upload the relevant reports and small annexes. Large annexes could be mailed via postal services, and either be made available in electronic format or member States could direct the Office to official websites with the relevant data.

9. In order to move forward with the ORS, certain member States will need to be identified to volunteer to participate in the pilot phase of the system. In any case, it should be recalled that, presently, a significant number of the 183 ILO member States do not enjoy a reliable Internet connection. Therefore, the possibility of sending paper reports will always be available for countries unable to use the ORS.

(b) Reaching the ILO's tripartite constituents and the broader public

10. In 2011, NORMES has continued to pursue its strategy in order to reach the widest possible audience regarding the dissemination of the information on standards, which has continued to be better integrated into the Organization's activities. In terms of publications, on the occasion of the 100th Session of the International Labour Conference and the 85th anniversary of the Committee on the Application of Standards, NORMES released in May a publication called "The Committee on the Application of Standards of the International Labour Conference – A dynamic and impact built on decades of dialogue and persuasion" which emphasized the significance of the work carried out by this body through case studies over the past 25 years.

3. Instrument of Amendment to the ILO Constitution of 1997

11. The 1997 Instrument of Amendment to the ILO Constitution, the purpose of which is to enable the Conference to abrogate Conventions that have become obsolete, will enter into force once it has been ratified or accepted by two-thirds of the Members of the Organization (122/183). A campaign for ratification has been launched with a view to promoting the entry into force of this Instrument of Amendment, which has to date received 120 ratifications or acceptances. The last ratification, that of Slovenia, was registered on 29 June 2011.⁵

⁵ See the list of countries that have ratified or accepted the Instrument of Amendment in Appendix II.

B. New standard considered by the International Labour Conference at its 100th Session (June 2011)

Domestic workers

12. It will be recalled that at its 301st Session (March 2008), the Governing Body decided to put on the agenda of the 99th Session (2010) of the Conference an item on decent work for domestic workers with a view to standard setting.⁶ Therefore, following a first discussion in June 2010, the Conference adopted, by a very large majority,⁷ at its 100th Session the Domestic Workers Convention, 2011 (No. 189), and the Domestic Workers Recommendation, 2011 (No. 201).⁸ This is the first time that the ILO has adopted standards that apply specifically to this category of workers. The adoption of these standards stems from a recognition that domestic workers, in particular female migrant domestic workers, are often victims of a lack of decent work.

13. The provisions of Convention No. 189 address, among others, the protection of the fundamental labour rights and other human rights of domestic workers; their employment, working and living conditions, in particularly with regard to working hours and pay; social security; occupational health and safety; cross-border recruitment of migrant domestic workers; recruitment or placement of domestic workers by private employment agencies; as well as dispute settlement and monitoring the implementation of legislation that gives effect to the Convention. Recommendation No. 201 supplements the Convention with more detailed provisions, and also addresses issues such as the organization of medical examinations for domestic workers; dismissal; assistance measures; the role of domestic workers' countries of origin; training; reconciliation of work and family responsibilities; bilateral, regional and international cooperation to improve protection for domestic workers; as well as the adoption of policies and codes of conduct for diplomatic personnel intended to prevent violations of domestic workers' rights.

C. Standards-related items placed on the agenda of the Conference (2012 and 2013)

14. Under the follow-up to the Social Justice Declaration, the Governing Body decided, at its March 2010 session, to include a recurrent discussion on the strategic objective of fundamental principles and rights at work covering the four categories of fundamental principles and rights in the agenda of the 101st Session of the Conference.⁹ It should be recalled that the recurrent discussions cover all the means of action of the Organization, including standard setting. Moreover, further to the recurrent discussion that took place within the Conference Committee for the Recurrent Discussion on Social Protection in June 2011, the Governing Body decided to place a standard-setting item entitled "Elaboration of an autonomous Recommendation on the Social Protection Floor" (single discussion) on the agenda of the 101st Session of the Conference. Finally, a general discussion on the youth employment crisis will constitute the third item on the aforementioned agenda.

⁶ See document GB.301/2.

⁷ Convention No. 189 was adopted by 396 votes in favour, 16 against and 63 abstentions; Recommendation No. 201 was adopted by 434 votes in favour, 8 against and 42 abstentions.

⁸ ILO: Provisional Records Nos 15, 15A and 15B, International Labour Conference, 100th Session, Geneva, 2011.

⁹ Document GB.307/PV.

15. As regards the 102nd Session (2013) of the Conference, the Governing Body has placed the following items on the agenda: a recurrent discussion on the strategic objective of social dialogue; a general discussion on employment and social protection in the new demographic context; and a general discussion on sustainable development, decent work and green jobs.

Constitutional and other procedures

A. Measures taken under article 33 of the ILO Constitution: The question of the observance by Myanmar of the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29)

16. Following a complaint filed pursuant to article 26 of the Constitution, alleging the non-observance by Myanmar of the Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29), the Governing Body decided to establish a Commission of Inquiry. The Commission concluded, in its report published in 1998, that the obligation under Article 1, paragraph 1, of the Convention to suppress the use of forced or compulsory labour was being violated in Myanmar both in national legislation and in practice in a widespread and systematic manner, and it made a series of recommendations.

17. As the Government failed to take the necessary steps to implement the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry, the International Labour Conference (ILC) adopted at its 87th Session (June 1999) a resolution on the widespread use of forced labour, according to which Myanmar should cease to benefit from any technical cooperation or assistance from the ILO, except for the purpose of direct assistance to implement immediately the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry. The following year, the ILC adopted a new resolution, under article 33 of the Constitution, inviting the Organization's constituents to review their relations with Myanmar and take appropriate measures to ensure that Myanmar cannot take advantage of such relations to perpetuate or extend the system of forced or compulsory labour referred to by the Commission of Inquiry.

18. In May 2001, an Understanding on an ILO objective assessment was signed between the Organization and the Government of Myanmar, under which the Government agreed to receive a high-level team appointed to assess, with full independence and freedom of movement, the realities of the forced labour situation. The Government also accepted the appointment of an ILO Liaison Officer in Myanmar, whose role covers all activities relevant to ensuring the prompt and effective elimination of forced labour. The post of Liaison Officer has been in existence since October 2002.

19. In May 2003, the Government and the ILO agreed on a joint plan of action on the elimination of forced labour practices in Myanmar, which could not be implemented in view of events that occurred at the national level. In November 2004, the Governing Body requested that a very high-level team be sent to the country to evaluate the attitude of the authorities in Myanmar and their willingness to continue to cooperate with the ILO. In February 2005, the very high-level mission considered that the conditions were not conducive to the effective discharge of its mandate and it submitted to the authorities, before leaving the country, an aide-memoire outlining the measures that should be taken to improve the situation. In October 2005, on the occasion of consultations held between the Office and the Minister of Labour, the authorities indicated that Myanmar did not wish to engage in any debate on the measures recommended by the very high-level mission or on the joint plan of action in so far as the only acceptable mechanism for dealing with complaints of forced labour was the actual presence of the ILO in the country. At the 294th Session of the Governing Body (November 2005), many members expressed their deep concern about the deteriorating situation in Myanmar and a number of them indicated that, under the circumstances, the only possible solution for the Organization was to entrust to the Conference itself the task of reviewing the measures adopted, under article 33 of the Constitution, in the Conference's resolution of 2000.

20. Accordingly, the Governing Body placed the following item on the agenda of the 95th Session of the Conference (May–June 2006): “Review of possible further action by the ILO in accordance with its Constitution in order: (i) to effectively secure Myanmar’s compliance with the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry, and (ii) to ensure that no action is taken against complainants or their representatives”. At that session, the Conference examined the various options that it might consider adopting to ensure compliance with the Convention, including the possibility of the ILO seeking an advisory opinion from the International Court of Justice. At its 297th Session (November 2006), the Governing Body expressed great frustration that the Myanmar authorities had not been able to agree on a mechanism to deal with complaints of forced labour.

21. On 26 February 2007, the ILO and the Government of Myanmar signed a Supplementary Understanding to establish a complaints mechanism, aimed at giving victims of forced labour the opportunity to channel their complaints through the services of the Liaison Officer to the competent authorities with a view to seeking redress. Both the Governing Body and the ILC, at its 96th Session (May–June 2007), while welcoming the implementation of this mechanism, emphasized that it was vital to ensure that the mechanism function efficiently and that the Liaison Officer had the necessary staff resources to discharge adequately the responsibilities that the position entailed.

22. In November 2007, at its 300th Session, the Governing Body called on the Government of Myanmar to make at the highest level an unambiguous public statement that all forms of forced labour are prohibited throughout the country and that those using it would be duly punished. The Governing Body also called on the Government to ensure: that the mechanism provided by the Supplementary Understanding remain fully functional at the national level; that forced labour victims are able to access the complaints mechanism easily; and that there are no further detentions or acts of harassment against complainants, facilitators or others.

23. In March and November 2009 (304th and 306th Sessions), the Governing Body acknowledged a certain degree of cooperation from the Government to make the complaints mechanism, for which the trial period has regularly been extended function. However, it called upon the Government to strengthen the capacity of the ILO so that complaints could be dealt with throughout the country and to immediately release all persons currently detained because of their association with the complaints mechanism. In June 2010, the Conference considered that the steps taken by the Government were totally inadequate and again emphasized the need for the Government to work proactively towards the full implementation of the 1998 recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry.

24. In November 2010 (309th Session), the Governing Body noted the commitment made by the Permanent Representative of the Government and called on the new Parliament to proceed without delay to bring the legislation into line with the Convention. While noting the increased number of the complaints received under the Supplementary Understanding complaints mechanism, the Governing Body considered it essential that the movement towards an environment free from harassment or fear of retribution be sustained and it called upon the Government to cooperate with the Liaison Officer on cases raised at the Officer’s own initiative. Finally, the Governing Body welcomed the release of Daw Aung San Suu Kyi and urged that other persons associated with the submission of complaints under the Supplementary Understanding, would be similarly given their liberty as soon as possible.

25. In November 2011, the Governing Body welcomed the positive developments in Myanmar since March 2011 but remained concerned that serious problems in the use of forced labour persist. It noted in particular that legislation, prohibiting the use of forced labour in all its forms and repealing both the Towns and Villages Acts of 1907, was before Parliament and urged the early adoption and coming into force of that legislation. The Governing Body also welcomed the commencement of direct discussion with the Ministries of Finance and Planning and looked forward to confirmation that planning and financial management processes sufficiently provide for the payment of wages in government operational and project activities. It again stressed the critical importance of a comprehensive proactive approach encompassing not only the continuation of awareness-raising activities and the management of the complaints mechanism but also the effective prosecution of forced labour perpetrators, military and civilian, under the Penal Code. Finally, noting the calls for a review by the International Labour Conference of the mandate defined by the 1999 resolution, the Governing Body decided to consider this issue at its March 2012 session.

B. Representations submitted under article 24 of the ILO Constitution

26. Representations may be filed under article 24 of the Constitution by industrial associations of employers or workers, alleging that a member State that has ratified a Convention has failed to secure within its jurisdiction the effective observance of that Convention. Once declared receivable, representations are examined by a tripartite committee established by the Governing Body. Their findings are followed up by the Committee of Experts. The table below indicates developments concerning representations in 2011.

Country	Conventions	Complainant organization	Status of the representation
Chile	Old-Age Insurance (Industry, etc.) Convention, 1933 (No. 35), and Invalidity Insurance (Industry, etc.) Convention, 1933 (No. 37)	College of Teachers of Chile AG	Pending: representation declared receivable by the Governing Body at its 308th Session (June 2010). Tripartite committee set up (June 2011).
Cuba	Forced Labour Convention, 1930 (No. 29), and Abolition of Forced Labour Convention, 1957 (No. 105)	Unitary Council of Cuban Workers (CUTC)	Representation declared non-receivable by the Governing Body at its 311th Session (June 2011).
Dominican Republic	Equality of Treatment (Accident Compensation) Convention, 1925 (No. 19)	National Confederation of Dominican Workers	Pending: representation declared receivable by the Governing Body at its 310th Session (March 2011). Tripartite committee set up (June 2011).
Japan	Equal Remuneration Convention, 1951 (No. 100)	Zensekiyu Showa–Shell Labour Union	Report adopted by the Governing Body at its 312th Session in November 2011 (GB.312/INS/15/3).
	Private Employment Agencies Convention, 1997 (No. 181)	Japan Community Union Federation	Pending: representation declared receivable by the Governing Body at its 306th Session (November 2009). Tripartite committee set up.
Peru	Seafarers' Pensions Convention, 1946 (No. 71)	Autonomous Confederation of Workers' Union of Peru (CATP)	Pending: representation declared receivable by the Governing Body at its 310th Session (March 2011). Tripartite committee set up (June 2011).

Country	Conventions	Complainant organization	Status of the representation
	Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81)	Autonomous Confederation of Workers' Union of Peru (CATP)	Pending: representation declared receivable by the Governing Body at its 312th Session (November 2011). Tripartite committee set up.
	Indigenous and Tribal Peoples Convention, 1989 (No. 169)	General Confederation of Workers of Peru (CGTP)	Pending: representation declared receivable by the Governing Body at its 307th Session (March 2010). Tripartite committee set up (June 2011).
Portugal	Occupational Safety and Health Convention, 1981 (No. 155)	Occupational Association of Professional Police Officers (ASPP/PSP)	Pending: representation declared receivable by the Governing Body at its 311th Session (June 2011). Tripartite committee set up.
Spain	Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81)	State Federation of Associations of Employment and Social Security Subinspectors (FESESS)	Pending: representation declared receivable by the Governing Body at its 312th Session (November 2011). Tripartite committee set up.

C. Complaints submitted under article 26 of the ILO Constitution

27. Complaints may be filed under article 26 of the Constitution alleging that a member State that has ratified a Convention is not securing its effective observance. Complaints may be filed by another member State that has ratified the same Convention. The Governing Body may initiate the procedure either of its own motion or upon receipt of a complaint from a delegate to the ILC. The Governing Body may appoint a Commission of Inquiry to consider the complaint. Findings of the Commission of Inquiry are followed up by the Committee of Experts or the Committee on Freedom of Association.

Bahrain

28. At the 100th Session of the Conference in June 2011, a number of workers' delegates filed a complaint under article 26 of the ILO Constitution against the Government of Bahrain for violations of the Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, 1958 (No. 111), ratified by Bahrain. At its 312th Session in November 2011, the Governing Body took note of the proposal of the Government of Bahrain to: (a) establish a tripartite committee comprised of one member nominated by the Government, one nominated by the General Federation of Bahrain Trade Unions and one by the Bahrain employers; (b) ensure that the tripartite committee has access to all relevant documents and meets weekly to address, with the assistance of independent legal advice if requested by the Government or the workers' or employers' representatives, the issue of dismissals and reinstatements, and provide minutes of its meetings to the International Labour Office; (c) provide two written progress reports to the Director-General, in January and February 2012, and any additional information before the March 2012 Governing Body. The Governing Body, therefore, invited the Director-General to provide any requested legal assistance or support to the Government of Bahrain or the workers' or employers' representatives in this process, and to report on the situation to the Governing Body at its March 2012 session. The consideration of the complaint was on this basis deferred until the March 2012 session of the Governing Body.

Belarus

29. It will be recalled that at its 288th Session (November 2003), the Governing Body established a Commission of Inquiry to examine the observance by the Government of Belarus of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), and the Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98). The Governing Body noted the report of the Commission of Inquiry in November 2004 and entrusted the Committee on Freedom of Association with the responsibility of supervising and following up the Commission's recommendations, as well as the Committee of Experts in its periodic review of these Conventions.

30. In light of the time that had elapsed since its previous examination of the case (November 2008) and the additional information provided by the national trade unions, the Committee on Freedom of Association examined the measures taken by the Government of Belarus with a view to giving effect to the Commission of Inquiry's recommendations in May 2011, in absence of the Government's observations (see 361st Report). On that occasion, the Committee on Freedom of Association regretted that the Government had not replied to its previous recommendations and to new allegations of violations of freedom of association rights and urged the Government to be more cooperative in the future. The Committee on Freedom of Association also noted with regret that no substantial progress had been made by the Government towards implementing the Commission's recommendations and improving the situation of trade union rights in the country and urged the Government to intensify its efforts to ensure that freedom of association and collective bargaining were fully and effectively guaranteed in law and in practice. It expected that the Government would intensify its cooperation with the Office, as well as social dialogue with all partners, including the unions outside of the Federation of Trade Unions of Belarus, to implement without delay all the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry and ensure that any legislative changes would conform to this objective.

31. In June 2011, the Committee on the Application of Standards noted that a General Agreement for 2011–13, covering all employers' and workers' organizations in the country had been signed and that, guided by the spirit of cooperation embodied in this agreement, the Government had decided to restore preferential rental treatment for all trade unions. The Committee noted with regret, however, that no substantial progress had been made by the Government towards implementing the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry, nor addressing the concerns raised by the Committee of Experts under the Convention. It further noted with regret new allegations of violations of freedom of association, including allegations of interference in trade union activities, pressure and harassment. In particular, the Committee took note of the allegations of the use of fixed-term contracts to pressure workers into withdrawing their membership from the Congress of Democratic Trade Unions and its affiliates. Observing that the Government refers to representativeness of trade unions but refrains from addressing the issue as asked by the ILO, the Committee recalled that the concerns in this regard related to the fact that the determination of union representativeness could not be meaningful until the Government first put in place the measures necessary to ensure full respect for the freedom of association rights of all workers, both in law and in practice, including the necessary legislative framework for the registration of freely chosen workers' organizations and a climate which ensured their effective recognition and the promotion of their collective bargaining rights. The Committee therefore urged the Government to intensify its efforts to ensure that freedom of association was fully and effectively guaranteed in law and in practice without delay and expressed the firm hope that the Government would continue its cooperation with the ILO and the social partners to this effect. It expected that the Government would submit, after an independent and impartial investigation, detailed observations on the allegations of anti-union discrimination, including as regards the impact of fixed-term contracts and employer interference in workers' organizations, as well as information on any proposed amendments to the legislation to the Committee of Experts this year. The Conference Committee trusted that the Government would provide substantive information in this regard as a demonstration of its political will to implement the Commission's recommendations and further hoped that it would be in a position to note significant progress at its next session.

Myanmar

32. At the 99th Session (2010) of the Conference, a number of Workers' delegates presented a complaint under article 26 of the ILO Constitution against the Government of Myanmar for persistent and grave violations of Convention No. 87. The Governing Body declared the complaint receivable at its November 2010 session and requested the Government to provide its observations thereon for its consideration. In March 2011, the Governing Body requested the Government of Myanmar to transmit to the Office, without delay, the draft law on labour organizations currently under preparation. The Government invited the Office to provide advice on the draft legislation in respect of its international obligations and a mission was undertaken in July 2011. In November 2011, the Government sent the Office a copy of the Labour Organization Law which had been signed and promulgated by the President of the Republic on 11 October 2011. At its November 2011 session, the Governing Body urged the Government to avail itself of the advice and assistance of the ILO, including through strengthening and expanding the capacity of the ILO Liaison Officer, aimed at fostering the conducive environment necessary for the practical application of the new law and any implementing regulations in a manner which is in conformity with freedom of association principles, and decided to defer to its March 2012 session the adoption of a decision on the appointment of a Commission of Inquiry.

Zimbabwe

33. It will be recalled that at its 303rd Session (November 2008), the Governing Body established a Commission of Inquiry to examine the observance by the Government of Zimbabwe of Conventions Nos 87 and 98. The Governing Body noted the report of the Commission of Inquiry in March 2010. At the same session, the Governing Body supported the Commission's proposal that the ILO pursue its assistance to the Government and social partners in relation to the implementation of the Commission's recommendations.

34. In June 2011, the Committee on the Application of Standards, in examining the application of Convention No. 87 by Zimbabwe for the first time following the report of the Commission of Inquiry, noted the Government's statement reaffirming its political will and commitment to ensuring the implementation of the recommendations of the Commission of Inquiry and expressing deep appreciation for the assistance afforded by the ILO in this regard. The Committee further noted the Government's indication that draft principles for the harmonization and review of the labour laws had been agreed with the social partners, taking into account the comments of the Commission of Inquiry and the Committee of Experts; that the tripartite partners were finalizing the draft principles for the legislated Tripartite Negotiating Forum; that issues related to the Public Order and Security Act (POSA) were high on the agenda of the dialogue sessions with high-ranking officials in the targeted government ministries and agencies; and that the Ministry of Labour and Social Services was working on placing labour rights on the agenda of the Organ for National Healing, Reconciliation and Integration, the Human Rights Commission and the Office of the Ombudsperson. The Committee noted with concern new allegations of violations of freedom of association in practice and, in particular, those relating to the forced exile of the General Secretary of the General Agriculture and Plantation Workers Union of Zimbabwe (GAPWUZ), as well as several instances of banning of trade union activities. Recalling the importance it attached to respect for basic civil liberties, including freedom and security of the person and freedom of assembly, the Committee requested the Government to ensure that the POSA was not applied in practice so as to jeopardize the effective exercise of freedom of association, and to carry out a full review of its application in practice with the social partners. It urged the Government to take the necessary measures to ensure that the GAPWUZ leader could come back to the country and that her safety was ensured. The Committee noted the launch of the ILO technical assistance programme and the information on the activities that had taken place already and those that were scheduled to take place before the end of 2011. In particular, the Committee noted that the outstanding cases of trade unionists arrested under the POSA had been identified and urged the Government to ensure that these cases were withdrawn without further delay. The Committee noted the process of labour law review and harmonization initiated in the country and welcomed the fact that this process involved the social partners. It urged the Government to proceed with this work and all other measures for the implementation of the Commission's recommendations as a matter of urgency and recommended to the Government to elaborate a roadmap to this effect with clearly delineated timelines which should be strictly respected. Priority should be given to addressing all concerns related to fundamental civil liberties and all human rights violations, including those relating to trade union rights. Concrete steps should be taken for the preparation of workshops ensuring that the police and security forces were trained for the full respect of human and trade union rights and to enable the elaboration and promulgation of clear lines of conduct. The Committee expressed the firm hope that law and practice would be brought fully in line with the Convention in the very near future, encouraged the Government to continue cooperating with the ILO and the social partners in this respect and asked it to provide a detailed report to the Committee of Experts at its next meeting.

35. In July 2011, the following activities took place in Zimbabwe with ILO support and assistance: high-level roundtable discussion on international labour standards and national law and practice; a workshop on freedom of association and collective bargaining rights in the public sector; training course on international labour standards for the police and other law enforcement agencies and State actors; and, in collaboration with the ITC in Turin, a training course on international labour standards and judicial independence and ethics for labour court judges, conciliators, arbitrators and lawyers.

D. Special procedure concerning freedom of association

36. At its last meetings (March, May–June and November 2011), the Committee on Freedom of Association had before it more than 212 cases concerning 60 countries from all parts of the world, for which it presented interim or final conclusions, or for which the examination was adjourned pending the arrival of information from governments (359th, 360th, 361st and 362nd Reports). Many of these cases have been before the Committee on Freedom of Association on more than one occasion. The Committee on Freedom of Association has drawn the attention of the Committee of Experts to the legislative aspects of the following cases: Ethiopia (Case No. 2516), Fiji (Case No. 2723), Pakistan (Case No. 2799), Ukraine (Case No. 2843) and the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela (Case No. 2727).

Technical assistance and cooperation

A. Follow-up missions to the conclusions adopted by the Conference at its recent sessions

Bangladesh

37. In June 2008, the Committee on the Application of Standards examined the application by Bangladesh of the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to Organise Convention, 1948 (No. 87), including serious violations in law and in practice, inter alia, in export processing zones (EPZs). Subsequently, the Government requested ILO technical assistance. A mission was undertaken in December 2010 by the Executive Director of the Standards and Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work Sector, and the Deputy-Director of NORMES to discuss with constituents issues related to the exercise of trade union rights in EPZs.

Colombia

38. At the invitation of the Government, a high-level tripartite mission (comprising the Chairperson of the Committee on the Application of Standards, the Employer and Worker Vice-Chairpersons of the Committee, and the Worker Vice-Chairperson of the Governing Body) visited the country (14–18 February 2011) to examine the implementation of the Tripartite Agreement on Freedom of Association and Democracy, signed in 2006 at the International Labour Conference. The mission took place in follow-up to the high-level tripartite visit carried out by the Director of NORMES in October 2009 and the preliminary contact missions that took place in 2010 relating to a number of cases before the Committee on Freedom of Association.

Costa Rica

39. At its session in June 2010, the Committee on the Application of Standards noted that the Government had requested a technical assistance mission to overcome problems related to the Right to Organise and Collective Bargaining Convention, 1949 (No. 98). The mission, which took place from 16 to 20 May 2011, was led by a member of the Committee of Experts and was received by the Labour Minister and high-level officials from the ministry responsible for labour. Several meetings were held with representatives of other state bodies of various levels, as well as with employers' and workers' representatives. The Committee of Experts examined the mission's report at its last session.

Czech Republic

40. At its session in 2010, the Committee on the Application of Standards requested the Government of the Czech Republic to accept a technical assistance mission to enable it to bring its law and practice into conformity with the Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, 1958 (No. 111) without further delay. A mission was undertaken by NORMES in April 2011, to discuss with the constituents and a range of stakeholders issues related to the anti-discrimination legislation, equal access of the Roma to education, training, employment and occupation, and discrimination based on political opinion. Recommendations have been submitted to the Government for follow-up action.

Greece

41. From 19–23 September 2011, a high-level mission was conducted to Greece as requested by the Committee of Experts and the Committee on the Application of Standards in June 2011, so as to examine the impact of the measures adopted in the framework of the mechanism to support the Greek economy on the application of 11 Conventions ratified by Greece in the areas of freedom of association and collective bargaining, wages, employment policies, social security and labour inspection and administration. The high-level mission report underlined the important role that can be played by the ILO to support the Government and the social partners in the development and implementation of relevant and appropriate reforms to the labour market and its institutions in conformity with ratified International Labour Standards. It further emphasized the need for rapid support to bolster the labour relations system, promote collective bargaining, and create a meaningful space for social dialogue which builds upon the traditions of the social partners and is aimed at finding mutually reinforcing solutions to the new challenges they face. The information contained in the high-level mission's report is reflected in the comments made by the Committee of Experts on the application of Conventions Nos 87, 98 and 111 as well as the Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81), the Protection of Wages Convention, 1949 (No. 95), the Equal Remuneration Convention, 1951 (No. 100), the Social Security (Minimum Standards) Convention, 1952 (No. 102), the Employment Policy Convention, 1964 (No. 122), the Labour Administration Convention, 1978 (No. 150), the Collective Bargaining Convention, 1981 (No. 154) and the Workers with Family Responsibilities Convention, 1981 (No. 156).

Guatemala

42. From 9 to 13 May 2011, a high-level mission was conducted, as requested by the Committee on the Application of Standards in June 2010, to examine Guatemala's implementation of Convention No. 87. The Committee on the Application of Standards discussed Guatemala's implementation of Convention No. 87 again at its session in 2011 and requested that the Government submit a detailed report for examination by the Committee of Experts before the end of the year. The information contained in the high-level mission's report, as well as the new information provided by the Government and the social partners, is reflected in the comment made by the Committee of Experts on the application of the Convention at its last session.

Ukraine

43. In June 2009, during a discussion on the application by Ukraine of the Protection of Wages Convention, 1949 (No. 95), the Committee on the Application of Standards welcomed the Government's request for a technical assistance mission to improve understanding of the situation of wage arrears that prevailed in Ukraine. The mission took place from 16 to 19 May 2011 and was led by a member of the Committee of Experts. The technical assistance mission's report and recommendations were submitted to the Committee of Experts.

Uruguay

44. In follow-up to the conclusions and recommendations issued by the Committee on Freedom of Association at its session in March 2010 with regard to a complaint filed against Uruguay by the International Organization of Employers, the Chamber of Industries of Uruguay and the National Chamber of Commerce and Services of Uruguay (Case No. 2699), and the examination of the implementation of Convention No. 98 by the Committee of Experts and the Committee on the Application of Standards in June 2011, a mission to Uruguay was conducted from 29 to 31 August 2011. At its last session, the Committee of Experts took note of the mission and in particular of the fact that in the framework of this mission a tripartite agreement was drawn up between the Ministry of Labour and Social Security and representatives of the workers' sector Inter-union Assembly of Workers – Workers' National Convention (PIT–CNT) and the employers' sector (Chamber of Industries of Uruguay and the National Chamber of Commerce and Services of Uruguay).

B. Technical assistance in reporting and other standards-related obligations

45. It would be appropriate to recall that since June 2005 the Committee on the Application of Standards and the Committee of Experts have strengthened, with the assistance of the Office, the follow-up concerning serious failure by member States to comply with their reporting and other standards-related obligations. Hence, NORMES, in close collaboration with the external offices, organizes technical assistance activities in light of what had been observed by the two Committees at their respective sessions.¹⁰ The activities that took place during the course of 2011 to ensure that member States comply with their obligations in this field, including those carried out in the framework of this follow-up, are listed below.

Africa

46. In the autumn of 2011, NORMES, in cooperation with the Programme on Safety and Health at Work and the Environment (SafeWork), assisted the Government of Ghana in improving its application of the Radiation Protection Convention, 1960 (No. 115), and the Guarding of Machinery Convention, 1963 (No. 119), by carrying out a gap analysis.

47. In follow-up to the concern expressed by both the Committee of Experts and the Committee on the Application of Standards on the absence of any reports on the implementation of Conventions ratified by Guinea-Bissau for more than four years, the standards specialist from the Decent Work Technical Support Team and Country Office (DWT/CO) in Dakar went to Bissau in August 2011 to train officials responsible for drafting reports, and social partners. The participants recommended that the first reports due on Conventions Nos 138 and 182 relating to child labour should be drafted in a national tripartite workshop. Following this activity, the Government of Guinea-Bissau sent 27 of the 29 reports due for the 2011 session of the Committee of Experts. Similar training has been provided in Guinea in October 2011.

48. In order to improve the implementation in West Africa of Conventions Nos 100 and 111 relating to equality, the Project to Support the Implementation of the Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work (PAMODEC) had continued its assistance in Senegal by organizing a tripartite national workshop for sharing preliminary draft legislation on discrimination at work, with a view to their adoption by the tripartite constituents (March 2011). Furthermore, the ILO programme "Promoting freedom of association and the right to collective bargaining" has provided technical and financial assistance to Cape Verde (May 2011), which culminated in the adoption of the plan for the promotion of collective bargaining. Implementation of the plan has already begun through the establishment of a subcommission of the Social Dialogue Council, which met for the first time on 17 June 2011. Moreover, in November 2010 a workshop was held in Togo to validate the study concerning the conformity of national legislation with the fundamental Conventions. Finally, at the request of the Government of Benin, a capacity-building activity for constituents relating to freedom of association and collective bargaining, with particular emphasis on the right to strike, was organized in September 2011 – an activity which included the participation of a member of the Committee of Experts.

49. Following requests by several governments to the DWT/CO–Pretoria to obtain technical assistance to either submit article 22 reports after several years of interruption or to improve the quality of such reports, the standards specialist facilitated reporting workshops in Mozambique, Namibia, South Africa, Swaziland, as well as Zambia. These workshops were conducted over a period of between three days and one week and targeted the three ILO constituents, including technical ministries other than of labour in a bid to both sensitize these ministries to international labour standards and to facilitate an inter-ministerial collaboration regarding article 22 reports. It is noteworthy that in most countries workshop recommendations were issued for the purpose of ensuring a follow-up in the future, particularly under the form of the establishment of an inter-ministerial unit, whether formal or informal.

50. The ILO Director-General visited Egypt immediately after the revolution (11–13 March 2011) and welcomed the declaration on freedom of association made by the Minister of Migration and Manpower. The Ministry proceeded to establish a Committee for the review of the Trade Union Act and the Labour Code. NORMES officials participated in the relevant deliberations on 12 July 2011 and addressed various concerns. The draft is currently before the Cabinet of Ministers. The standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Cairo continues to assist the Committee on law review by providing documents and clarifications concerning the Committee of Experts’ comments and the reporting cycle.

51. In March 2011, UN Women informed that it was working with the authorities to develop a draft gender act in Egypt. The standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Cairo and NORMES provided a global overview on the subject and shared examples of gender equality acts as well as a feasibility study of a maternity cash benefits scheme.

Americas

52. A mission to Ecuador, led by a member of the Committee of Experts was conducted from 14 to 18 February 2011 following a recommendation by the Committee on Freedom of Association (Case No. 2684), in order to examine issues pending, as well as some specific issues raised by the Committee of Experts.

53. In March 2011 (Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua) and July 2011 (Panama), the standards specialist from the DWT/CO–San José, jointly with the white paper compliance verification project and the specialist on gender issues, participated in tripartite workshops to raise awareness about Conventions Nos 100 and 111 and their implementation. In April 2011, the standards specialist, jointly with the white paper compliance verification project, organized, at the Government’s request, a workshop on drafting reports to be submitted under article 22 of the ILO Constitution. The aim of the workshop was to help these countries fulfil their constitutional obligations and respond to the comments of the supervisory bodies on the Conventions they have ratified.

54. The standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Port-of-Spain, with support from several headquarters units including the International Programme on the Elimination of Child Labour (IPEC), organized in Grenada in October 2011 a Tripartite Workshop on the Elimination of Hazardous Child Labour for Select Caribbean Countries with a view to: (i) raising awareness and providing skills for the preparation of lists of hazardous work; (ii) responding to recurring comments of the Committee of Experts; (iii) and raising awareness of linkages with occupational safety and health and labour inspection. Thirty participants from ten Caribbean countries participated and elaborated draft national plans of action to adopt and implement hazardous child labour lists.

55. At the request of the Government of the British Virgin Islands (a non-metropolitan territory of the United Kingdom) and in view of the failure to submit reports on Conventions declared applicable to this territory in recent years, the standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Port-of-Spain organized and led a training activity on report writing (November 2011). In the spirit of South–South and intra-Caribbean cooperation and in order to maximize the benefits of this activity, the Government of the British Virgin Islands welcomed the suggestion of the ILO to sponsor the joint mission of the ILO Desk Officer from Antigua and Barbuda to share his experience and knowledge and provide hands-on advice on ways of planning and preparing reports.

56. With the assistance of the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Santiago, in 2011 the Consultative Tripartite Commission on Fundamental Rights at Work and the Prevention of Forced Labour was reactivated in Paraguay, the establishment of which in 2009 had been intended to follow up on the comments made by the Committee of Experts. The Commission, with ILO technical assistance, is drafting a roadmap and a plan of action to eliminate forced labour and promote respect for the rights of indigenous peoples. Also in Paraguay, in an effort to streamline the follow-up to the comments made by the Committee of Experts, the standards specialist held a workshop in November 2011 on raising parliamentary awareness about the obligations arising from the ratification of a Convention and the parliamentary role in that regard. Furthermore, the standards specialist has continued to support government capacity building with regard to the drafting of reports under article 22 of the ILO Constitution. In July 2011, a workshop was held to assist the officials involved in drafting those reports. Technical assistance was also provided to the Government of Paraguay in respect of the drafting of a document to be submitted to Congress regarding the Domestic Workers Convention, 2011 (No. 189). The Government has expressed an interest in ratifying the Convention in the near future.

57. The ILO has provided technical assistance in the context of the joint United Nations programme in Uruguay for support for the reform of institutions for persons deprived of their liberty. A study was undertaken to analyse the legal and regulatory system for work in penal institutions in light of Conventions Nos 29 and 105 relating to forced labour. The recommendations made have been integrated into the bill drafted on that subject.

58. In Chile, the ILO is running a technical assistance programme in the context of the joint United Nations programme for national capacity building for intercultural conflict prevention and management (2010–12). A seminar has been held on the role of state actors in implementing the rights of indigenous peoples, which resulted in the establishment of a special committee for first peoples in the Chamber of Deputies.

Asia

59. In January 2011, the DWT–Bangkok formulated a Philippines “Job Scan”, intended to assist in the formulation of the next Decent Work Country Programme (DWCP) and participated in several other planning exercises envisaged for 2011. The standards specialists’ contribution to the DWCP comprised one chapter focussing on standards and labour law reform, to assist constituents in clarifying their priorities with regard to future ratifications and amendments to the labour law.

60. In 2010, a project entitled the “Global Jobs Pact framework for labour market governance and migration in the Pacific” was launched. Its principal objective is to promote the rule of law, effective labour market governance and improved implementation of ratified Conventions in the target countries – Kiribati, Papua New Guinea, Samoa, Tuvalu and Vanuatu – by assisting constituents to formulate and enact much-needed labour law reforms. The project shall also promote the ratification of the fundamental and governance Conventions and assist the target countries in fulfilling their reporting obligations. Preparatory groundwork for review of labour legislation has commenced in each of the countries, and a subregional labour law reform workshop was held in October 2011.

61. In view of the Committee of Experts’ comments on its failure to submit reports on ratified Conventions for several years, the standards specialist of DWT–Bangkok held a training in Solomon Islands (April 2011) with the relevant Ministry of Labour official to assist in the submission of reports due under article 22. Reports on three Conventions were commenced.

62. The standards specialist of the DWT/CO–New Delhi was involved in the following: (i) mission to support the Governments of Afghanistan and Sri Lanka in their efforts to strengthen their reporting capacities with regard to international labour standards; (ii) mission to Nepal in the context of the revision of legislation concerning freedom of association; (iii) mission to Afghanistan to assist in the amendment of its labour law; (iv) mission to India to follow up on the Committee of Experts’ comments on the application of the Indigenous and Tribal Populations Convention, 1957 (No. 107), and to launch a book on indigenous peoples; and (v) in view of the 2007 and 2010 conclusions of the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards concerning the equality Conventions (Conventions Nos 111 and 100, respectively), activities in India within the framework of the joint DECLARATION (InFocus Programme on Promoting the Declaration)–NORMES technical assistance aimed at improving the legislative and policy framework with respect to manual scavenging and strengthening the capacity of constituents to implement equal remuneration for work of equal value.

C. Training activities

(a) Activities developed in collaboration with the International Training Centre in Turin

63. In 2011, around 30 training activities had been conducted at the interregional, regional, subregional and national levels. These training courses, the majority of which are tripartite, are offered in several languages and address procedures relating to standard-setting and supervision, as well as specific topics such as equality in employment, freedom of association, efforts to eliminate child labour and forced labour, and the use of international labour standards by national jurisdictions. The work of the supervisory bodies is one of the main considerations when selecting participants for these training sessions.

64. The training programme for maritime labour trainers and inspectors on the implementation of the Maritime Labour Convention, 2006 (MLC, 2006), is being implemented and four training sessions were held in December 2010, and February, June and September 2011, respectively. The large number of applications received illustrates the need for, and quality of, this training. Thus far, 227 trainers and maritime labour inspectors have been trained and certified through these activities. These training sessions have had a multiplying effect, since 209 of the 227 former participants have conducted their own national or regional training activities, resulting in a total of 7,740 people having received training by certified ILO trainers. This training for trainers now forms part of the curriculum of the ILO Maritime Labour Academy, launched in 2011, which also offers three new training courses: for legal experts in administrative bodies responsible for considering ratification of the Convention and its incorporation into domestic legislation; for captains and officers of vessels; and for seafarers' representatives.

65. The interregional course on international labour standards organized immediately before the Conference continues to be a valuable tool for strengthening national capacity as regards standards-related procedures, including the obligation to submit reports in accordance with the ILO Constitution. The distance learning programme on good practices for drafting reports on implementation of standards was also conducted for labour ministry representatives facing particular difficulties with regard to drafting and sending these reports. This training is a good example of how the activities of the ITC in Turin are integrated in the ILO standards strategy on improving the coherence, integration and effectiveness of the supervisory system.

66. With regard to child labour, in addition to the regular training courses held each year, "tailor-made" courses have been provided directly to recipient countries (Guinea, Malawi and Namibia). Regarding forced labour, a knowledge-sharing workshop was organized on good practices and lessons learned.

67. With regard to freedom of association, the elaboration of a new tripartite workshop on freedom of association and sustainable development, which took place in Johannesburg in January 2011, is of particular significance. Delegations from Kenya, Namibia, South Africa, Swaziland and Zimbabwe participated in the workshop, which aimed to strengthen the capacity of institutions and organizations to promote respect for, and the exercise of, freedom of association and the right to collective bargaining, so as to contribute to economic and social development and environmental protection, thus moving towards sustainable development. Furthermore, an updated version of the electronic library, including, inter alia, the cases recently examined by the Committee on Freedom of Association, has been published.

68. Several training activities have been conducted for judges, lawyers, legal educators and other members of the legal profession on the use of international labour law by the national judiciary, including interregional training courses conducted in Turin and the regional training course for Latin America, which was held in April 2011 in Montevideo (Uruguay), with the participation of a member of the Committee of Experts. These training courses continue to receive a lot of interest and their impact has been illustrated by initiatives taken by former participants, such as the issuing of judicial decisions based on international labour law, and the organization of training courses on the use of international labour standards by the national judiciary. Given the profile of the participants in these courses and the importance of the Committee of Experts' comments to resolve labour disputes, the expertise of the members of the Committee of Experts is regularly solicited. The training manual on international labour standards for judges and lawyers has been translated into Portuguese, and the compendium of court decisions that quote international labour standards has been updated in the three working languages. A training project on international and European labour law for Italian commercial lawyers and solicitors has also been launched with financial support from the Italian Government and in collaboration with the European Lawyers' Union.

69. Lastly, a course on rights at work for journalists and media professionals was organized at the regional level for Africa and another was held for the Caribbean region in September 2011.

(b) Training on issues related to indigenous peoples

70. In July 2011, the Programme to Promote ILO Convention No. 169 on indigenous and tribal peoples (PRO 169), based in NORMES, carried out a training programme for indigenous fellows at ILO headquarters, in collaboration with the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR), as a part of the annual UN Indigenous Fellowship Programme.

71. The following activities were carried out at the subregional level:

- ❑ A major seminar on the protection and promotion of indigenous peoples' rights and Convention No. 169 was held in South Asia (Jharkhand, India) in September 2010 in collaboration with the Asia Indigenous Peoples Pact (AIPP), and with the participation of representatives from national, regional and international organizations, notably from Bangladesh, Nepal and India.
- ❑ In October 2010 a seminar on Convention No. 169, indigenous peoples' rights and the San peoples was convened in southern Africa (Windhoek, Namibia). The event, hosted by the Office of the Prime Minister of Namibia, also served as the launch of the "Overview report of the research project on the constitutional and legislative protection of the rights of indigenous peoples in 24 African countries". It was attended by representatives of government, UN agencies and indigenous peoples' organizations from Namibia, Botswana and Angola.
- ❑ Furthermore, in November 2010, a seminar was organized in Central Africa (Bangui, Central African Republic). The seminar was the first activity after the ratification of Convention No. 169 by the Central African Republic to raise awareness and promote the implementation of the Convention and it was attended by participants from government and indigenous organizations from Burundi, Cameroon, Central African Republic, Gabon, Democratic Republic of the Congo and Rwanda.
- ❑ In Latin America, regional workshops on Convention No. 169 for employers' and workers' organizations and Ombudspersons were held respectively in the Plurinational State of Bolivia, Colombia and Paraguay in September, October and November 2011. A regional workshop for public officials is scheduled for January 2012.

72. At the national level, the Programme has been participating and organizing capacity-building activities on indigenous peoples' rights, particularly on the promotion and implementation of Conventions Nos 169 and 111, in various countries in Asia, Africa and Latin America, including Bangladesh, Plurinational State of Bolivia, Cameroon, Ecuador, Guatemala, Namibia, Nepal, Nicaragua and Peru. The activities have included capacity building for target groups such as human rights institutions, parliamentarians, employers' and workers' organizations and youth. Training materials, manuals and publications have been made available to this end.

73. In Chile, the ILO has assisted the universities of Concepción, Osorno and Santiago in developing courses on Convention No. 169 for public and private officials, students and academics. The standards specialist from DWT/CO–Santiago gave classes on the right of indigenous peoples to consultation and participation, and made presentations on that subject during two sessions of the Chilean Parliament. Also in Chile, a cycle of six workshops for the dissemination of Convention No. 169 was conducted in the Araucanía region, targeting indigenous communities. Lastly, on the basis of a Memorandum of Understanding between the ILO and the Single Central Organization (CUT), a seminar for indigenous peoples was held in June 2011 in Temuco.

74. The ILO's website on indigenous and tribal peoples has been updated with new information on the activities of the programme and new publications, to ensure easier access to these tools for government officials, indigenous organizations and other partners (<http://ilo.org/indigenous>). The specific website on indigenous issues created for training purposes (<http://pro169.org/>) has also been updated with new training materials.

(c) Other training activities

Africa

75. With the support of PAMODEC, a training seminar on fundamental principles and rights at work was organized in March 2011 by the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Yaoundé, for parliamentarians from Cameroon. Academics specializing in social law and representatives of the United Nations Centre for Human Rights and Democracy were involved in the seminar. In July 2011, at the request of the Confederation of Independent Trade Unions, approximately 100 trade union leaders were informed about the instruments on occupational health and safety, with support from the standards specialist.

76. In December 2010, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Dakar, with support from PAMODEC, led a training activity for law professors in Guinea-Bissau, since, in practice, labour administration staff come from the law faculty. The objective was to raise awareness and train a pool of trainers with the aim of, over time, institutionalizing a training module on international labour standards. An awareness-raising and capacity-building workshop was also organized in December 2010 for occupational physicians being trained at the medical faculty in Benin. This training was on the fundamental Conventions and the relevance of the principles and rights established therein for the work of occupational physicians. Also in the context of PAMODEC, a seminar was organized in Madagascar in February 2011, which aimed to enable a greater number of judges in Madagascar to draw on ILO standards in their decisions. In their recommendations, judges have mentioned the need to be trained with regard to international maritime labour law, since the maritime sector was vital for the national economy and was the source of several labour conflicts. Lastly, in November 2010, a training course was held in Togo for those involved in determining the representativeness of trade unions.

77. In the context of the Alternative Dispute Resolution in the Middle East and North Africa Programme, the International Financial Corporation (IFC) reports to have trained and accredited 27 persons from different business backgrounds to be mediators; the training was, however, confined to the mediation of commercial disputes. Since labour disputes are on the rise in Egypt, the IFC approached the DWT/CO–Cairo to explore how to support the development of mediation services in respect of labour and employment issues. The standards and social dialogue specialists provided the IFC with an ILO–ITC proposal for training.

Americas

78. In follow-up to the Memorandum of Understanding signed by the Ministry of Labour of Brazil, NORMES and the ITC in Turin, the Ministry of Labour organized a seminar on freedom of association and discrimination for labour prosecutors, which was held in Brazil in June 2011.

79. In September 2010, January 2011 and July 2011, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–San José, jointly with the white paper compliance verification project, the social dialogue project and the ACTRAV specialist, conducted three workshops for trade unions in the Dominican Republic, El Salvador and Honduras on the ILO supervisory system and international labour standards, with an emphasis on freedom of association and collective bargaining. In March 2011 in the Dominican Republic, the standards specialist participated in a workshop for labour inspectors on the promotion of fundamental principles and rights at work.

80. The standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Port-of-Spain organized or participated in the following training activities:

- ❑ Construction Symposium organized in Trinidad and Tobago in January 2011 by the Occupational Safety and Health Agency in collaboration with the Sectoral Activities Department (SECTOR), and the standards specialist delivered a lecture on International Labour Standards of Relevance to the Construction Industry.
- ❑ In the framework of the Caribbean Occupational Safety, Health and the Environment Programme launched in February 2011: (i) training workshop on OSH for workers in Guyana (April 2011); (ii) lectures on international labour standards on OSH at the University of the West Indies in Jamaica (April 2011) and in Trinidad and Tobago (May 2011) in the context of the Occupational and Environmental Safety and Health Master Programme; and (iii) training workshop on OSH for labour inspectors of the Organization of Eastern Caribbean States (OECS) in Antigua and Barbuda (June 2011) and for four labour inspectors of non-OECS countries member States in Trinidad and Tobago (October 2011).
- ❑ Briefing session on international labour standards to the 144 Committee (national tripartite committee) in Trinidad and Tobago (March 2011).
- ❑ Seminar on collective bargaining in Trinidad and Tobago (May 2011).
- ❑ National Training Workshop on Labour Administration in Suriname (November 2011), in collaboration with the Specialist for Labour Market and Employment Policy and the Specialist for Social Dialogue and Labour Administration.

81. In Chile as part of the subregional workshop on strengthening employers' organizations in respect of OSH, the DWT/CO–Santiago specialist made presentations on the relevant international labour standards in that regard. Moreover, in collaboration with the ACTRAV specialist, the standards specialist participated in an update seminar on various labour-related issues, particularly freedom of association and discrimination (including sexual harassment). This seminar, organized by the Iquique Regional Labour and Social Security Ministry, was designed for trade union officials from the north of Chile. The standards specialist also participated in seminars at the law faculty of the University of Santiago on safety and health (Conventions Nos 155 and 187). In Paraguay, jointly with the ILO Programme on HIV/AIDS and the world of work (ILO/AIDS), a workshop was held on the Discrimination (Employment and Occupation) Convention, 1958 (No. 111), and the Recommendation concerning HIV and AIDS and the World of Work, 2010 (No. 200), for representatives of the tripartite inter-institutional committee for monitoring labour standards in the passenger and cargo transport sector.

The objective was to illustrate that the drafting of a public policy on HIV was a means of implementing the Convention.

82. The standards specialist from DWT/CO–Lima participated in a subregional seminar organized by ACTRAV on the participation of unions in the ILO standards system (February–March 2011). In the context of the project “Promotion of social dialogue and cohesion for Latin America”, a series of seminars on freedom of association were held in March 2011 by the standards specialist with the decentralized labour inspection services of Peru. Furthermore, in the context of the implementation of the new Labour Procedure Act in Peru, which states that its implementation must be in line with the ILO Conventions ratified by Peru and that courts must take account of the relevant decisions of ILO supervisory bodies, several dissemination and training activities on standards have been held for judges and magistrates in Peru since November 2010.

Arab States

83. In Lebanon, NORMES held a tripartite training workshop “The Gulf Coordination Council (GCC) and the ILO: The Declaration on Social Justice, standards and reporting” for countries of the GCC, jointly organized by the ILO Regional Office for the Arab States and the GCC Executive Bureau. The workshop was attended by participants from the following countries: Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, United Arab Emirates and Yemen. The participants from the nascent organizations of employers and workers were especially interested in the ILO’s supervisory mechanisms and in the possibilities that the Organization offered them for the enhancement and protection of their interests.

Asia

84. In October 2010, the DWT–Bangkok standards specialists conducted a three-day training on improved use of international labour standards in domestic law with Industrial Relations Court judges from Indonesia. The topics covered included protection of wages, termination of employment, and equality in employment. In July 2011, the DWT–Bangkok gender and standards specialists jointly conducted a one-week training in Indonesia on discrimination in employment, in which officials from the Ministry of Manpower and Transmigration and other line ministries, representatives from the principal employers’ organization (APINDO) and of several trade unions participated.

85. In furtherance of the commitment to provide technical assistance made at the time of the 2009 high-level mission regarding serious violations of Conventions Nos 87 and 98, three training seminars on the theme of freedom of association, civil liberties and impunity were held in several regions of the Philippines in December 2010, and March and May 2011. Participants included officials from the regional Department of Labour and Employment and the Philippines Export Processing Zone Authority, and representatives of the Philippines national police and the armed forces. The standards specialist, DWT-Bangkok, also presented on freedom of association and civil liberties in an August 2011 activity in the Philippines. The activity concerned the development of guidelines for the conduct of security forces with respect to civil liberties and freedom of association.

86. The standards specialist of the DWT/CO–New Delhi participated in the following training activities: (i) training of judges in Sri Lanka on international labour standards in general; (ii) training of judges in India on HIV/AIDS and the world of work; and (iii) training of workers' organizations in India and Bangladesh on freedom of association.

Europe

87. In June 2011, a training session was given in France to judges, labour inspectors, discrimination specialists and lawyers on international labour standards, focusing on the Conventions concerning equality, employment policy and termination of employment.

88. In August 2011, lectures on international labour standards with a focus on freedom of association were delivered to students of the Ono Academic College (Israel) in the framework of ongoing cooperation between this institution and NORMES.

D. Promotional activities

(a) Action plan to achieve rapid and widespread ratification and effective implementation of the Maritime Labour Convention, 2006

89. The primary objective of the five-year plan of action adopted by the Governing Body in March 2007 was to achieve by the end of 2011 the required number of ratifications for the MLC, 2006, to enter into force, and to ensure the effective implementation of its requirements. The plan of action includes international, regional and national promotional activities and requires cooperation with sectoral experts and regional offices.

90. In order for the MLC, 2006, to enter into force two conditions must be met: ratification by 30 member States, which must have a total share of at least 33 per cent of the world gross tonnage of ships. With 11 new ratifications of the Convention registered since the beginning of 2011 (Antigua and Barbuda on 11 August, Australia on 14 December, Benin on 13 June, Denmark on 23 June, Gabon on 12 May, Kiribati on 29 October, Latvia on 12 August, Luxembourg on 19 September, the Netherlands on 13 December, Singapore on 15 June and Switzerland on 21 February), 22 countries are now parties to the Convention, representing over 56 per cent of the world tonnage of ships. While the second requirement for entering into force is well met, available information indicates that a number of countries in various regions have completed the national processes that will allow ratification in the near future. It is therefore hoped that the MLC, 2006, will enter into force in 2013.

91. In the context of its activities to promote the MLC, 2006, the Office has initiated and participated in the following activities:

- An Asia-Pacific Regional Dialogue on the MLC, 2006, was held in Cairns, Australia (May 2011). The meeting, which was organized by the Australian Maritime Safety Authority (AMSA), aimed at exchanging information on the steps taken at the national level for the implementation of the MLC, 2006. The Conference was attended by 100 participants coming from 19 countries of the region. On the occasion of the meeting, an accord was signed between the Government of Australia (represented by AMSA), the ILO and the International Maritime Organization (IMO), which reflects the desire of the three signatories to have a shared vision of the implementation, application and enforcement of the MLC, 2006, through continued cooperative action.

- ❑ A four-day inspection training was organized in the Philippines (July 2011) by the Department of Labour and Employment in consultation with the Country Office in Manila (CO–Manila). The workshop was attended by approximately 40 participants and included a ship visit on which a mock inspection based on the MLC, 2006, requirements was undertaken.
- ❑ A national tripartite seminar and workshop on legislative drafting was held in Malaysia (October 2011).
- ❑ A national workshop on the MLC, 2006, was organized in India (October 2011).
- ❑ A training of inspectors from the English- and Dutch-speaking Caribbean countries was held in Jamaica (November 2010). The training was jointly hosted by the DWT/CO–Port-of-Spain, the Maritime Authority of Jamaica and the Caribbean Memorandum of Understanding on Port State Control.

92. The Office has also completed five new legal gap analyses, for Bangladesh, Barbados, Egypt, Saint Kitts and Nevis and Seychelles. These documents are aimed at encouraging tripartite dialogue, providing sustained technical advice, identifying obstacles to the ratification of the MLC, 2006, and helping elaborate tripartite strategies to bridge legislative gaps, so as to eventually achieve rapid ratification and effective implementation of the MLC, 2006. Furthermore, in follow up to the comparative studies undertaken for Benin and Togo, amendments to the relevant legislation have been drafted, with a view to ratifying the MLC, 2006.

93. Furthermore, the Governing Body decided in November 2009 to establish a Preparatory Tripartite MLC, 2006, Committee, modelled on the future Special Tripartite Committee (STC) to be established under Article XIII of the MLC, 2006, when it comes into force. The Preparatory Committee held its second meeting from 12 to 14 December 2011 and discussed the Office's proposal for draft Standing Orders of the Special Tripartite Committee to be established under Article XIII of the MLC, 2006.

94. Moreover, in response to a call for action expressed in the resolution concerning OSH and in the resolution concerning social security, adopted by the 94th (Maritime) Session of the ILC in February 2006, the Office has published a handbook on social security protection under the MLC, 2006, and is finalizing a similar handbook on maritime OSH. These two documents are aimed at helping ILO Members fulfil their responsibilities in these areas. In response to requests received from numerous countries for a “model law” to facilitate the widespread and effective implementation of the MLC, 2006, the Office has published a handbook containing model national provisions and offering guidance on implementing the MLC, 2006. A draft version of these model national provisions was “piloted” at a one-week legal workshop in September 2011 at the ITC with law and policy personnel drawn from differing legal systems attending.

95. Finally, as regards the “Train the trainers of maritime labour inspectors” course and the new ILO Maritime Labour Academy, reference is made to the Part on Activities developed in collaboration with the ITC in Turin of this document.

(b) Plan of action to improve the conditions of work of fishers through the widespread ratification and effective implementation of the Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 (No. 188)

96. The action plan to improve the conditions of work of fishers was adopted in November 2010 and sets out the activities that the Office is planning to deliver in the period 2011–16 (subject to available resources). The action plan was drawn up in response to the 2007 decision of the Governing Body to request the Director-General to take all necessary measures for the promotion of Convention No. 188 and Recommendation No. 199 and to make concrete proposals with regard to the implementation of the four resolutions adopted together with the Convention. The Office has also prepared a handbook and training material, with a particular focus on labour inspection, and has prepared guidelines for undertaking comparative analyses of Convention No. 188 and national law. The Convention was presented in a stakeholders' forum on measures to strengthen protection of fishers in Bangkok (Thailand) in September 2011. Finally, a social partners' agreement on Convention No. 188 is expected to be signed in Europe before the end of the year 2012, with a view to facilitating the ratification of the Convention by EU Member States.

(c) Plan of action to achieve widespread ratification and effective implementation of the occupational safety and health instruments (Convention No. 155, its 2002 Protocol, and Convention No. 187)

97. As a result of the discussion on the 2009 General Survey on OSH prepared by the Committee of Experts, the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards adopted, in 2009, a set of conclusions inviting the ILO to adopt a plan of action to achieve widespread ratification and effective implementation of the three key OSH instruments (the Occupational Safety and Health Convention, 1981 (No. 155), its 2002 Protocol, and the Promotional Framework for Occupational Safety and Health Convention, 2006 (No. 187)). Such a plan of action, covering the period 2010–16, was adopted by the Governing Body in March 2010.

98. With SafeWork and NORMES as lead units, and in close cooperation with ACT/EMP and ACTRAV and the field offices, the initial phase of the implementation of this plan of action has been carried out mainly within the context of regular budget allocations, and the plan of action has been published as a brochure. A progress report was submitted to the Governing Body at its November 2011 session. The following activities have been carried out in the framework of the plan of action:

- ❑ Chile: As a result of the accident at the San José mine in the north of the country, where 33 miners were trapped for 70 days in 2010, the ILO has provided technical assistance to the Government and social actors with regard to the revision of national legislation on OSH. The technical assistance, which was provided jointly by NORMES and SECTOR, resulted in the ratification of Convention No. 187 on 28 April 2011. NORMES will continue to provide assistance with regard to promoting the ratification of Convention No. 155 and the Safety and Health in Mines Convention, 1995 (No. 176). At the request of the Government in 2011, the ILO conducted a study on national legislation and practice with regard to OSH in light of the provisions of Convention No. 176, with a view to its possible ratification.
- ❑ Dominican Republic: In June 2011, at the request of the Government, NORMES, jointly with SECTOR, SafeWork and the standards specialist from DWT/CO–San José, conducted a mission to promote the Conventions included in the plan of action, as well as Convention No. 176. The members of the mission worked in close cooperation with the Ministry of Labour and professionals from the various governmental institutions involved, conducted a training course for workers, and interviewed employers from the mining sector. All parties expressed their interest in promoting the ratification of Convention No. 176. Given that the request for technical assistance also referred to conducting a tripartite revision of the regulation on OSH in the context of the ILO–OSH 2001 guidelines, activities will be conducted in that regard. It is hoped that Convention No. 187 could be ratified soon, and workshops will continue to be organized to promote the ratification of Convention No. 176.

- ❑ Latin America and the Caribbean: ACTRAV, with the support of the Regional Office for Latin America and the Caribbean and as part of the social security for trade unions programme, conducted a series of activities in respect of OSH, funded by the Government of Spain and with the active participation of the Trade Union Confederation of the Americas, with the objective of strengthening trade unions' capacity to create a culture of prevention. In that regard, a six-month distance learning course, to which NORMES contributed, was conducted for 40 trade unionists. This activity ended with an in situ session in Montevideo in July 2011. The conclusions referred to the importance of Conventions Nos 155 (and its 2002 Protocol), Occupational Health Services Convention, 1985 (No. 161) and 187. Furthermore, during the second workshop on strengthening employers' organizations in Latin America in respect of OSH (Montevideo, July 2011), which was convoked by ACT/EMP with the support of the ITC in Turin and the Government of Spain, a bipartite event was organized, in which NORMES participated. The employers showed interest in learning about good practices in small and medium-sized enterprises.
- ❑ Ghana: A technical assistance programme was initiated in the fall of 2011 to support Ghana's efforts to improve the OSH system and consider ratifying Convention No. 155, its 2002 Protocol, and Convention No. 187. As a preliminary step in this direction, NORMES will assist the Government to develop a national OSH profile, comprising a factual inventory of basic data on OSH and all the tools and resources available in Ghana to implement and manage OSH.

(d) Plan of action towards widespread ratification and effective implementation of the governance Conventions

99. In the follow-up to the 2008 Declaration on Social Justice for a Fair Globalization, the Governing Body approved, at its November 2009 session, the plan of action for the promotion of widespread ratification and effective implementation of the governance Conventions. The implementation is in its initial stages. The plan of action was published as a brochure in May 2011 for promotional and resource mobilization purposes. Moreover, an electronic tool is being set up to give access to country profiles and help in the identification of target countries. As indicated in the timetable of the plan of action, the initial 12 months should focus on the preparation of country profiles as a basis for the selection of 25 focus countries and the elaboration of national action plans.

100. In the meantime, through the collaborative action of NORMES with the ILO field offices and the relevant technical units notably the Labour Administration and Inspection Programme (LAB–ADMIN), the targets set in the 2010–11 Programme and Budget with regard to the ratification of the governance Conventions have been met. In particular, four ratifications have been registered for the Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81),¹¹ and four for the Labour Inspection (Agriculture) Convention, 1969 (No. 129);¹² ratification is under consideration in five countries.¹³ The ILO has provided technical assistance to 42 countries,¹⁴ based on needs assessments and national plans of action agreed upon with the social partners in the context of technical cooperation projects. Advice has been provided on the design of national labour inspection training strategies in seven countries,¹⁵ and training workshops based on a 15 module labour inspector training curriculum published in collaboration with the ITC in Turin have been held so far in 22 countries¹⁶ covering over 1,700 labour inspectors. Two separate guidelines for employers and workers have been prepared and five workshops for workers and employers have been carried out on that basis.¹⁷ During the same period, six ratifications of the Employment Policy Convention, 1964 (No. 122), have been registered, and six governments¹⁸ are taking concrete steps towards its ratification and implementation. The Office has provided technical assistance to 53 countries (including 21 non-ratifying countries)¹⁹ to help in the formulation and implementation of national employment policies, as one of the DWCP priority outcomes. A training module on employment policies and international labour standards is under preparation to promote employment policies through a rights-based approach and increase the awareness and capacity of ILO constituents for implementing related instruments. Finally, three ratifications of the Tripartite Consultation (International Labour Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 144), were registered at the 100th Session of the ILC in June 2011.²⁰ The Office published an updated version of a booklet designed to promote tripartite consultations which will also be used as training material.

¹¹ Czech Republic (2011), Iceland (2009), Slovakia (2009), and Tajikistan (2009).

¹² Estonia (2010), Iceland (2009), Saint Vincent and the Grenadines (2010), and Slovakia (2009).

(e) ILO policy on indigenous peoples

101. PRO 169 has continued to undertake a wide range of activities at different levels to promote the application of the principles of Convention No. 169 and other relevant ILO Conventions.

102. At the international level, PRO 169 provided technical contributions to the UN Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues, the Expert Mechanism on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples and the Inter-Agency Support Group on Indigenous Issues, among others. Most recently, PRO 169 has joined efforts with OHCHR, the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) and the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) to establish the UN Indigenous Peoples Partnership (UNIPP) with a view to promoting ¹³ Canada, China, South Africa, Togo and United States.

¹⁴ Albania, Algeria, Angola, Armenia, Brazil, Burkina Faso, Cambodia, Cameroon, China, Colombia, Egypt, El Salvador, Ethiopia, Gabon, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, India, Indonesia, Jordan, Kenya, Lebanon, Lesotho, Mali, Republic of Moldova, Namibia, Nepal, Oman, Paraguay, Peru, Philippines, Samoa, Senegal, Serbia, South Africa, Syrian Arab Republic, United Republic of Tanzania, The former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, Togo, United Arab Emirates, Uruguay and Yemen.

¹⁵ Cambodia, India, Indonesia, Lebanon, Oman, Syrian Arab Republic and Yemen.

¹⁶ Albania, Angola, Armenia, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Cambodia, China, India, Indonesia, Kazakhstan, Lebanon, Malaysia, Mexico (covering participants from 14 Latin American countries), Republic of Moldova, Montenegro, Oman, Serbia, South Africa, Syrian Arab Republic, United Republic of Tanzania, The former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, Ukraine and Yemen.

¹⁷ In Lebanon, Republic of Moldova, Oman, Syrian Arab Republic and Yemen. The guides "Labour inspection: What it is and what it does" for employers and workers are systematically incorporated into general training activities at the national level for labour inspectors, to which the social partners are also invited.

¹⁸ Indonesia, Luxembourg, Mauritius, Sri Lanka, Switzerland and Viet Nam.

¹⁹ Benin, Botswana, Chad, Congo, Côte d'Ivoire, Djibouti, Ethiopia, Gambia, Guinea-Bissau, Liberia, Malawi, Mauritius, Mexico, Nepal, Nigeria, Oman, Sri Lanka, Swaziland, Syrian Arab Republic, United Republic of Tanzania and Viet Nam.

dialogue and building partnerships on indigenous peoples' issues on the basis of Convention No. 169 and the UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples. In July 2011, the ILO was appointed as host organization for the UNIPP secretariat.

103. At the regional level, various activities have been carried out in the context of the regional programme for Latin America, with a view to building the capacity of governments, indigenous organizations and social partners to implement Convention No. 169, including through the adoption of appropriate measures in response to the comments formulated by the Committee of Experts. The member of the Committee of Experts responsible for this Convention participated in some of these activities.

104. Following activities of training, capacity building and legal advice at a national level, two major achievements were noted, i.e. the ratification of Convention No. 169 in the Central African Republic (the first State in Africa) and Nicaragua. Post ratification activities such as capacity building and awareness raising have since been carried out.

105. Furthermore, activities to promote the rights of indigenous peoples, including the realization of legal studies, and to improve their socio-economic situation are ongoing in Bangladesh, Plurinational State of Bolivia, Cambodia, Cameroon, Ecuador, Namibia, Nepal, Nicaragua and Peru. In particular, in July and August 2011, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–San José participated in two promotional workshops in Panama on the ILO supervisory system and Convention No. 169. Representatives of the indigenous community and the National Coordination of Indigenous Peoples of Panama (CONAPIP) participated in the first workshop, and workers and indigenous representatives took part in the second. Furthermore, in June and July 2011, the standards specialist took part in three workshops in Guatemala on the ILO supervisory system and Convention No. 169.

106. PRO 169 has also prepared a booklet containing the Committee of Experts' general observation of 2010 on Convention No. 169 for capacity-building and awareness-raising purposes. PRO 169 continues to collaborate with ILO–IPEC to further develop strategies to combat child labour among indigenous peoples and with the Bureau for Gender Equality to document discrimination faced by indigenous women in employment and occupation. A working paper on the situation of indigenous women workers has recently been finalized and will be published in early 2012.

107. Lastly, the cartoon on the rights of indigenous and tribal peoples produced by PRO 169 in Cameroon was reprinted and distributed on the International Day of Indigenous Peoples (9 August) in order to raise awareness of indigenous issues among a broad public.

(f) Other promotional activities

108. Several activities to promote the ratification of up-to-date Conventions were carried out by the standards specialists in the various external offices in 2011.

Africa

109. In the context of the programme Understanding Children's Work (a joint programme between the World Bank, the ILO and UNICEF), research and analysis activities on child labour and the vulnerability of children and youth employment have been conducted in Cameroon since the end of 2010, jointly with the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Yaoundé and under the supervision of a national steering committee. The country report will lead to the drafting of a national plan of action for the elimination of child labour. Furthermore, at the initiative of the standards specialist, a preliminary study was conducted in Cameroon at the end of 2010 to support the ratification process for the Tripartite Consultation (International Labour Standards) Convention, 1976 (No. 144). Lastly, the governments of Cameroon and Gabon have requested that the ILO conduct an in situ analysis of the labour administration and inspection systems in the light of the Labour Inspection Convention, 1947 (No. 81), and the Labour Administration Convention, 1978 (No. 150). A team was mandated to conduct the analysis (April–May 2011), comprising a specialist from LAB–ADMIN and the standards and labour administration specialists from DWT/CO–Yaoundé. Reports were submitted to the relevant ministers.

110. As part of the new phase of the employment promotion and poverty reduction support project (APERP) funded by France, the ILO held a tripartite regional workshop in Cameroon in December 2011 to promote the Conventions on employment and vocational training in the Francophone countries of Central and West Africa: Burkina Faso, Cameroon, Chad, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Gabon, Mali and Niger. The aim of the workshop was to support the ratification and/or implementation process for the relevant Conventions, namely, the Employment Policy Convention, 1964 (No. 122), the Human Resources Development Convention, 1975 (No. 142), the Employment Service Convention, 1948 (No. 88), and the Private Employment Agencies Convention, 1997 (No. 181).

111. Since Ghana has expressed its intention to ratify Convention No. 122, and Convention No. 181, NORMES and DWT/CO–Dakar proposed activities to be conducted during 2011 to promote the ratification of those Conventions. Similarly, since Benin has expressed a desire to ratify the Social Security (Minimum Standards) Convention, 1952 (No. 102), and Convention No. 181, comparative analyses are being conducted, the conclusions of which will be presented and validated during workshops that will be held in 2012. Since Guinea-Bissau has not yet ratified Convention No. 87, a promotional workshop was organized in May 2011. The participants adopted a plan of action for the ratification of the Convention and its effective implementation; some of the activities in that plan were financed by the ILO programme to promote freedom of association and the right to collective bargaining, and were completed at the end of 2011. Lastly, at the request of the employers of Burkina Faso, a study on wage policy in the private sector was conducted in the light of the provisions of the Minimum Wage Fixing Convention, 1970 (No. 131), and a workshop to present the study was held in March 2011.

112. In June 2011, the social dialogue specialist and the standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Pretoria facilitated a two-day workshop in Swaziland to sensitize the police to ILS in general and to freedom of association and collective bargaining in particular, to other international human rights as well as to a code of conduct aimed at the police. Trade union leaders and members attended the second day of the workshop in a bid to promote dialogue between the police and themselves. Several follow-up activities are planned to enhance this initiated dialogue.

113. The DWT/CO–Pretoria standards specialist also participated in a workshop organized in Ethiopia in the framework of a project to combat trafficking in persons funded by the Arab Gulf Programme for Development (AGFUND), to discuss the role of private employment agencies while recruiting domestic workers to work overseas as well as the legislation adopted consequent to the country's ratification of Convention No. 181 (March 2011). In Zambia, a similar workshop took place within a technical project against trafficking in persons, gathering private employment agencies and ILO constituents. The workshop discussed the legislation and a presentation was made on Convention No. 181, which the country is considering ratifying in the near future.

114. The tripartite constituents in Eritrea sought ILO technical assistance to engage in a project to lessen the incidence of HIV/AIDS from the perspective of rights at work. The standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Cairo worked with the ILO Programme on HIV/AIDS and the World of Work (ILO/AIDS) and DECLARATION on a proposal for EU financing seeking to combat workplace discrimination and promote relevant ILO instruments (including Recommendation No. 200).

115. The DWT/CO–Cairo, including the standards specialist, is currently working on a possible ILO–UNDP cooperation framework to support the President’s High Policy Committee for Employment. This included the organization of a round table on a roadmap for employment policies reform in Sudan.

116. In addition, following the referendum of April 2011, the Government of South Sudan sought technical assistance from the DWT/CO–Cairo expressing the need for: (i) the convening of a labour and employment conference; (ii) special technical support to prepare for Southern Sudan’s membership of the ILO; (iii) multidisciplinary support for the preparation of a Decent Work Country Programme; (iv) induction training for officials of the State Ministries of Labour and Public Service; and (v) assistance to strengthen the social partners. The standards and DECLARATION specialists of the DWT/CO–Cairo offered to address the immediate operational capacity needs through the organization from 2–13 May 2011 of the Post Referendum National Labour and Employment Tripartite Conference. As a result, a tripartite resolution was adopted on 3 May 2011 whereby the participants “committed” to become a full Member of the UN before joining the ILO and to ratify all ILO fundamental Conventions, including Convention No. 87, not ratified by Sudan.

117. To break the language barrier and disseminate information in the vital area of employment policy, NORMES and the DWT/CO–Cairo have overseen the translation from English into Arabic of the 2010 General Survey on employment instruments, with a view to disseminating it to the social partners and relevant ministries of Arab speaking countries. Seizing the opportunity of the relaunching of the DWT/CO–Cairo website, the standards specialist is also working with NORMES to place on the website the Committee of Experts’ comments including general observations, and other documents available in Arabic (e.g. ILO Constitution, new edition of the publication ILO Rules of the game: a brief introduction to International Labour Standards, etc.).

118. Furthermore, the standards specialist of the DWT/CO–Cairo participated in a regional consultation on constitutional lawmaking in Tunisia organized by the UNDP Tunisia office in November 2011. In view of the short time allotted for the drafting of a constitution, the regional consultation was an attempt to contribute with international experiences, some elements for a constitutional dialogue as a process and to examine comparative constitutional outputs with respect, inter alia, to the following issues: (a) what is the role of the constitution in protecting social and economic inclusion and the justiciability of those rights and how the supervisory bodies of the ILO view the implementation gaps with regard to the core Conventions; (b) what are the key elements of a gender-sensitive Constitution. In this regard, the standards specialist emphasized the ILO Decent Work Agenda, packaging social and economic rights in an integrated, interrelated and inseparable manner. Reference was also made to the labour law guidelines which contain a chapter on drafting rules and gender-neutral language and a chapter on the elimination of discrimination in respect of employment and occupation. Another source that was highlighted was the ILO publication Protecting labour rights as human rights: Present and future of international supervision. Extracts of the ILO supervisory bodies’ comments that demonstrated the interplay between national constitutions and ILS, particularly the core Conventions, were also distributed.

Americas

119. In April 2011, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–San José participated, at the initiative of the social security specialist, in a tripartite workshop to promote the ratification of Convention No. 102 in Honduras. The standards specialist also, jointly with the specialist on gender issues, participated in a range of activities to promote the ratification of the Workers with Family Responsibilities Convention, 1981 (No. 156), and the Maternity Protection Convention, 2000 (No. 183), in Costa Rica, Dominican Republic and Panama.

120. The standards specialist from DWT/CO–San José also took part, in Honduras in April 2011, in the Ninth Meeting of the Forum of Employment Directors of Central America and the Dominican Republic and presented the content and scope of Convention No. 181, in order to promote its ratification (participating countries: Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua). Lastly, in May 2011, the standards specialist conducted an activity for workers in the Dominican Republic and a tripartite activity in Costa Rica on the content and scope of the instruments on domestic work.

121. In August and November 2011, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Santiago participated in two seminars for the mining section of the National Confederation of Electrometallurgical, Mining and Automotive Industry Unions (CONSFETEMA) designed to promote the ratification of the Safety and Health in Mines Convention, 1995 (No. 176), by Chile. As a result of the accident at the San José mine in the north of the country, CONSFETEMA considers it of the utmost importance to promote the ratification of Convention No. 176, in addition to the Promotional Framework for Occupational Safety and Health Convention, 2006 (No. 187), which was ratified by Chile in the wake of the abovementioned accident.

122. In Argentina, the standards specialist from DWT/CO–Santiago participated in an international seminar on protection systems of the international organizations regarding labour-related human rights and freedom of association, organized by the Trade Union Confederation of the Americas (TUCA–CSA) and the Inter-American regional secretariat of Public Services International (PSI), with the collaboration of the national coordinator of Argentine trade unions affiliated to PSI (December 2011). As part of this seminar, the campaign for the ratification of Conventions Nos 151 and 154 was launched, with the objective of guaranteeing and promoting decent work in the public sector and public services, taking account of the fact that the recognition and full exercise of public sector workers' trade union rights are extremely important for the creation of decent work.

Arab States

123. In July 2011, NORMES participated in a review mission on the Decent Work Country Programme for Oman. As the national tripartite constituents expressed strong interest in the ratification of Conventions Nos 87 and 98, and the ratification process is already well under way, a number of supporting promotional activities were agreed upon, to be carried out jointly by the Regional Office for the Arab States in Beirut, NORMES and the Industrial and Employment Relations Department (DIALOGUE).

Asia

124. In July 2011, the standards specialist of DWT–Bangkok undertook a mission to Indonesia, at the request of the Government and in the framework of its agenda for the ratification of standards, to present on the MLC 2006, Convention No. 187 and the Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment (Disabled Persons) Convention, 1983 (No. 159). A two-day workshop, jointly conducted by the standards specialist of DWT–Bangkok and the Decent Work Specialist of CO–Suva, was held in Solomon Islands in April 2011 to promote the ratification of all fundamental Conventions except, Convention No. 29 which has already been ratified.

125. Pursuant to a regional campaign to promote the ratification of Conventions Nos 87 and 98, jointly undertaken by ACTRAV and the RO–Asia and the Pacific, a workshop was held in Viet Nam in May 2011, which included presentations by the DWT–Bangkok standards specialist on the provisions of Conventions Nos 87 and 98. Under the auspices of the above ratification campaign, a regional workshop was held in August 2011 in Nepal. ACTRAV officials and the DWT–Bangkok standards specialists served as resource persons; the participants comprised trade union representatives from Bangladesh, Cambodia, India, Indonesia, Malaysia, Nepal, Thailand and Viet Nam.

126. Through its standards specialist, the DWT/CO–New Delhi carried out various promotional activities in the following countries:

- India:
 - promotion of improved working conditions in the Indian garment industry aiming at a Better Work programme in 2012;
 - series of presentations as a member of the Task Force on Labour of the Apparel Export Promotion Council (AEPC);
 - promotion of ratification of the newly adopted Domestic Workers Convention, 2011 (No. 189), the Minimum Age Convention, 1973 (No. 138), the Worst Forms of Child Labour Convention, 1999 (No. 182), the Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 (No. 188), and the Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment (Disabled Persons) Convention, 1983 (No. 159);
- Bangladesh and Nepal: support to indigenous peoples projects;
- Bhutan: activities with a view to the country's agreement to become a member of the ILO, which is expected to materialize within two years;
- Afghanistan: activities to raise awareness of labour rights via Islamic labour values;
- Republic of Maldives: promotion of ratification of all eight fundamental Conventions.

Specific activities undertaken in collaboration with other international organizations concerning international labour standards

A. United Nations system

127. International labour standards and the provisions of the United Nations human rights treaties related to them are complementary and mutually reinforcing. Close cooperation between the ILO and the United Nations in relation to its human rights treaties is therefore an important strategy to enhance the influence of ILO standards and to ensure consistency and coherence within the United Nations system with regard to human rights at work.

Cooperation with United Nations human rights treaty bodies

128. The Office has pursued the activities undertaken with the UN human rights bodies responsible for supervising the application of the following instruments:

- ❑ the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights;
- ❑ the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights;
- ❑ the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women;
- ❑ the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination;
- ❑ the Convention on the Rights of the Child;
- ❑ the International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of Migrant Workers and Members of their Families;
- ❑ the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.

129. The Office regularly submits reports to the different treaty bodies containing information relating to international labour standards regarding the countries examined by them. These ILO reports include information on the ratification of ILO Conventions relevant to the provisions of the respective United Nations human rights treaties, summaries of the findings and recommendations of the ILO supervisory bodies and information on ILO technical assistance, as appropriate. In addition, Office representatives participate in the sessions of the treaty bodies and provide oral advice and information on specific countries or particular subjects. The Office also contributes to the general observations made by these supervisory bodies concerning issues that come within the ILO's remit. In November 2011, Members of the Committee of Experts also continued its annual meeting with the members of the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, exchanging views on matters of mutual interest.

Cooperation with the Human Rights Council

130. The Office has continued to promote international labour standards in the context of the United Nations Human Rights Council. With respect to the Universal Periodic Review, the Office regularly draws the attention of the United Nations secretariat to the available reports of the ILO supervisory bodies. The documentation prepared by the United Nations secretariat as a basis for the Universal Periodic Review includes information on the ratification of fundamental ILO Conventions by the country under review, as well as references to the comments of the Committee of Experts. The Office also contributes to the work of the other mechanisms and mandates set up by the Council, including the Expert Mechanism on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, and the work of Special Rapporteurs.

Cooperation with other United Nations bodies and entities

131. The standards specialist of the DWT/CO–New Delhi participated in the Regional Consultation on Caste-based Discrimination for UN Country Teams organized by the Office of the High Commission for Human Rights (OHCHR) which took place in Nepal in December 2011. Fifteen persons participated in this small expert meeting with other UN agencies (UNESCO, OHCHR, UNDP, UN Women, UNICEF). The main objective of the meeting consisted of sharing experiences on caste-based discrimination interventions and to identify topics for joint subregional research. The standards specialist also participated as a resource person in the International Consultation on Caste-based Discrimination: Good Practices and Strategies to Eliminate Caste-based Discrimination organized in Nepal by the Copenhagen-based International Dalit Solidarity Network (IDSN) (November–December 2011). Government representatives from Nepal, national human rights institutions and officials from the United Nations institutions (OHCHR, UNDP Nepal, UN Women Nepal) including the Special Rapporteur on contemporary forms of slavery participated in this consultation.

B. Council of Europe

132. NORMES continues to work with the competent services of the Council of Europe regarding the monitoring of the application of the European Code of Social Security and the European Social Charter. In the light of the monitoring procedure established by the European Code of Social Security, and the arrangements concluded between the Council of Europe and the ILO, each year the Committee of Experts examines the reports submitted on the application of the Code by the States parties thereto.²¹ Furthermore, in accordance with article 26 of the European Social Charter, a representative of NORMES participates in an advisory capacity in the sessions of the European Committee of Social Rights, which is responsible for supervising the application of the Charter and the revised Charter.

²¹ In this regard, see paras 105 and 106 of the General Report of the Committee of Experts.

Part III. Country profiles

The following country profiles provide information on the ratification and application of Conventions and on the submission of instruments adopted by the Conference to the competent authorities in a table format by country.*

The ratifications section indicates which fundamental Conventions, governance Conventions, and other Conventions a country has ratified as of 31 December 2011. It does not list Conventions which have been denounced or which are not in force.

The section on reports requested indicates how many reports were requested from the country in 2011 and how many were received. Under articles 22 and 35 of the ILO Constitution, member States are required to submit reports at regular intervals on the application of Conventions which they have ratified or declared applicable to their non metropolitan territories. If a report requested was a first detailed report (which is required in the case of a newly ratified Convention), the number of the Convention appears in parentheses.

A new section has been included as of 2009 on cases discussed before the Conference Committee on the Application of Standards since 1985, as well as on cases active before the Committee on Freedom of Association. The list does not include comments made by the Committee in previous sessions for which action by governments is still requested.

The section on submissions indicates the sessions of the International Labour Conference of which adopted instruments have, or have not, been submitted by governments to the authority or authorities competent to consider further action, as required under article 19 of the Constitution. In 1947, at its 103rd Session, the Governing Body of the ILO decided that, as from the coming into force of the constitutional amendment of 1946, the mandate of the Committee of Experts would be extended to matters related to the constitutional obligation of submission to competent authorities under article 19 of the ILO Constitution. The Committee of Experts started monitoring compliance with this constitutional provision as of 1948, with the instruments adopted by the International Labour Conference at its 31st Session. The number of the Conventions, Recommendations or Protocols is given in parentheses, preceded by the letter “C”, “R”, or “P” as the case may be, when only some of the texts adopted at any one session have been submitted. When the ratification of a Convention was registered, that Convention and the corresponding Recommendation are considered as submitted.
