

COVID-19 and health workers

Liudmyla Kharchuk
Head of Unit
For Occupational Health and Workplace
Assessment for Working Conditions,
State Labour Service of Ukraine

The following numbers have been registered in Ukraine
as of 14 April 2021

- 1,887,338 cases of coronavirus disease (COVID-19), particularly:
- 78,919 cases of coronavirus disease (COVID-19) among health workers and other staff of healthcare facilities;
- 38,225 lethal cases, including:
- 708 lethal cases among health workers and other staff of healthcare facilities

As of 14 April 2021, SLS territorial bodies have received 46,751 notifications of COVID-19 cases

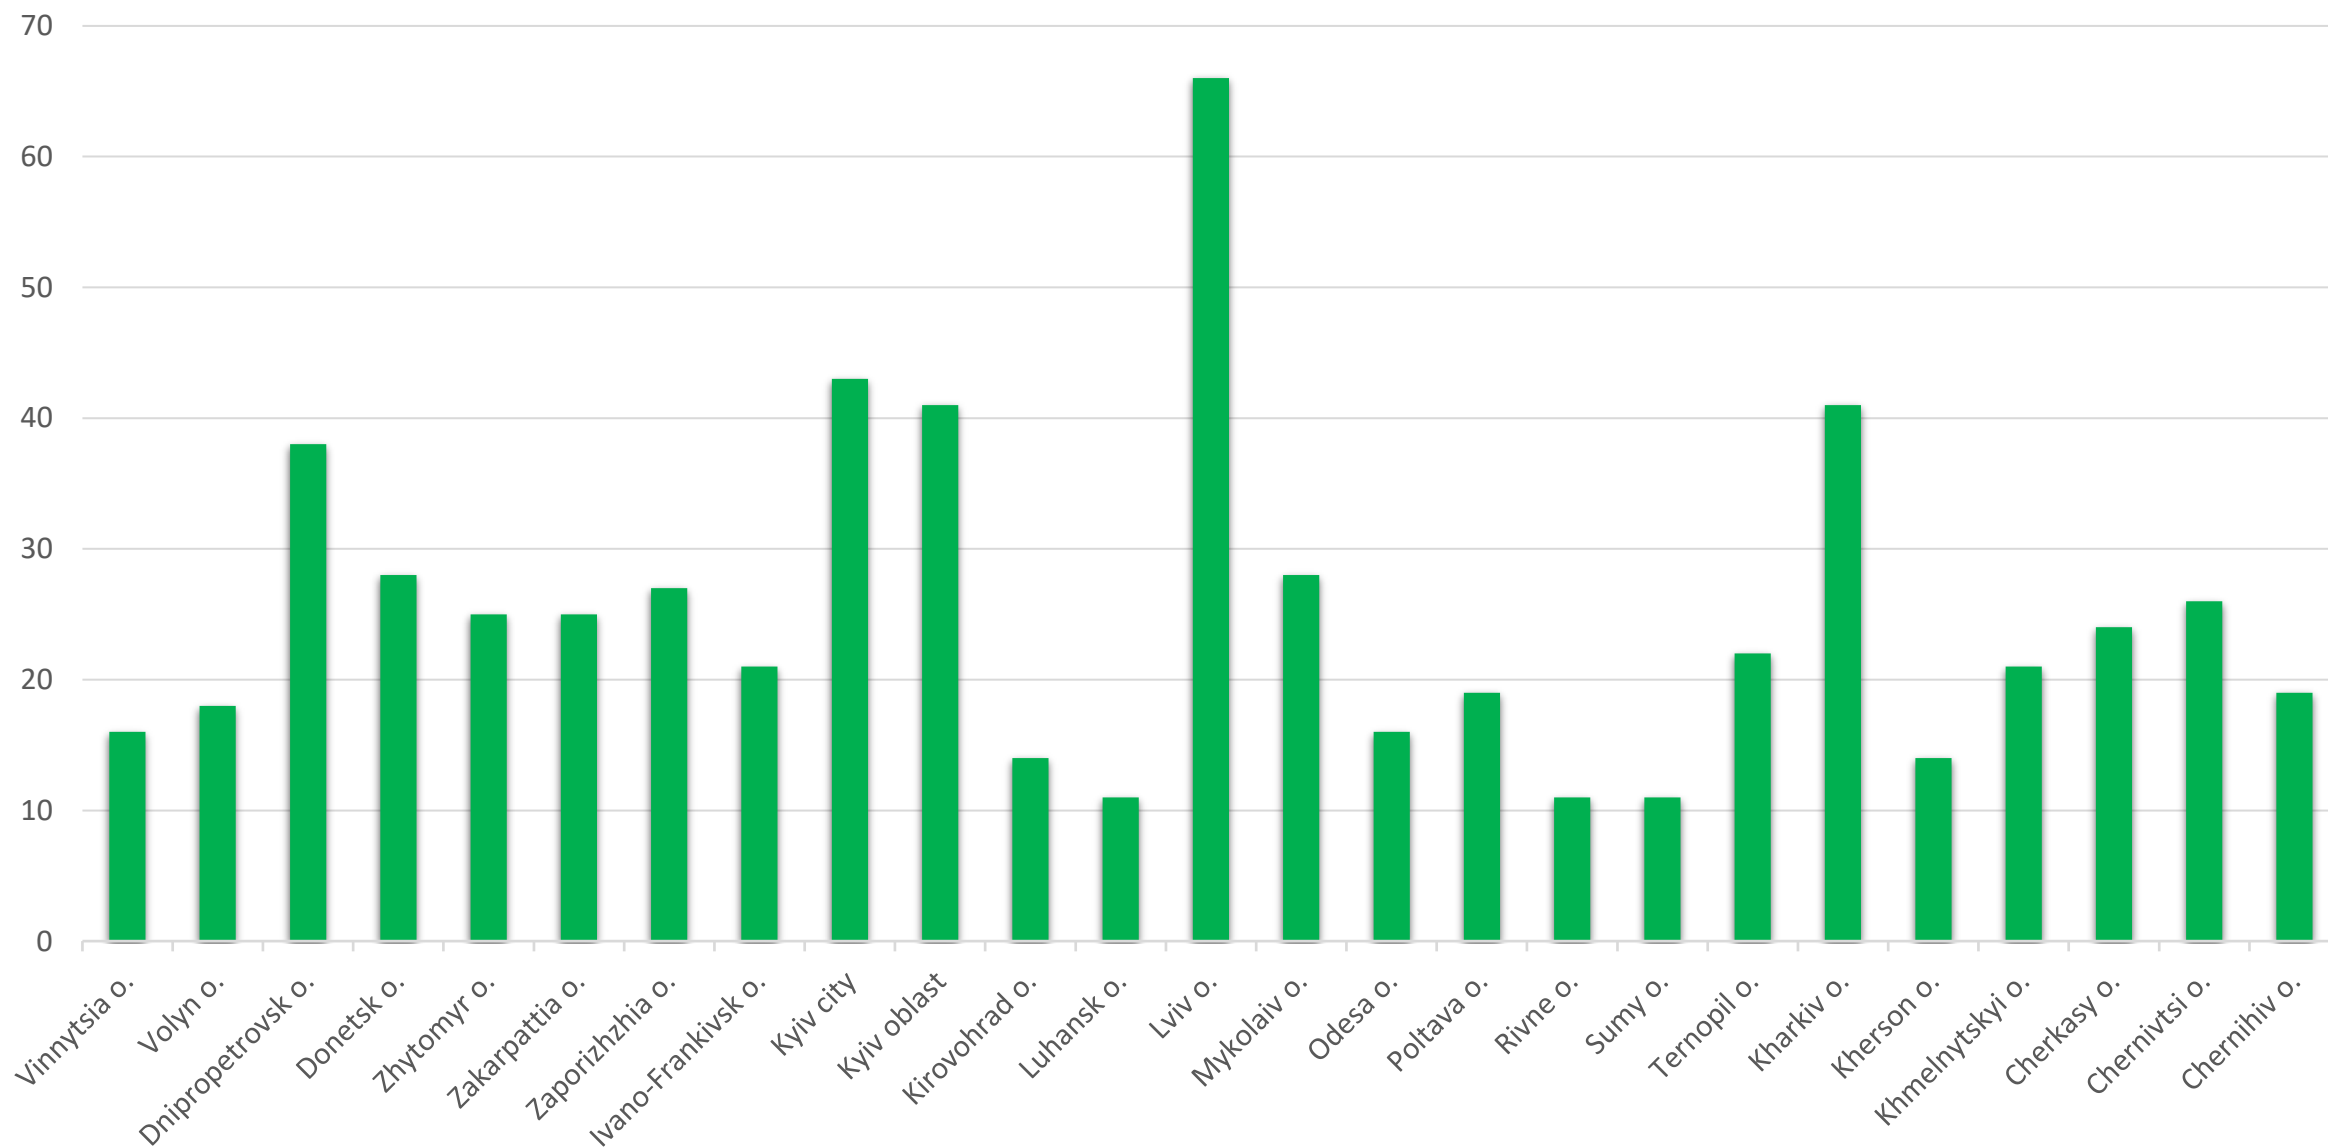

Number of health workers concerning whom notifications of COVID-19 contagion at work have been received (by regions)

Health worker occupations concerning which the largest number of acute occupational disease notifications have been received

SLS territorial bodies have received 625 notifications of lethal cases <sup>5</sup>

Number of completed investigations of health workers' acute occupational diseases for COVID-19

SLS territorial bodies have completed investigations of 438 lethal cases

7

According to findings of completed investigations, causes of health workers' infection are as follows (in %): 8

- Organizational – 33.7

failure to use personal protective equipment despite its availability – 33.6

failure to provide personal protective equipment – 10.5

- Psychophysiological – 30.9

the victim's personal negligence – 38.1

psychoemotional and physiological burden when dealing with highly contagious infections – 61.9

- Technical – 5.5

inconformity of collective and personal protective equipment to established requirements, and their insufficient quantities - 71

- Technology-related, natural, environmental and social – 29.9

other causes – 77 (high concentration of SARS-CoV-2 germ in infection disease department of healthcare facilities)